CUBAN PLANES BOMB REBELS

14 SOUTHERN STATES WARNED BY FARM BOARD

Only Way Out of Ruinous Surplus.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 12.—[Special]—In a telegram to the governors of [illegible] cotton-growing states, the federal farm board today urged them to "plow under" every [illegible] acre of cotton.

JAMES C. STONE. [(C) Harris & Ewing]

In a telegram to the governors of all cotton states, said the wire, the total crop would be reduced by 4 million bales of this year's crop and three million bales of 1930 would be held off the market.

Strikes Grave Note.

The board's telegram was sent to the governors of Alabama, Arizona, Arkansas, California, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, New Mexico, North Carolina, Oklahoma, South Carolina, Tennessee and Texas.

The government cotton report of August 1 placed the carry-over of last year's crop and carry-over supply of American cotton of more than 24,500,000 bales, against a probable world consumption of American cotton this season of 13,000,000 or possibly 13,500,000 bales, leaving a probable carry-over a year hence of around 11 million bales," the board members declared.

"The board believes," the telegram stated, "that the time has now arrived when the cotton producers themselves must be called upon for immediate and drastic action."

Stabilization Abandoned.

In recent statements by Chairman Stone and other board members it has been made clear that, though it had engaged in stabilization operations in wheat and cotton in past years, it had neither the money nor the inclination to engage in stabilization this year. The board's pledge to hold as stabilization cotton expired on July 31. A German government offer to buy a large share of this cotton was rejected. Then followed the department of agriculture's report, which upset the trade by its estimated 1931 crop.

It was empowered by the agricultural marketing act to aid in preventing and controlling surpluses, so it told the governors.

"In line with the above mandate and purpose, and in view of the existing situation," the wire continued, "the board suggests that you immediately publicize every interested and available agency in your state, including bankers, bankers, merchants, land owners and all agricultural educational forces, to induce the immediate plowing under of every third row of cotton now growing."

"Under Effort" Necessary.

Such effort of this kind is needed now more than any lesser effort, the board advised. And it hoped that the program would be under way by Sept. 1 and completed by Sept. 15.

The telegram was sent at the conclusion of an all day meeting between members of the board and the directors of the Cotton Stabilization corporation, Alexander Legge of Chicago, former chairman of the board, who resigned last March to return to the presidency of the International Harvester company, was on hand at the meeting.

It was announced by E. F. Creekmore, president and general manager of the corporation, that Mr. Legge had been chosen to the corporation's board of directors. Since his resignation he has frequently been consulted on matters affecting the farm board.

Meanwhile woes continued to pile up for the wheat farmer. A carry-over of 229,350,000 bushels of domestic wheat in the United States as of July 1 was reported in a preliminary estimate by the department of agriculture today. The figure compares with 290,000,000 bushels, the estimated carry-over of a year ago, and represents an increase of 9.3 per cent.

Try to Cash ... One of These at the Corner

Washington, D. C., Aug. 12.—[Special.]—The portrait and name of William H. Crawford soon will appear on the most valuable steel engravings the world ever has seen or probably ever will see.

WM. H. CRAWFORD.

The engravings will be of limited distribution. They are being prepared by the bureau of engraving and printing of the United States treasury.

For those who may not recognize the name of William H. Crawford it may be stated that he was secretary of the treasury in the last year James Madison was President and remained over for service under James Monroe.

Beaten for Presidency.

Monroe, in fact, barely defeated him in the congressional caucus to nominate a presidential candidate. Born in Virginia but reared in Georgia, Crawford was a leading figure in national affairs when they were things of great spirit. Besides being a senator, secretary of war and the treasury and envoy to several foreign countries, he found time to engage in personal and political disputes which led to at least two duels, in one of which he killed his opponent and in the other of which he was wounded.

Above the portrait and signature of Crawford on the certificate there will appear these words: "This certifies that there has been deposited in the treasury of the United States of America," and off to the side and below the portrait will be the awe-inspiring words "one million dollars."

Exclusiveness De Luxe.

That's the trick in the small and exclusive distribution of the engravings. There will be only 500 of them engraved and issued, but their total—$500,000,000—would be a staggering amount for Crawford or Madison or Monroe to contemplate.

The present treasury certificates and treasury notes, in their ascending values, bear these portraits:

$1—George Washington.
$2—Thomas Jefferson.
$5—Abraham Lincoln.
$10—Alexander Hamilton.
$20—Andrew Jackson.
$50—U. S. Grant.
$100—Benjamin Franklin.
$500—William McKinley.
$1,000—Grover Cleveland.
$5,000—James Madison.
$10,000—Salmon P. Chase.

YORKTOWN PAGEANT TO SHOW CORNWALLIS SURRENDER INCIDENT

Richmond, Va., Aug. 12.—[Special.]—The scene depicting the surrender of the British army under Cornwallis to Gen. Washington at Yorktown, Oct. 19, 1781, will be included in the pageants to be presented during the Yorktown sesquicentennial celebration Oct. 16-19, the congressional commission in charge of the celebration decided today. The announcement of the decision by S. Otis Bland, secretary of the commission, ended four weeks of controversy during which attacks and defenses of the propriety of presenting the surrender scene came from many parts of the country. Their origin was reported in some quarters to have been in a state department suggestion that the scene would offend England and in the army's traditional policy of avoiding participation in scenes hostile to countries with which America is at peace.

Young Leiter Hurt in 35 Ft. Plunge of Auto

Thomas Leiter, 19 years old, of Washington, D. C., son of Joseph Leiter, capitalist, escaped death late last night when his automobile tore through a fence and plunged thirty-five feet into a steep ravine in Lake Forest.

He suffered facial bruises and cuts and managed to extricate himself without aid. He made his way unassisted to the home of David Dangler at 155 North Mayflower road, which Mrs. Joseph Leiter and Nancy Leiter, his mother and sister, are occupying for the summer.

Occurs Near House.

The accident occurred shortly before midnight, near the Dangler residence. Young Leiter drove into the driveway, leading to the grounds. As he neared Illinois road, he veered too sharply, and his automobile crashed into a barricading fence.

The car plunged through the barrier, and down into the ravine. It rolled over two or three times before settling with a crash at the bottom. It was completely wrecked.

Neighbors Hear Crash.

The noise of the crash was heard by several Lake Forest residents. Two of them, Mr. and Mrs. Evans Spaulding, occupying the home of Russell Lord at 210 North Mayflower road, hurried to the scene. They reached the bottom of the ravine a few minutes later and found the crumpled machine. They could not find any one, however.

Chief Frank Tiffany and five policemen arrived in response to calls from the Spauldings. They traced the wrecked car to Leiter.

STANDARD OIL CUTS STANDARD GAS TWO CENTS

The Standard Oil Company of Indiana yesterday announced a reduction of 2 cents a gallon in the price of its standard grade gasoline at service stations and tank wagons in the Chicago and St. Louis areas.

The new price, effective today, will be 12 cents a gallon in Chicago, including the 3 cent state tax. The price in the St. Louis area, including state and city gas taxes, will be 10.9 cents a gallon. The reduction does not apply to ethyl gasoline or to the low competitive grade.

Merchantville, N. J., Aug. 12.—(AP)—Joe Buzzard, 70, one of the notorious Buzzard brothers of Welsh mountain, near Lancaster, Pa., was in jail again today. This time, as on 15 previous occasions, he is charged with stealing a horse, an offense for which he has spent more than 40 years of his life in prisons.

GIRL'S MISSING WATCH CLEW IN MOTOR SLAYINGS

Hunt Stranger; With 2 Couples in Cafe.

BULLETIN.

Cleveland, O., Aug. 13.—(AP)—A 28 year old man was arrested here early today as a possible suspect in connection with the slaying Tuesday of the two boys and two girls near Ypsilanti, Mich. He had a Michigan road map in his pocket with the name Ypsilanti marked with a pencil. Detectives discovered him sleeping on a truck which had just arrived here from Michigan. They took him at once to headquarters for questioning. He was roughly dressed and appeared to be of below average mentality, the detectives said.

BY WALTER TROHAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Ann Arbor, Mich., Aug. 12.—[Special.]—A white gold wrist watch, missing from the arm of Vivian Gold, 15 year old Cleveland high school girl, when her body was saturated with gasoline and burned with those of a girl chum and two boy companions on the lonely county line road near Willis, Mich., Tuesday morning, offered the leading clew tonight toward apprehension of the torch murderers. A description of the watch was broadcast to jewelers and police in the belief that the slayers had torn the trinket from the girl's body and might seek to sell or pawn it.

Meanwhile officials found evidence of a gin party of the two couples on the night of the tragedy, in company with a mysterious stranger, being sought as the probable leader of a band of hoodlum rapists who murdered the four young people.

Burly and Shabby.

Burly, shabby and unshaven, the stranger was seen with the two couples in a Milan, Mich., restaurant two hours before their charred bodies were discovered in their blazing automobile nine miles distant. This information was offered by Norman England, 21 year old counterman of Grandma's Pantry, basement restaurant in the Stimson house at Milan.

A third development was the finding of a bloodstained white purse belonging to Vivian in a ditch beside the Tuttle Hill road, six miles from the scene of the crime. And Martin Swetlick, a Ypsilanti filling station attendant, came forward with a story of two men, evidently agitated, who stopped at his gas station, two miles from the place the purse was found, more than an hour after the discovery of the bodies.

The missing watch was given to Vivian by her parents on her graduation from grammar school two years ago. She was known to have worn the watch when she left Monday evening with her chum, Anna May Harrison, 16 years old; her cousin, Harry Lore, 16 years old, and his chum, Thomas Wheatley, 17 years old. The girls lived in Cleveland, Lore at Ypsilanti, and Wheatley in Denton, Mich.

Thought Promising Clew.

Officials, recalling the part played by a watch in the capture of the Negro assailant of Jenny Meta Constance, school teacher of Northwestern university, who was murdered three years ago in Evanston, Ill., looked upon this clew as a strong means of aiding the capture of the assailants.

The finding of Vivian's purse in trampled grass and shrubbery was seen as indicating a struggle may have taken place in Tuttle road. Here the youths may have met death fighting in defense of their girl companions. Sheriff Andres of Washtenaw county expressed the opinion the boys were killed at that point and their bodies taken with the captive girls to the county line road.

There, he said, the girls may have been clubbed to death after an attack or attempted attack, and the bodies fired. It was also held possible the purse was flung by the assailants in their flight. The purse contained a compact, lip stick, an ear ring, a handkerchief, and a small elephant lucky piece.

The Two Hurried Motorists.

The two men seen by Swetlick were about 25 years old. One was of medium height, slim build, and the other short and stocky. Both were in shirt sleeves and appeared hurried. They bought two gallons of gas, poured water into a steaming radiator, and raced away.

A dozen casuals were rounded up when state police raided farm "blind pigs" in an effort to discover where the young people spent the evening

Mystery Shot Ends Life of Young Woman

Florence O'Neil, better known to her friends as Peggy, 24 years old, was shot to death early this morning as she was leaving her apartment at 915 Sunnyside avenue, and police are confronted with a mystery. According to her two companions at the time of the shooting, they did not see the person who fired the bullet into the left side of her chest that resulted in her death a short time later at the Edgewater hospital.

The companions are Howard Thompson, a salesman, 900 Keystone avenue, and Lois Towles, also known as Betty Carr, of Charleston, Ill., who came to Chicago on a visit last Friday, and has been living at 852 Belmont avenue. They were taken into custody by the police.

According to the story told by the couple they had been at a party in the O'Neil home and the three decided to take a ride in Thompson's automobile. When they reached the sidewalk Thompson walked ahead to the car to open the rumble seat. Suddenly a shot rang out and Miss O'Neil screamed and fell to the pavement. Neither Thompson nor Miss Towles could tell from what direction it came.

Thompson picked up the wounded girl and hurried her to the hospital, where she died without regaining consciousness. She was married to A. C. Rowland, now serving a term in the bridewell for forgery, and they were estranged, but police were unable to learn whether she had been divorced. She lived at the Sunnyside avenue address with her father, James O'Neil.

Theater Chain Defies Union; Three Reopen

The movie theater lockout entered a new phase last night when the Polka brothers of Maywood, proprietors of a chain of seven suburban theaters, opened their three houses which had been closed since the Allied Theaters Owners of Illinois declared a lockout Sunday night closing 104 theaters in a fight with the motion picture operators' union.

The theaters resuming business were the Deerpath at Lake Forest, Pickwick at Park Ridge and Des Plaines at Des Plaines, all modern houses, seating more than 1,000 patrons each and valued collectively at more than $3,000,000. Four policemen, furnished by the respective villages, stood guard at each theater during the performances.

Owners Operate Machines.

The action of the Polka brothers marks a final break with the operators' union, Paul Polka, general manager of the chain, announced. In the respective theaters three of the five brothers, Walter, Martin, and Franz Polka, operated the projectors. They are not members of the union.

"Hereafter the Polka theaters will have no further contacts with Thomas Maloy and the operators' union," Paul Polka declared. "We, as owners of the theaters, and as competent operators with twenty years of experience, will continue to operate the projectors as we did tonight. The police have assured us ample protection against vandalism or violence."

The break with the union, Mr. Polka declared, was precipitated solely by Maloy, business agent of the operators' union and now under indictment as a racketeer. Maloy has been demanding fulfillment of an alleged contract whereby the theater owners agreed to employ two operators, a practice which the owners contend has transformed their small profits into deficits.

Other Theaters Unionized.

As proof that the Polka brothers had no quarrel with union labor generally, Paul Polka cited the fact that the concern's theaters in Geneva, Crystal Lake, De Kalb and Sycamore, all situated in the jurisdiction of another branch of the union, were operating under amicable labor conditions. No trouble with this latter branch of the union has ever occurred, he stated.

"This was the first night these theaters have shown a profit in many months," Polka said, referring to the reopened houses. "The patronage was good, indicating that the public is sympathetic."

Negotiations at Standstill.

Negotiations remained at a standstill yesterday between Maloy and Aaron Saperstein, president of the theater owners. Saperstein announced last night that the exhibitors will submit to the union this morning the declaration of their position demanded by Maloy.

The union agent has promised to submit to a vote the demand of the exhibitors that but one operator be required, a move which the exhibitors regard as futile, inasmuch as the union members are already acquainted with the position of the exhibitors.

FIND INSURGENT STRONGHOLD IN MOUNTAIN PASS

Nip Plot to Blow Up Havana Bridge.

BY DEAN SANBORN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

HAVANA, Aug. 12.—Cuban government airplanes today sought to "smoke out" the revolutionary army, which is seeking to overthrow the government of President Machado, from its stronghold in the mountains of Pinar del Rio province.

Scouting planes, flying over the mountainous districts running parallel with the coast through the entire middle section of the province, today located a camp, said to be that of former President Mario Menocal, leader of the revolution, and his staff, at Lomas del Toro, near Arroyos de Mantua. Several airplane squadrons, supplied with explosive and gas bombs recently imported from Germany, were dispatched from Havana.

Drop Tons of Bombs.

Reaching the rebel stronghold two hours later, the airplanes concentrated over the insurgents and dropped tons of the bombs. They then flew on to Las Taironas air field, close to Lomas del Toro.

Col. Julio Sanguilly, chief of the air forces, explained that the gas bombs were used to disband the large concentration of rebels and force them toward the valleys between the mountains and the cities of San Cristobal and Los Palacios, where troops are concentrated ready to surround them.

Capt. Rodolfo Chipi, commander of the loyal army in Pinar del Rio, tonight called for 600 more soldiers to help in the maneuvering to capture Menocal. These troops, armed and ready for action, were being moved tonight.

Menocal Has Staff of Seven.

The government tonight issued a statement stating that war prisoners taken last night at Los Palacios had confessed that Menocal's general rebel staff is composed of seven men, among them his son, Raoul.

Police late tonight frustrated a rebel attempt to blow up the Havana Electric Railway company's bridge over the Almendares river, on the outskirts of the capital. Five prisoners were taken and confined in Cabanas fortress. The bridge is now under heavy police guard. The attempt to wreck the bridge was said to have been made by communists and strikers as a part of their sabotage program in connection with the street car strike.

Firing was reported at Jaruco, near the great Hershey sugar mills, about 25 miles from Havana, at 9:30 o'clock tonight.

A government bulletin tonight said Maj. Celestino Baizan, former governor of Havana, was killed in action at Artemisa, Pinar del Rio, today after hours of intermittent fighting, in which the rebels are reported to have lost 15 men. Scores of prisoners were taken, as well as supplies of war materials. The main body of the rebel band escaped into the surrounding woods, where they are still engaging the army in guerilla warfare.

Rebels Fight from Trenches.

Troops commanded by Capt. Arana and Lieut. Retana clashed with rebels under the command of Congressman Justo Luis Pozo at Cejas del Negro this afternoon. The rebels were hiding behind trees and in trenches which they had dug during the night. The loyal forces advanced and dislodged the revolutionaries, killing 14. One rural guardsman was killed.

Two military trains filled with reinforcements left Havana this morning for Santa Clara. The forces are under the command of Col. Erasmo Delgado, former military prosecutor of all political prisoners charged with conspiracy to overthrow the government.

The navy today confiscated the yachts Mina and Delicias, which are being armed for immediate patrol work.

Round Up Hundreds.

Hundreds of suspected conspirators and revolutionaries were arrested here today by the police. Similar arrests were made in cities throughout the other provinces.

A military train with large war supplies left Havana this afternoon for Camaguey province, where rebellion broke out in four cities early this morning. The outbreaks occurred at Majagua, Baragua, Moron, and Jaibonico, all situated in the rich agricultural section of the province.

Meanwhile, there were conflicting reports regarding the death of Gen. Francisco Peraza, one of the seven outstanding leaders of the rebellion. A government announcement said he was killed in action early this morning by army forces under Capt. Chipi after a two hour battle near Los Palacios. Gen. Peraza's family denied that he had been killed.

Tracked Down by Army.

According to the government's version, Capt. Chipi, after 24 hours of exploration and incessant pursuit of the forces commanded by Gen. Peraza, located the latter's camp at El Toro farm at 11 o'clock last night. The commander sent a special envoy demanding Gen. Peraza's unconditional surrender. An hour later Gen. Peraza, who was 53 years old, replied that he was a veteran of Cuba's war of independence in 1895 and considered Capt. Chipi's demand an insult.

The loyal troops then opened fire and gradually advanced towards the enemy, who were entrenched in the foothills of Lomas del Toro range. The rebels put up the strongest resistance yet encountered by the army.

Capt. Chipi, the government claimed, surrounded the camp after two hours of warfare, and Gen. Peraza, his chief of staff, Maj. Jose Mendez, and six other officers were killed in action. Among the others killed was Dr. Fernandez Travejo, a prominent Havana physician.

REVEAL NEXT "PRESIDENT"

New York, Aug. 12.—[Special.]—While the armed forces of President Machado were trying today to round up the leaders of the revolution in Cuba, the headquarters of the revolution were being established in New York under the leadership of the man who has been designated to be provisional president of Cuba if the revolution succeeds.

The new revolutionary president designate, Dr. Domingo Mendez Capote, who arrived only three days ago from Cuba, declared tonight his confidence that the revolution would result in an "early and complete success."

Dr. Capote, according to his son, Dr. Francisco M. Capote, was chosen head of the revolutionary movement by all the groups opposing the Machado regime in Cuba, just before Dr. Capote left for New York. That was the day before Dr. Capote's associates, who remained behind in Cuba, launched the revolution. Dr. Capote's title is "president and general delegate."

Claims "Absolute Power."

"Today Cuban revolutionary leaders in New York held a meeting at which the New York junta was formally organized under the name of the "Republican Delegation of Cuba." Dr. Capote is head of this delegation and the other officers are Dr. Fernando Ortiz, vice president, and Dr. Francisco M. Capote, secretary. Following its organization Dr. Capote issued a statement declaring that the delegation "has absolute power to represent" the Cuban revolutionary junta "when and where it is deemed convenient."

The members of the general revolutionary junta in Cuba, in addition to Dr. Capote, are Col. Carlos Mendieta, Dr. Roberto Mendez Penate, and Col. Aurelio Hevia, as leaders of the Nationalist party; Gen. Mario G. Menocal, ex-president of Cuba, of the Conservative party, and Dr. Miguel Mariano Gomez, former mayor of Havana. The junta also includes the directorate of the professors of the University of Havana, which was closed by the Machado government, the directorates of the students, and other intellectual elements and nonpolitical groups.

Who Capote Is.

Dr. Capote is one of the outstanding legal figures of Cuba and has had a distinguished career, beginning in the Cuban war of independence. During the war he was legal adviser to the revolutionists. He was president of the convention which drafted the constitution of the Cuban republic in 1901, and afterwards came to the United States to treat with the American government in the negotiations involving the Platt amendment.

He was first vice president of the Cuban republic under President Estrada Palma. He now has the title of professor of political law in the University of Havana and is counsel for many American business interests doing business in Cuba. He belongs to no political party.

BRITTEN WANTS MONTAUK DUTY FOR SHIPS AGAIN

Defends His Request to Send Vessels There.

New York, Aug. 12.—[Special.]—Representative Fred A. Britten of Chicago, chairman of the naval affairs committee, said today he intended to ask the navy department to send ships of the scouting fleet to Montauk, L. I., next summer and in succeeding summers.

He made his statement after charges had been made that political "log rolling" had sent the ships to Montauk from Newport, their regular summer base.

"I suppose a few naval officers are 'butterflies,'" said Mr. Britten. He pointed out that enlisted men of the thirty ships now at Fort Pond bay "can engage in sports or go fishing or else stay in bed," while at Montauk.

Mr. Britten could see no proprietary right that Newport could claim merely because it is a center for America's "400" and an attraction for socially ambitious naval officers and their wives and daughters.

Believes in Operating.

"I believe in an operating navy," Mr. Britten reiterated. "I think the ships should do more cruising and more firing, and should go about from port to port instead of staying so long at Newport, R. I. I believe the same thing is true of ships on the Pacific coast, and in December when congress convenes I intend to suggest to the admiral [Admiral W. V. Pratt, chief of naval operations] that ships of the battle force, which now spend most of their time in the San Diego-San Pedro area in California be ordered to operate also in the San Francisco and Seattle-Puget sound areas."

It was the suggestion of Mr. Britten, who on Tuesday admitted he is financially interested in the Montauk Beach Development corporation, to Admiral Pratt some months ago that brought the ships of the scouting force from Newport, their regular summer base, to Montauk last Monday for a week's visit.

Would Counteract "Pacifists."

"Why the visit of the fleet here will do a lot to counteract the pacifistic speeches which Frederick J. Libby, executive director of the National Council for the Prevention of War, has been making on Long Island recently," Mr. Britten asserted. "Besides, I maintain that there is not a finer harbor around here than the one at Fort Pond.

"It has numerous advantages over Newport as a base for naval operations. There are three reasons why the fleet came here: the fine harbor, the fine weather, and the proximity to New York City."

Naval officers who objected to the visit on the grounds that it was engineered by political "log rolling" for the benefit of the publicity the fleet's visit would give Montauk and the Montauk Beach Development corporation were at one with Mr. Britten in desiring an "operating fleet" and more cruising, to include visits not only to local but to foreign ports. They could not understand, however, it was said, the benefit the fleet could expect to derive from lying at anchor a week at Montauk in the harbor not equipped to serve the many ships and their crews.

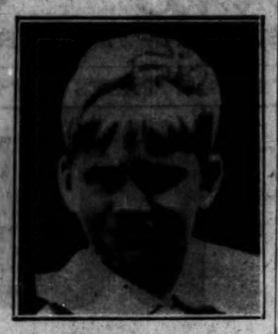
Causes Interest in Capital.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 12.—[Special.]—The navy practice of sending warships to points along the Atlantic and Pacific coasts line at the request of interested congressmen was thrown into relief today by the publication of New York dispatches stating that a part of the scouting fleet had been sent to Montauk Point, L. I., at the request of Chairman Fred A. Britten [Rep., Ill.] of the house naval affairs committee.

Navy department officials readily admitted that the fleet had been sent to the Long Island area at Britten's request, but said, what of it? It was said that Mr. Britten had asked for the vessels last January and that it was the usual navy custom to comply with such requests when it could be done without interfering with training operations.

BOY KILLS BROTHER IN PLAY

WILLIAM CARL.



DARREL CARL.

Rifle Loaded

Darrel Carl, 3 years old, was accidentally shot and killed with a rifle yesterday by his brother, William, 12 years old, at their home in Matteson. When William saw his brother fall he fled from the back yard of his home where they were playing at the time of the tragedy. He was still missing last evening.

Darrel was fixing a bicycle in the back yard when William came out of the house with the gun. "Shall I shoot him?" he called to his sister, Mary, 6 years old, who was playing beside Darrel. When she did not answer he raised the gun and pulled the trigger. The bullet struck Darrel in the neck.

William purchased the rifle from a playmate for 40 cents, his mother, Mrs. Stella Carl, told police. She had forbidden him to keep it, she said. Mrs. Carl asked police not to search for William, fearing that he might not return home if he found out that they were looking for him.

YOUTH IS SLAIN BY FATHER OF GIRL HE SLAPPED

Felix Merscanits, 19 years old, assistant janitor of the building at 4810 Dorchester avenue, was shot and fatally wounded yesterday by Alexander Rice, 4822 Dorchester avenue, a former buyer for the Michael Reese hospital.

Rice was arrested by Hyde Park police. He asserted that the shooting was accidental. He said he intended to frighten Merscanits for slapping his 3 year old daughter.

Several days ago Frank Merscanits, uncle of Felix, and janitor of the Dorchester avenue building, ordered neighborhood children not to play in the rear yard. Yesterday, however, Mrs. James Purcell, a tenant in the building, invited the children of the Rices, Jacqueline, 5 years old, and Alexander Jr., 5, to play with her children. Felix Merscanits, seeing the children, slapped Jacqueline, and sent her and her brother home, it was said. When Rice learned of the incident he called at the janitor's flat.

Felix shut the door when he saw Rice, but the latter fired. The youth was shot in the chest.

FRANCE LOWERS GAMBLING TAXES TO AID CASINOS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Aug. 12.—The French casino owners' appeal for a tax moratorium was answered today when Premier Laval, after consultation with the ministers of finance and budget, decided the government could give them temporary relief equivalent to 20 per cent of their taxes.

This involves a heavy financial sacrifice by the government, which is really the "house" at all the green tables in France and only allows gambling concessionaires enough to make them willing to rake in the chips for the republic.

It is noteworthy that the relief envisaged by M. Laval is not a direct reduction of the famous tax of 25 to 75 per cent on the "cagnotte," or the "kitty," drawn out from each play, but on the gross income. Thus players who contribute to this disguised revenue tax will not feel any benefit from the cut.

Contractor Is Robbed of $1,700 Pay Roll

Richard Nash Jr. of Nash Brothers, general contractors, 10 South La Salle street, was robbed of a $1,700 pay roll yesterday by two armed men who forced his car to the curb at Peoria and Monroe streets.

VICTIMS IDENTIFY HOODLUM PAIR IN GANG SABOTAGE

Wreck Delivery Trucks of Cleaning Company.

Philip Mangano, 1507 West Adams street, and Louis Clementi, 909 Sholto street, reputed underlings of Al Capone, were identified at the detective bureau as two of the four men who earlier in the day had entered a garage at 10 East 29th street, owned by the International Cleaners and Dyers company, 2312 South State street, and wrecked four delivery trucks with hammers and axes.

LOUIS CLEMENTI.

The pair were identified by five truck drivers, who also said they were the sluggers who had beaten them on another occasion and had poured acid on the clothing they were delivering. In the wrecking process Mangano, who is the brother of Lawrence ["Dago"] Mangano, dropped a business card bearing his name and address.

Police went immediately to his home, where they found Mangano, his wife, Mary, and Clementi. All three were taken into custody. Later George Scott, 60 years old, 3114 Vernon avenue, a guard at the garage, went to the detective bureau and identified Mangano and Clementi.

Harry Apert, a member of the International company, told police and representatives from the state's attorney's office that his company had dropped out of the cleaners and dyers' association a month ago and since then had experienced considerable trouble.

Scott, the guard, was forced to the rear of the garage when the four hoodlums entered and stood by helplessly while they went from truck to truck, wrecking the engines.

MOTORISTS WARNED TO QUIT FOLLOWING FIRE DEPT. TRUCKS

Fire fans who chase after fire apparatus answering alarms in their automobiles were warned yesterday by Edward A. Maloney, acting fire commissioner, that such driving would not be tolerated in the future. Motorists who follow one piece of fire apparatus, he said, often impede the progress of other apparatus.

Strict enforcement of the following provision in the new uniform traffic code will be asked of the police department by Commissioner Maloney:

"It shall be unlawful . . . to follow closer than 500 feet any fire apparatus traveling in response to a fire alarm, or to drive into or stop any vehicle within the block where fire apparatus has stopped in answer to a fire alarm."

The code also provides that at the approach of any fire department vehicle the drivers of other vehicles shall pull to the curb and stop until the fire apparatus has passed. Street cars also are to stop, the code provides.

How One Woman Lost 102 Lbs. of Fat

Almost Unbelievable—Nevertheless True

Dear Friends:

You advertise Kruschen Salts for reducing, so I finally tried them and when I started I weighed 219 pounds and when I took them for a year and 3 weeks, I lost exactly 102 pounds.

I am 23 years old and I look at least 5 years younger now than I did when I was fat. I have a picture of myself before and after, so if you want to see them let me know.

I am always telling my friends about the wonderful salts. I am always advertising them.

I took 2 bottles every month for a year and 3 weeks, but it was worth it.

If I can be of any help to you let me know.

Yours truly, Miss Nellie Simpson, 1903 Wayne Street, Swissvale, Pa.

The Modern Safe Way—Right Way to Lose Fat

Take a half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water every morning before breakfast.

You can hasten the reducing action of Kruschen by going lighter on potatoes, pastry and fatty meats.

Unlike other Salts, Kruschen doesn't reduce by rushing food thru your system. Rather it's an ideal blend of 6 separate mineral salts which help every gland, nerve and body organ to function properly.

Women everywhere are overjoyed with this marvelous reducing treatment. Pound by pound surplus fat goes and soon you possess that trim slender figure you've always craved.

An 85c bottle of Kruschen (one weeks) is sold by leading druggists the world over—so start this SAFE method to lose ugly fat TODAY!

LAWYER SLAIN BY DOORMAN AT CAPITAL HOTEL

Victim Formerly Aid of Attorney General.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 12.—[Special.]—William F. Norman, prominent Washington lawyer and former special assistant attorney general, was shot and fatally wounded today by Louis Diggs, colored doorman, at the entrance of the Wardman Park, one of the capital's largest and best known hotels.

Diggs fired four bullets at Norman as the lawyer stepped from the hotel toward his waiting car. Norman died in an emergency hospital an hour later. Diggs walked into the hotel lobby and surrendered to a house detective.

The shooting was the outcome of a long standing argument over the parking of the lawyer's car. Norman's chauffeur, Enoch Craig, colored, told police his employer had given him orders to park the car in a certain place, which was in the shade. Diggs had objected because this violated a "no parking" sign.

Slayer Carries Gun.

The lawyer and the doorman had had several arguments over the matter. Two days ago, according to Diggs, Norman struck him. After that, he told the police, he brought a gun to work with him, determined to shoot if Norman caused further trouble.

This morning, as Norman left the hotel, the dispute was renewed. Diggs claimed that Norman struck him again, though witnesses denied this. Diggs declared that the doorman pulled his gun and fired twice as Norman moved down the walk and then twice as the lawyer slumped to the ground and then tried to rise.

Regarded as Wealthy Man.

Norman shared an office with former Judge Charles E. Lobdell, once tax commissioner. He had built up a large practice here handling income cases, and was regarded as one of the wealthier guests at the hotel. Other members among its patrons are wealthy people, high officials, and members of the foreign embassies and legations' staffs.

Norman came here from Tennessee in June, 1920, to accept a position as special assistant to the attorney general, remaining in that post until July 31, 1921. He was unmarried.

Served in World War.

He was a captain in the infantry during the war and was called into active service in November, 1918. He served as captain of infantry with the army in France until October, 1919.

Louis Norman, brother of the slain man, who has been visiting here for some time, today was on his way to Akron, O., his home. Friends asked police to broadcast for the brother to get him to return here immediately.

Miss Beryl Roberts, Norman's secretary, collapsed twice at the hospital after his death. Friends said they had been engaged to be married.

Officials of the hotel said that Diggs' previous record had been an excellent one and that he had been in line for promotion.

Police Under Fire.

The latest murder in the national capital comes at a time when the Washington police department is under fire, both from without and from the authorities within its own ranks.

The district grand jury was engaged today in sifting charges made by Fredrick Schenck, a former member of the force now serving a 20 year robbery term in Leavenworth. Schenck alleges corruption in the police department and district attorney's office and specifically that Orville Staples, another former policeman, was framed and convicted on perjured testimony prepared at the orders of high police officials.

Among those who testified before the grand jury today was former Policeman Robert J. Allen, who achieved fame but official disfavor when he charged that his superiors were covering up in the Virginia McPherson case two years ago. Mrs. McPherson was found strangled to death by a pajama cord. Allen challenged the theory advanced by investigators that she committed suicide.

SOARS 7½ HOURS TO LEAD IN U. S. GLIDER CONTEST

Elmira, N. Y., Aug. 12.—(AP)—J. H. (Bud) Stickler of New York City soared into the lead for the record endurance flight of the 1931 national gliding and soaring meet here today after returning to the launching field seven hours 38 minutes and 30 seconds after he took off from South mountain.

Stickler missed by less than a minute and a half the mark established by Albert S. Hastings of Los Angeles, Cal., in winning the Edward S. Evans trophy last year. Hastings today bettered Stickler's time by more than a minute, but was disqualified.

Mrs. Russell Halderman of Leroy, Ill., established a new world's record for sailplane for women with a flight of 42 minutes. The previous record was 15 minutes.

Mrs. Halderman and Mrs. Ralph S. Barney of Washington became the only women in the United States to qualify for the class C glider pilot license with flights of ten minutes.

WEATHER DELAYS LINDBERGHS' HOP TO SIBERIAN ISLE

Hope Dwindles for Chicago Flyer.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

NOME, Alaska, Aug. 12.—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh and his flying wife may not take off from Nome tomorrow for Karagin island, near the coast of Kamchatka peninsula on their vacation flight to Tokio because of bad weather, the colonel said late tonight.

The next, which is slightly over 1,000 miles, will take the famous couple over the northern and western tip of St. Lawrence island to Cape Navarin, on the Siberian coast, and then down the Kamchatka peninsula to Karagin island. From there, after refueling, they will leave for Petropavlovsk, about 450 miles down the peninsula, and then for Tokio, with a stop probably at Nemuro, about half way between Petropavlovsk and the Japanese capital.

250 Mile Water Hop.

The longest all water hop will be between St. Lawrence island and Cape Navarin, a distance of about 250 miles. However, they must fly from Kamchatka peninsula over the Kurile islands, an area noted for sudden and fierce storms.

During the flight, Mrs. Lindbergh, who has become an accomplished radio operator, will attempt to keep in constant communication with the naval radio station at St. Paul island.

No News of Cramer.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Aug. 12.—While hope that Parker Cramer, Chicago flyer, and his radio operator, Oliver Pacquette, would be found alive dwindled to a minimum today, surface vessels continued to keep a sharp lookout for any trace of the men or the plane in which they attempted a flight from the United States to Copenhagen to blaze an air mail route.

Today, a foot long cylinder, four inches in diameter and painted gray, was discovered in the water off the coast of Jutland, and some thought it might have been a part of the Deisel motor of the plane. Advices from Cleveland, O., headquarters for the Trans-American Airlines, Inc., for which Cramer flew, however, said the cylinders of the motor were eight inches in diameter and painted black.

Push Flyers Prosecution.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TOKIO, Aug. 13.—[Thursday.]—The two American flyers, Hugh Herndon and Clyde Pangborn, were examined separately for 11 hours yesterday. The airmen declared they had no intention of coming to Japan until their arrival at Khabarovsk, when they realized they would not be able to beat the record made by Wily Post and Harold Gatty.

Reactionary groups, led by the powerful Black Dragon society headed by Mitsuru Toyama, the "Robin Hood" of Japan, are meeting at 9 o'clock tonight with a view to starting a nationwide movement for severe action to be taken against flyers.

Turkey Flyers Sail Home.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MARSEILLES, France, Aug. 12.—Russell Boardman and John Polando, American flyers who flew to Istanbul, Turkey, embarked today on the steamship Excalibur for Nome, Alaska, taking with them their plane, the Cape Cod.

Lindy's Route to Siberia

Colonel and Mrs. Lindbergh may not take off today from Nome, Alaska, to Karagin island, near the Siberian coast, on their vacation flight to Tokio. This is a jump of more than 1,000 miles. They will take on fuel at Kragin island and then continue to Japan, stopping en route at Petropavlovsk.

AIRMAN TO BLAZE NEW ICELAND TO CHICAGO TRAIL

Capt. Von Gronau Is Ready to Take Off.

Delays His Start

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

REYKJAVIK, Iceland, Aug. 12.—[Special.]—The German flyer, Herr von Gronau, delayed his plan to start for Greenland today on account of unfavorable weather conditions. He expects to make a survey flight there and then continue to America if gasoline supplies in Greenland permit.

New York, Aug. 12.—(AP)—A new and safer north Atlantic air trail across Iceland and Greenland and over the barren Hudson bay country to Chicago, is the objective of Capt. Wolfgang Von Gronau, veteran of one transoceanic flight to New York from Germany.

Von Gronau, now at Reykjavik, Iceland, could not be reached for further details of his plans, but there was a probability today he would continue around the world from Chicago.

Hertha Seeleman-Mirow, of the flying division of the Hamburg American lines, who acts as Von Gronau's secretary in this country, said the German airman would make an exhaustive study of ice and weather conditions while crossing Greenland.

He is making the crossing in a new Dornier flying boat of the same type as the Whole, in which he made last year's trans-Atlantic flight.

From the western coast of Greenland Von Gronau plans to lay his course down the Hudson bay country to Chicago, where he expects to arrive about Aug. 25 or 26.

N. Y. TO CHICAGO AIR RECORD SET BY CAPT. HAWKS

Capt. Frank Hawks, internationally famous airplane speed king, clipped 13 minutes from the western flight record between New York and Chicago yesterday. He landed at the Chicago airport at 10:59 a. m. completing the flight in four hours and four minutes.

After a brief pause for refueling and a sandwich, Hawks hopped off for Hot Springs, S. D., where he and Gov. Warren Green of South Dakota are to be inducted as honorary chiefs into the Sioux tribe. He landed there at 2:34 o'clock, mountain time.

Following the induction ceremony, Capt. Hawks will fly to Chicago, and attempt to set a new record for a flight from here to New York.

Arrest 3 and Seize Liquor in Cafe Raid

Prohibition agents led by Deputy A. E. Aman raided the Subway cafe, 507 North Wabash avenue, last night and arrested John Patterson, said to be the owner; his father, Benjamin, and Harry Smith, an alleged bootlegger. The 30 foot bar, tables in the barroom, and other equipment were seized. A quantity of champagne, absinth, whisky, and gin was found in the kitchen. Patrons were not molested. The raid was made on warrants obtained by undercover agents who had made a number of "buys" of liquor.

ULSTER BORDER IS BARRICADED BY REPUBLICANS

Roads Ripped Up to Bar Meeting of Orangemen.

BELFAST, Northern Ireland, Aug. 12.—(AP)—The countryside along the Ulster-Free State border was in ferment today in consequence of an announcement by Orangemen that they intended to hold a meeting in the town of Cootehill. The town is in County Cavan, in Free State territory.

GEN. EIAN O. DUFFY. [Acme Photo.]

Today Cootehill resembled a besieged stronghold, with roads and railways barricaded or torn up over a considerable area.

Because of the measures taken by the Republicans to prevent the meeting, the Orangemen crossed the border to Aughnacloy, where they assembled undisturbed.

Thousands Guard Roads.

In the early morning thousands of members of the "Irish Republican army" which opposed the Cosgrave government, took up positions on all the main roads to prevent the Orangemen from gaining access to Cootehill. A platform erected at the proposed meeting place was pulled down and the Orange emblems were removed.

A youth who made jeering remarks about the Republicans was badly manhandled and a prominent citizen who intervened in his behalf met similar treatment.

A strong force of civic guards had arrived at Cootehill over night, but another party was prevented from entering the town by barricades. Eventually troops from a nearby encampment got in.

Guards Charge Republicans.

In the afternoon some of the Republican leaders, armed with hockey sticks, lined up on one side of a street, while the military faced them across the road, and took upon themselves the directing of traffic. Inspector Neville of the civic guards, ordered a baton charge which dispersed the Republicans. A Republican leader from County Leitrim was arrested for issuing military orders.

Gen. O'Duffy, chief commissioner of the civic guards, arrived on the scene this evening and took charge.

The Orangemen's gathering at Aughnacloy was addressed by J. C. Crossley of Tyrone, who said that if the Free State was going to treat loyal men as they did that day, the Ulster majority, if it so desired, could make opponents within their own borders suffer just as much as their own Free State brethren had suffered.

DENY REPORTS THAT G. O. P. CONVENTION IS LOST TO CHICAGO

Edward N. Hurley, chairman of the special committee seeking the national political conventions of 1932 for Chicago, expressed firm confidence yesterday that the city is still strongly in the running for the Republican meeting. So did Otis F. Glenn, Republican United States senator.

They expressed themselves in response to published rumors from an undesignated source that the bosses of the G. O. P. already have determined that their convention must be held in some eastern city.

"I have had letters from many committeemen and others," said Chairman Hurley, "but no such intimation has reached me. We are going ahead actively in full confidence that Chicago has an excellent chance for the convention."

"No suggestion has been made so far as I know that Chicago hasn't as good a chance as any city in the country," said Senator Glenn.

Rainfall of Five Feet in 4 Days Floods Manila

[Copyright: 1931: By the New York Times.]

MANILA, P. I., Aug. 12.—The highest tides of the year today flooded two-thirds of the City of Manila. At least 3,000 persons are homeless and 700 families have abandoned their houses and taken to native canoes. Rainfall for the past twenty-four hours was thirteen inches, bringing the total for the last four days to almost 5 feet, approaching a record here.

CLERICAL ERRORS FURTHER HAMPER TAX COLLECTIONS

Assessors' Pay Rollers Cause Delay.

Clerical errors by pay rollers in the office of the board of assessors yesterday put a new obstacle in the way of efforts by County Judge Jarecki to clear his docket clogged with tax protests, and expedite the collection of the taxes which are held up until court proceedings are finished.

JAMES F. CLANCY.

Out of one batch of 217 writs of error sent to the county court by the assessors the judge sent the assessors back 173 of the writs, or 80 per cent, because the clerks who prepared them had failed to say what they meant.

Charge of Waste Recalled.

J. L. Jacobs, county efficiency engineer, charged recently that the reason the assessors had had to ask for an emergency appropriation for completion of the 1931 reassessment was because they had wasted their original appropriation on political pay rollers incapable of performing properly the tasks assigned them.

The writs of error sent back to the assessors yesterday were in connection with protests on 1928 assessments. The assessors have the power to issue the writs where an error of fact was made in the original assessment. They may not, however, correct any error of judgment by means of a writ of error.

Mistakes Are Discovered.

James F. Clancy, assistant state's attorney assigned to tax cases in the County court, discovered, on inspecting the 217 writs that 173 of them were not legally worded. While the clerks who prepared them had intended to correct an error of fact, such as a failure to measure land or a building correctly, or an arithmetical miscalculation in computing an assessment, they had actually worded the short explanation of the error so that it appeared the assessors were correcting a matter of judgment.

Charles E. Fox, appraisal chief for the assessors, called on County Attorney Hayden N. Bell for help in evolving a formula which would be proof against further errors by the clerks in his office. Attorney Bell recommended a blanket formula for all cases, reading:

"Misapplication of the general rule as applied to this particular property, and a failure to take into account detracting factors in reference to this property, brought about an error of fact."

Tax Investigation Proposed.

Summoning of a special grand jury to investigate personal property in Cook county beginning with the wealthiest citizens and the banks, and a plea to assess personal property for its share of the taxes was the double proposal placed before the board of assessors yesterday by E. J. Davis, superintendent of the Chicago Better Government association. No action was promised.

"Let us begin with the wealthiest citizens and the banks in which there is the most personal property," Mr. Davis said. "Bring them before the grand jury on subpoenas if they refuse to fill out complete personal property schedules."

He declared that if personal and real property were assessed alike the tax rate would be cut to one-quarter of the present rate. A tax of forty cents on each $100 would be sufficient to run the county, he declared.

Plan to Speed Hearings.

Beginning Monday, it was announced yesterday by Andrew W. Gatenbey, chief clerk of the board of review, that body will hear complaints against the 1930 assessments at the rate of 1,200 a day, instead of 500 a day, as at present. At that rate, he expects, the board will be able to give all of the 50,000 complaints on file a hearing by the end of September.

County Treasurer McDonough said yesterday that sale of property for nonpayment of city, village, and park board special assessments would start Sept. 28. There are approximately 700,000 pieces of property involved in delinquent assessments, which total $15,000,000.

BIG BILL EDWARDS NOT TO PRESS HIS SUIT FOR DIVORCE

New York, Aug. 12.—[Special.]—William H. [Big Bill] Edwards, former Princeton football star, has decided not to press his suit for divorce against Mrs. Norma Jones Edwards of White Plains, it was revealed today in White Plains.

WM. H. EDWARDS. [Acme Photo.]

State Senator Walter M. Westfall appeared before Supreme Court Justice William F. Bleakley and asked permission to amend Mr. Edwards' answer to his wife's separation suit and to strike out his plea for a divorce. Justice Bleakley adjourned hearing on the motion until Aug. 17.

Mrs. Edwards accused her husband of cruelty. In his divorce suit Mr. Edwards accused his wife of infidelity and named one Thomas Wendstrom as co-respondent. Wendstrom, in an affidavit, admitted misconduct with Mrs. Edwards, but later retracted statements in that affidavit and was indicted on a charge of perjury. He is now in the county jail here awaiting trial.

BOMB DAMAGES FORGING PLANT OF FINKL & SONS

A bomb was exploded early this morning in the entrance of the big forgings plant of A. Finkl & Sons company, 1326 Cortland street, and caused damage estimated at $1,500. The front of the building was blown out and the interior of the office wrecked. Michael Battle, 2234 Bissell street, the engineer, and Isaac Jacobs, 1617 North Wells street, the fireman, who were in the rear of the place, were hurled against a wall by the blast and slightly injured. Sergt. George Schupolsky, who investigated the bombing, said the plant had been operating as an open shop, and he attributed the blast to labor trouble. Charles Finkl of the company admitted the plant is open shop, but said it had had no threats from union sources.

ROBBERS SLUG GUNSMITH AND TAKE WEAPONS

Arthur Olson, 40 year old gunsmith, was slugged with a revolver last night when he resisted three men who held him up and took ten revolvers and twelve shotguns and rifles from his shop at 1328 West Lake street.

Two of the robbers entered the shop after closing hours on the pretext that they wanted to buy a shotgun. Mrs. Sarah Hanger, 159 North Sheldon street, Olson's assistant, admitted them. She called Olson to wait on them and as he entered from his workshop in the rear the third bandit entered with a drawn revolver.

Olson sprang at him but was driven back by a blow on the head. Mrs. Hanger persuaded him to offer no further resistance. The robbers made a selection of the weapons in the place, took $5 from Olson, and fled.

Necessary Charge is not High Price

A reputation for High Price is frequently misunderstood by many. These individuals usually fail to discriminate fairly between various values in Materials, Workmanship, and Service. The Finest in Quality embodies many important items of cost in production that are essential to the Seal of Excellence—items not demanded in less expensive merchandise.

A quality Article, though necessarily costing more, is in reality often not as high priced as a cheaper grade at a lower price. Our customers come to us because they have every confidence in our merchandise and in our way of doing business. They enjoy the intelligent service and business courtesies maintained throughout all our Establishments. If prices seem high to some people, this usually indicates that they do not discriminate between qualities.

SCHOOL WASTE CHARGES DRAW TRUSTEES' FIRE

Gap Governor's Inquiry Committee.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

An attack was made upon Gov. Emmerson's revenue commission yesterday afternoon by Trustees Joseph Bowe and James Hemingway at a meeting of the school board which lacked a quorum. The revenue commission produced expert testimony on Tuesday night indicating that the school board had paid an excess profit of approximately $500,000 in the $2,268,- contracts let for the construction of the Parker Junior High school.

The witnesses in their discussion appeared to be offended that they had not been invited to the session of the revenue commission. Several school officials appeared before the commission on Tuesday night and offered suggestions for school economics.

"If any employé accepts an invitation to appear before that commission and is willing to vote for his dismissal," said Trustee Hemingway yesterday, "why should they go over the head of the board?"

Calls Meeting a Burlesque.

Trustee Savage referred to the commission's meeting as "a burlesque." "Would it not be fair," he asked, "to invite the board when the board's affairs are being discussed? I asked President Myers why a member of the board was not invited and he said the commission did not want to see us at this time. I believe I have a right to be present, as well as the other members, when charges are being made against us.

"The commission asked whether arithmetic was being taught to women in the public schools. Let me say to the commission that it is not being taught and never has been taught.

Discusses Building Costs.

"A contractor who was asked to bid at a school appeared before the commission to testify that the board —when any time—had spent $500,000 for such on a school.

"That is rather strange. We want all contractors to bid. They have been asked, and will be invited again. The average building cost 99 cents a cubic foot and the Board of Trade building 89 cents, as compared with 81 cents for this school referred to; and recent bids on junior high schools have been 39 and 40 cents a cubic foot. That at a time like this when every American wants work.

"The board owned proposes to collect money in hand out as charity, but only in the form of a dole. That system is disastrous. I have no sympathy with their scheme to build soup houses. I favor spending money for necessary buildings. I want plans rushed so that buildings can be started before the snow flies."

Consider Warrant Sale.

The school board meeting was called primarily to take action on the plan of Miss Margaret Haley of the Teachers' Federation. She plans to get buyers for $6,965,000 of 1930 tax warrants now held in the city surplus funds, and then have the city buy an equal amount of 1931 school warrants so as to get money to pay teachers' salaries.

Trustee Hemingway said the board was ready to vote for that plan, if Miss Haley had found purchasers for the warrants. She replied that she had if the board would remedy its previous action, in adopting a certain resolution which Assistant Corporation Counsel Hornstein held yesterday to be illegal.

"You do not want to give the impression, do you, that you have $6,900,000 with which to pay the teachers, but are prevented by lack of board action?" asked Mr. Savage.

Miss Haley Answers.

"That's an insult," replied Miss Haley. "No one can sell the 1930 warrants until this board takes the requisite action in legal form, which the city law department says has not been done."

"Evidently, instead of helping the board," commented Trustee Hemingway, "the plan is to run around in circles. Apparently the teachers do not want help."

A chorus of "noes" from perhaps 100 teachers greeted the trustee.

"I'm telling you the truth, and you can cry 'no' as you desire," said Hemingway.

The teachers booed the trustee, and he replied: "It appears that we have professional befuddlers instead of school teachers. When the teachers get ready to have their plan considered I will come back from my vacation and vote for it."

Will Continue to Probe.

Joseph K. Brittain, chairman of the governor's commission, made this comment: "The investigation of public expenditures, of the type considered by the governor's conference last night, will continue. What course it will take will be determined by the disclosures. Inquiry into the extravagance and waste in public spending is one of the objects of the tax conference and one of its purposes is to prevent a continuance of large public spending."

When Gov. Emmerson made his speech to the commission he said that "some drastic effort should be made to reduce the cost of government." He added that "those responsible should see to it that expenditures are reduced." He told those assembled that "this conference should inquire into governmental expenditures and submit its recommendations that they may be considered in enacting legislation for curtailing them where it appears there has been a waste of public money."

SEEKS DIVORCE

MRS. DOROTHY THIBODEAUX AND SON PAGE JR.

Mrs. Dorothy Gardner Thibodeaux, daughter of F. G. Gardner, treasurer of the Chicago Title and Trust company, filed suit for divorce yesterday against Page J. Thibodeaux in the Circuit court of Lake county at Waukegan. They were married Sept. 1, 1925. She charges that he deserted her April 27, 1930. Since that time she has been living with her parents at 287 East Central avenue, Highland Park. Mrs. Thibodeaux asked custody of her son, Page Jr., 4 years old, and requested that her husband be required to support the boy.

Aurora Dedicates New Bridge Over Fox River

Aurora celebrated the opening of its new Memorial bridge last night with a street dance on the bridge, to music furnished by the boys' band from Mooseheart. The bridge, a memorial to the city's war dead, is 666 feet long, the longest span across the Fox river. It is at New York street, in the center of the city's business district, and cost $350,000.

PLANE CARRIES DRUG TO TREAT MRS. CALDWELL

Adenine sulphate, a little known drug which stimulates the growth of the white blood corpuscles in the blood, was sent by airplane yesterday to Mrs. Lillian Caldwell, 31 years old, wife of H. Wallace Caldwell, school trustee, who is critically ill of agranulocytosis in the Blodgett Memorial hospital at Grand Rapids, Mich. The rare disease destroys the white corpuscles of the blood.

The use of adenine sulphate was discovered last winter by Dr. Frederic W. Burcky of the Northwestern university medical school faculty while treating Mrs. Nancy Hatton, 51 years old, wife of Prof. A. R. Hatton of the university. Mrs. Hatton later died.

The drug reached Grand Rapids in one hour and 20 minutes after leaving Chicago and one-half gram was immediately administered. She also was given a new blood transfusion. A slight improvement was noted in Mrs. Caldwell's condition.

DISCOVER GAS NEAR CHICAGO; LEASES SIGNED

Natural gas deposits have been found in Markham, a small community southwest of the city, it was revealed last night.

The gas has been located in a section bounded on the north and south, respectively, by 155th and 167th streets, and on the east and west, respectively, by Western and Crawford avenues. First evidences of the deposits were discovered three weeks ago.

For the last two weeks F. W. Mohr, vice president of Howard W. Elmore & Co., real estate dealers, has been interviewing property owners in the gas section and has signed contracts with a number of them, it is said. The contracts are on leases based on a one-eighth royalty of all production. The Elmore concern several years ago purchased the land held by the Markham Realty trust. Among property owners in the district are Michael J. Flynn, Democratic leader, and Joseph P. Savage, attorney.

Drilling for the gas will be started Aug. 25, it was stated.

GRAIN MAN ARRESTED.

Omaha, Neb., Aug. 12.—(AP)—Frank J. Strodl, 32, Omaha, head bookkeeper and minor stockholder in the Vincent Grain company of Omaha, was in jail here today pending investigation into a reported discrepancy of approximately $75,000 in the Vincent firm's balances with the closed State Bank of Omaha.

FATHER AND SON GUILTY IN BOND COMPANY FRAUD

William N. Reynolds, 71 years old, and his son, C. Doyle Reynolds, were found guilty of conspiracy to obtain money under false pretenses in connection with the organization of the Hill State Bond and Mortgage company by Judge Peter B. Schwaba in the Criminal court yesterday. The penalty is imprisonment for from one to five years and a fine up to $2,000. Sixty witnesses testified that they had lost their savings. The Reynolds were charged with taking from $30,000 to $50,000 of the mortgage company funds to finance other companies.

M'DONALD FACES LABORITE REVOLT OVER CUT IN DOLE

Cabinet Maps 500 Million Reduction in Budget.

BY JOHN STEELE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Aug. 12.—The Labor cabinet's economy subcommittee, responding to a hurry up call from Prime Minister MacDonald, today plunged into the work of solving Great Britain's financial crisis.

PHILIP SNOWDEN.
[Acme Photo.]

Five leading ministers, on vacation in various parts of England, rushed to London to seek means of meeting a huge budget deficit by cutting off about $500,000,000 from next year's expenditures. The five ministers on whose shoulders this work falls are Chancellor of the Exchequer Philip Snowden, Foreign Secretary Arthur Henderson, J. H. Thomas, dominions secretary; William Graham, president of the board of trade, and Prime Minister MacDonald. The ministers reached no definite agreement today and the conference will be continued tomorrow.

May Call in Opposition.

Although no official announcement has yet been made that the Liberals and Conservatives will be called in to share in the drastic economy measures which are necessary, Neville Chamberlain, former minister and Conservative leader, suddenly left Scotland for London today.

The government's bitterest opposition to reductions in the social services, as demanded by the economy report recently made by a committee of investigation, will not come from the opposition parties but from Labor's own ranks. This was confirmed definitely today by publication of the agenda of the Labor party conference which will be held on Oct. 5.

A resolution drawn up by the national union of railway men today said the government had "failed to make socialism work successfully by compromising with the other political parties."

The Independent Labor party is drafting a resolution demanding that the government oppose the economy report, which asks a cut in dole benefits and increased contributions from workers. Instead, this group wants the dole removed from an insurance basis and contributions abolished altogether, and asks that the dole be extended to agricultural workers, young persons just leaving school, and all workers up to the age of 70.

Another resolution demands the creation of additional Labor peers, in order "to prevent the legislation of the house of commons being emasculated by the upper chamber."

TO RESIGN

CARDINAL PACELLI.
[Associated Press Photo.]

VATICAN CITY, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Official confirmation of reports that Cardinal Pacelli is to resign as papal secretary of state, to which post he was named in February, 1930, came from the Vatican today. He sought the pope's permission, it was said, but the pontiff asked him to wait until the difficulties with Italy over the Catholic Action organization are settled.

It is believed some sort of accord on that issue will have been reached by autumn and that the cardinal will retire from his office in November or December.

His successor, it is thought, probably will be a prelate who is not now a cardinal, and is likely to be appointed secretary pro tem until he can be elevated, as was the late Cardinal Merry del Val in the reign of Pope Pius X.

GIRL'S MISSING WATCH CLEW TO AUTO MASSACRE

and met the stranger seen with them by England. All were loosed. Paul Keene, 49 years old, and his brother, Lawrence, 38 years old, itinerant moonshiners, arrested in a wagon shack near the scene of the crime, are the only suspects being held.

Although the case built up against them by the prosecutors made no progress under their sullen denials of the crime, they were ordered held when Herbert Emerson, chemist for the Pasteur institute, declared stains found on a club in their possession to be human blood. He is also examining stains on Paul's underwear suspenders and right shoe.

Evanston, Ill., police today reported the capture of two Negroes in an automobile stolen in Detroit. Sheriff Andres received a description of the car's tires for comparison with the tire marks of a car which apparently headed off the Wheatley car on the by-road near Willis. No one could be found who was able to give a description of the latter marks, however, and they have been obliterated. Officials here do not regard the Evanston capture hopefully.

England, the restaurant counter man, said young Lore had been drinking before he entered the Milan eating house. He said the party arrived shortly after two o'clock Tuesday morning. He made identifications from photographs and declared he could identify the stranger.

England was positive of the time of entrance because he habitually turns off the lights in the hotel lobby at two o'clock. He fixed the entrance of the party at about ten minutes later.

"I heard the car drive up and five people come into the restaurant—three men, two of them mere boys, and two very young girls," he said. "One of the boys got sick outside. From that I knew he had been drinking. I'm not sure about the rest of the party."

"This fellow that got sick was Harry Lore. I noticed a tall, husky, stoop shouldered man about 39 years old. He attracted my attention because he was badly dressed and wore a cap and a dirty brown sweater, while the boys were bareheaded.

Autopsy Backs Story.

"The party wasn't noisy, but Lore twitted the older fellow, who kept his cap on. I got a ham and egg sandwich for one girl and a ham and tomato sandwich for the other. I don't remember what the men had. They stayed about a half hour and the older fellow paid the bill."

England's story was corroborated by the finding in the autopsies, which disclosed tomato seeds in the stomach of one of the girls. No trace of liquor was found.

His story partially fills the gap in the activities of the young people from the time they left the Lore home at about 8 o'clock Monday evening until the bodies were found. They had announced their intention of going to a movie, but were not seen in the theater.

The inquest was opened in the Washtenaw county courthouse at 2 o'clock this afternoon under the joint jurisdiction of Coroner Albert R. French of Wayne county and Coroner Edward C. Ganzhorn of Washtenaw county.

A jury of six farmers was sworn in, but Prosecutor Albert J. Rapp of Washtenaw county demanded a week's delay pending the investigation. The request was granted and no evidence was taken. The families did not attend the inquest.

Immediately after the inquest Sheriff Andres announced the formation of a veterans' military police, in a formative stage for several months, will be speeded to have 128 new deputy sheriffs patrolling the county's highways next week. Plans are being pushed as a result of the quadruple slaying.

The new deputies are all to be honorably discharged war veterans. Each is to be armed with an army rifle and 100 rounds of ammunition.

Gov. Wilber M. Brucker sent Attorney General Paul Voorhies here today to unite the authorities of Wayne and Washtenaw counties in the murder investigation. At the same time Harry Bennett, chief investigator for Henry Ford, received orders to join his staff with the forces of the counties. It was decided to place Chief Deputy Sheriff Archie Fraser of Wayne county in complete charge, with a temporary office in the Ann Arbor Savings Bank building.

The bodies of the victims were released by the authorities today. The two boys are to be buried with services by De Molay council at Ypsilanti and the bodies of the girls are to be taken to Cleveland, their home, for burial.

Rewards were posted from various sources today to spur on the hunt for the slayers. The Detroit News and the Times offered $1,000 each, and the Detroit Mirror offered $2,000 for exclusive information leading to the apprehension of the killers. In addition the Wayne county board of supervisors offered $1,000 for each person convicted of the crime.

NEGROES DENY COMPLICITY.

Two Negroes who had driven a stolen automobile from Detroit to Chicago were questioned yesterday by Evanston police regarding the torch murder of two boys and two girls near Ypsilanti, Mich.

The prisoners, arrested Tuesday afternoon, are K. T. Tott, 21 years old, and Elgie Mapp, 26 years old, of Detroit. They admitted that they stole the car which they were driving Monday evening in Detroit, but denied any knowledge of the quadruple killing.

This Emblem stands against KILLERS

Every League member displays this emblem on his car. Get it here.

Look at this emblem carefully. You will see it often in the coming months.

For this is the emblem of hundreds of thousands of public-spirited motorists who have been aroused by the toll of 32,500 deaths on our highways and streets last year. It stands against KILLERS . . . it stands for safe, sane driving that means life to thousands of people each year.

Would you like to join in this great national crusade against recklessness and carelessness? Would you like to become a member of the Silvertown Safety League and display this same emblem on your car?

Then come to local League Headquarters and sign the Safe Drivers' pledge. The nine, common-sense rules of this pledge were developed by drivers of the famous Silver Fleet, who have covered over FIVE MILLION MILES WITHOUT AN INJURY.

Come in now. Make yourself a part of this great movement. We have a pledge ready for you and will install the emblem on your car—without cost.

JOIN TODAY—
THIS CRUSADE NEEDS YOU

MY PLEDGE AS A MEMBER
THE SILVERTOWN SAFETY LEAGUE
I AGREE . . .

1. To drive at speeds in keeping with the safety of others as well as myself.
2. To keep on the right side of the road, except when passing.
3. To pass only when I know there are ample time and space—never on blind curves or when nearing the crest of a hill.
4. To go through intersections only when I have the right of way.
5. To observe all traffic signals.
6. To give signals myself that can be clearly seen and understood, before turning or stopping in traffic.
7. To drive only when in full possession of my faculties.
8. To keep my brakes, lights, and horn in good condition.
9. To operate my car on tires which assure a positive grip on the road—safe traction—and freedom from hazardous tire failures.

THERE are more safe miles in the Silvertown than in any other tire . . . We make a generous trade-in allowance for your old, doubtful tires. Don't risk blow-outs and skidding — start riding on safety-tested Silvertowns today!

SKINNY AND SO NERVOUS
she was afraid to stay alone!
Now gaining 3 lbs. a week —skin clearing, too

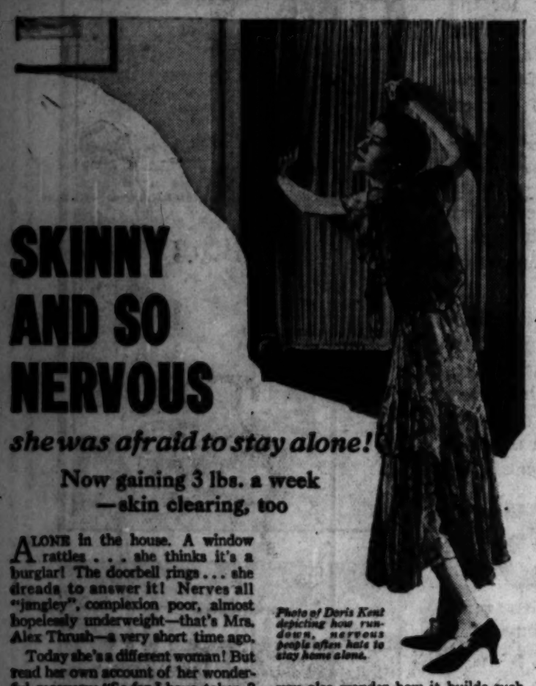

Photo of Doris Kent depicting how run-down, nervous people often fail to stay home alone.

ALONE in the house. A window rattles . . . she thinks it's a burglar! The doorbell rings . . . she dreads to answer it! Nerves all "jangley", complexion poor, almost hopelessly underweight—that's Mrs. Alex Thrush—a very short time ago.

Today she's a different woman! But read her own account of her wonderful recovery: "So far I have taken 3 packages of Ironized Yeast and have averaged about 3 pounds a week. This is exceptionally fine for me because I was so much underweight I began to think I never would gain a pound. I was so terribly nervous that I was afraid in the house alone. This is gradually going. I sleep like a new-born babe and my complexion is clearing up." Mrs. Alex Thrush, 15015 Main St., Harvey, Ill.

We hear of scores of conditions—just as pitiful as this. Some folks couldn't eat—others couldn't sleep. Some lost their friends—others their jobs. Always their trouble was a rundown, underweight condition. And always Ironized Yeast rescued these men and women—revitalized their systems—added pounds of firm, attractive flesh.

A two-result tonic

Do you wonder how Ironized Yeast can correct skin troubles, constipation, nervousness—at the same time it rounds out thin, scrawny figures? Do you also wonder how it builds such firm flesh so quickly—"10 lbs. in 3 weeks", "22½ lbs. in 5 weeks" in actual cases on record? Here's the answer: This pleasant tonic tablet contains not only extra-rich "beer yeast"—but super-tested iron as well!

Specially cultured, specially imported—this famous health yeast is concentrated seven times—made seven times as effective as ordinary yeast. It is then scientifically ironized—treated with three distinct kinds of energizing, blood-enrichening iron.

GUARANTEED! Try Ironized Yeast. If you are not absolutely delighted with its results, your money will be promptly refunded. ACCEPT NO SUBSTITUTES! Insist on genuine Ironized Yeast. Look for the "I.Y" on each tablet. At all druggists. Ironized Yeast Co., Atlanta, Ga.

2 EASTERN MEN BUY CONTROL OF THE DAILY NEWS

Frank Knox Becomes New Publisher.

Frank Knox of New York, until recently the general manager of the Hearst newspapers, became publisher of the Chicago Daily News yesterday, in association with Theodore T. Ellis of Worcester, Mass., a manufacturer of printing press equipment. Mr. Knox purchased the controling stock in the News from the estate of its late publisher, Walter A. Strong, who died suddenly on May 18.

It was rumored that Mr. Ellis supplied a majority of the cash involved in that the stock brought a price [illegible] $1,500,000. Mr. Knox declined to discuss the terms of sale.

Employes Forfeit Option.

By a provision of Mr. Strong's will employes of the News were given three months in which to organize a pool for purchase of his stock. The option expired last Saturday without action by the employes.

The new owners contemplate no change in the editorial policy, physical makeup or departmental management of the publication, Mr. Knox said. Charles H. Dennis is the present editor and Jesse N. Shryock is business manager.

Four new names will be added to the board of directors, however, it was announced. Mr. Knox becomes president of the board and Mr. Ellis vice president. Rufus C. Dawes and Joseph [illegible] will be added to the board.

Present New Names Soon.

The names of these new members will be presented to the stockholders for confirmation at an early date, it was said. Present directors of the corporation are Laird Bell, Holman D. Pettibone, Sewell Avery, George E. Scott, John Stuart, Benjamin V. Becker and J. L. Houghteling.

In getting control of the News, Mr. Knox outbid two eastern newspaper syndicates, according to reports. It was said that Cyrus H. K. Curtis, president of the Philadelphia Public Ledger, and Frank Gannett, publisher of the Brooklyn Eagle, submitted unsuccessful bids.

One report had it that negotiations with Mr. Curtis had reached a point where the Philadelphia publisher sent a $1,000,000 certified check to executors of Mr. Strong's estate, prepared to pay that sum in cash with an agreement to complete the purchase with another $1,500,000 within six weeks.

Banks Named in Rumor.

It was rumored that at least one financier, John Borden, well known socialite, had planned to or did submit a bid. Executors of the Strong estate declined to discuss the number of bidders.

The new publisher of the News is a native of Boston, but began his newspaper career in Michigan. He is 57 years old, married, and intends to make his home in Chicago.

Born on Jan. 1, 1874, Mr. Knox studied Alma college, Alma, Mich., and entered journalism at the age of 19 years as a reporter on the Grand Rapids Herald, Grand Rapids, Mich. During the Spanish-American war he served as a trooper with Theodore Roosevelt's Rough Riders.

Upon his return to Grand Rapids, Mr. Knox became successively the city editor and circulation manager of the Herald. In 1901 he joined the staff of the Maria News, becoming publisher before he resigned in 1912.

Publisher of Eastern Paper.

Then first time his interests have been in the east. He became publisher of the Manchester [N. H.] Leader, which he merged in 1913 with the Manchester Union. He is still publisher of the merged publication, the Manchester Union and Leader.

Politically Mr. Knox has been both a regular and a progressive Republican. In the Bull Moose campaign of 1912, as chairman of the Michigan Republican central committee, he was active for the nomination of Roosevelt and managed the pre-convention headquarters in the Auditorium hotel here. He returned to the regular fold and supported Charles Evans Hughes for President in 1916. In 1920 he was floor manager of Gen. Leonard Wood's campaign in the Republican national convention at the Coliseum.

Veteran of World War.

Mr. Knox's connection with the Hearst interests dates from 1926, when he became publisher of Hearst's Boston American. A year later he was appointed general manager of the Hearst papers, a position he resigned Jan. 1 after a disagreement with the owner over policies.

Mr. Knox is a world war veteran, having enlisted as a private and emerged as a lieutenant colonel of artillery.

TEXAS PASSES OIL CONSERVATION BILL AT SPECIAL SESSION

Austin, Tex., Aug. 12.—(AP)—The Texas legislature tonight passed an oil conservation bill pronounced by administration leaders as satisfactory to Gov. Ross S. Sterling, who had threatened martial law to halt petroleum production if the law makers did not act.

The senate adopted the bill offered by a free conference committee by a vote of 29 to 1, shortly after the house had taken the same action by vote of 125 to 12. The bill will become a law with the signature of Gov. Sterling, who is expected to sign it soon.

The measure provides for proration of oil production by pools and outlines court procedure against those opposing conservation orders issued by the state railroad commission.

The new tremendously rich East Texas field generally is credited with major responsibility for the overproduction which has hammered crude oil prices down.

Three Drown in California Cabin as Rain Fills Valley

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 12.—(AP)—Three persons were reported drowned today when terrific rains filled the Tehachapi and Monolith valleys with swirling floods, damaged railroad tracks and two large factories, and forced workmen to flee.

The Monolith Portland Cement company's plant and the works of the Southern California Edison company both were reported badly damaged. The Southern Pacific agent at Monolith said six feet of water swept through the station.

A report from the cement plant said a father, mother, and young child were drowned in their canyon cabin when eight feet of water inundated it. No names were given.

CHILD DIES OF BURNS.

Franklin Brown, 19 months old, 14832 Center avenue, Harvey, died yesterday in his home from burns received a few days ago when he fell into a bath tub of scalding water.

WIDOW DENIES POLICE VERSION OF DUMONT RIDE

Testimony given yesterday by the widow of the slain Adolph Dumont, supposed realty agent, was contradicted by policemen at the inquest into his death which resulted in a verdict of "murder by persons unknown." Mrs. Mary Dumont insisted her husband had no café connections, that he did not associate with bootleggers and gangsters, and she said he had told her he had no enemies.

Sergt. Herman Vance and Policeman John Voss of the Wilmette force, who investigated the shooting of Dumont, which occurred at Wilmette avenue and Main street in Wilmette on Monday night, said Dumont was interested in two cafés, the Walton club in Morton Grove and the Walton club at 69 West Walton place in Chicago.

Dumont was hurrying to the police station in his automobile to escape the men who were pursuing him in another car, the policemen said they had learned, and when his car was forced to the curb he struck at his attackers and then they shot him. They testified they believed the slaying had its origin in the liquor traffic.

The coroner's jury read Dumont's criminal record, which showed he had served a term in Pontiac reformatory and had been involved in crime between 1903 and 1913.

Owner Is Held

Corado Giandinoto of 6734 North Artesian avenue, a presser, was held yesterday by the fire attorney's office for questioning in connection with a fire and explosion which demolished a vacant home which Giandinoto owned at 3742 North Mozart street early in the morning. The blaze and blast damaged two neighboring dwellings and caused damage of $10,000.

ALCOCK AND 3 CAPTAINS HEARD BY POLICE JURY

The special grand jury which has been investigating the police department since last January was believed last night to be nearing the end of its inquiry.

Acting Police Commissioner Alcock, presumably the final witness to be called, went into the jury chamber at 9 p. m. and was before the jury more than two hours. Preceding him before the jury were Capt. William Russell, former commissioner; Capt. George O'Connor, head of the gambling squad, and Capt. Michael Delaney.

It is believed the jury action, if any, will take the form of a report directed jointly to the chief justice of the Criminal court, Mayor Cermak, and members of the civil service commission.

PLAN TO REOPEN NORTHWESTERN BANK APPROVED

Proposal Wins Support of Business Groups.

Assurances of support for Tomas F. Deuther in his play for reopening the Northwestern Trust and Savings bank poured in on Mr. Deuther and his committee of 100 yesterday following announcement that State Auditor Oscar Nelson had approved the reorganization setup.

OSCAR NELSON. [Gibson Photo.]

Within an hour after the announcement was issued at the bank, 1201 Milwaukee avenue, dozens of business men and officers of Polish societies telephoned congratulations and pledges of coöperation, the calls continuing until late in the evening. Because the community is largely Polish Mr. Deuther regarded the spontaneous approval of the Polish societies as auspicious.

Largest of Outlying Banks.

The Northwestern Trust and Savings, largest of the city's outlying banks, has been closed since June 10, its failure being attributed to the dissolution of the Foreman banks, with which it was affiliated. The bank had 40,000 depositors, of whom 20,000 had deposits of $75 or less.

Under Mr. Deuther's plan, depositors with claims under $75 may have their money on demand as soon as reorganization is completed. Other depositors must waive fifty per cent of their deposits, this to be paid them as assets are gradually liquidated.

To conduct the liquidation the state auditor will appoint David E. Shanahan, speaker of the house of representatives and president of three banks. Steps for reorganization will begin today, Mr. Deuther said, with the hope that the task will be finished within four months.

Need Loyalty of Depositors.

The new bank, under the Deuther plan, will have a capital structure of $800,000, composed of $400,000 capital stock, $250,000 surplus, and $150,000 contingent reserve. Mr. Deuther emphasized that the loyalty and coöperation of depositors will be essential.

Mr. Nelson, in approving the plan, wrote Mr. Deuther as follows:

"I believe the plan you have outlined is excellent and I shall be very glad to coöperate in every way possible and trust it may speedily be placed in effect. The sooner the new bank can be opened the better it will be for the many thousands of depositors, who will at least have a goodly portion of their deposits placed at such disposal as their needs require."

Considers Pool Plans.

The state auditor took a half holiday in the country yesterday, mainly for the purpose of considering the men he will name to formulate the pool of frozen bank assets, indorsed on Tuesday night at a meeting of Cook county bank receivers and their attorneys.

While Mr. Nelson could not be reached for comment on the progress of the pooling plan, his chief bank examiner, Fred E. Edgerton, said the response of bankers was favorable.

The auditor has named John E. Sullivan receiver for the Garfield State bank, 4010 West Madison street, with the firm of Crowe, Gorman and Savage as attorneys. The bank closed on June 11 with listed resources of $7,800,726 and deposits of $4,623,357. Bank examiners predicted the depositors will realize a substantial percentage of their money because the institution's real estate loans totaled only $2,400,000 in comparison to time deposits of $3,000,000.

Massillon, O., Aug. 12.—(AP)—"General" Jacob Coxey, who gained national attention years ago by leading an army of unemployed to Washington, seemed certain today of achieving his first public office—that of mayor of this city of 25,000.

The 76 year old campaigner led five opponents in yesterday's primary for the Republican nomination, which is virtual assurance of election in this normally Republican city.

120 MOTORISTS GET TICKETS FOR LACK OF TAGS

License bureau inspectors gave 120 motorists summonses on Tuesday to appear in the traffic court because their automobiles did not bear city vehicle tax windshield stickers. Fred Fischman, superintendent of the city license bureau, said yesterday. Tuesday was the first day of the drive.

Only eight inspectors were at work, but the number will be increased to fifty in a few days. The police are also giving tickets to motorists driving without the stickers, City Clerk Brady said.

In cases where the motorist has a legally purchased metal vehicle tax tag on his car, but has been unable to get his sticker because of a mixup in the mail, he is given a form letter to show to other inspectors, exempting him from a summons until he can get his sticker.

RISE IN METER COST UNDER OLD CITY HALL SHOWN

$134 Installation Price Reached in 1928.

Evidence of the exorbitant costs of water meter installations under the last city administration came to light yesterday, following Mayor Cermak's recent announcement that union plumbers employed by the city had agreed to install five meters a day instead of the two a day they had put in previously.

An inquiry disclosed that the average cost of installing one meter, including the cost of the meter, rose from $55.65 in 1920 to $134.32 in 1928. Yesterday B. W. Cullen, superintendent of water pipe extension, estimated the present cost to be about $43.

Mayor Cermak said that he was informed that the plumbers could accomplish more than twice as much in the same time as they had accomplished and that at a conference they agreed to speed up.

Sixty plumbers and 180 laborers are employed by the city to install meters. The plumbers receive $13.50 a day and the laborers $7.80 a day. The city council this year appropriated $600,000 for meter installation and recently transferred to this fund an extra $225,000 so that the whole force could be kept on the pay roll under the new schedule.

William Curren, business agent for the plumbers' union, said yesterday that he was surprised at the inference drawn from the mayor's statement that the plumbers had been loafing on the job. He said the mayor's remarks must have been misinterpreted.

"No plumber has ever been instructed by the union to lie down on the job," Curran declared. "We don't preach sabotage to our members. We expect them to do a full day's work for a day's pay."

Supt. Cullen, who is in charge of all the city meterization work, said it was true that each meter job presented a different problem but he admitted that there has been some "stalling" by the plumbers in the past. The city has served an ultimatum on the union that where conditions are favorable five meters a day should be installed. Where they are exceptionally good, he said, eight can be installed.

The statistics showing the mounting costs of meter installation during recent years were set forth in a report made in April, 1930, by a city council subcommittee headed by City Collector E. J. Kaindl, when he was alderman. The average costs of installing one meter, including the meter purchase price, from 1920 to 1928 were as follows:

1921	68.53	1926	66.32
1922	81.96	1927	75.48
1923	62.90	1928	134.32
1924	48.97

The permit under which the sanitary district is permitted to divert a diminishing amount of water from Lake Michigan through the Chicago river requires that 10 per cent of the city's unmetered water services be metered during a ten year period.

69TH BIRTHDAY MARKED QUIETLY BY ROSENWALD

Julius Rosenwald, Chicago philanthropist and civic leader, celebrated his sixty-ninth birthday quietly yesterday with immediate members of his family in his home at Highland Park, where he has been confined for several weeks due to ill health. His condition, which necessitated his withdrawal from all activities several months ago, was reported to be rapidly improving.

Hundreds of telegrams and letters of congratulation were received during the day and read at Mr. Rosenwald's birthday dinner last night, which was attended by Mr. and Mrs. Lessing Rosenwald and Mr. and Mrs. William Rosenwald of Philadelphia, and Mr. and Mrs. Herman Felsenthal of Winnetka.

Among his notable philanthropies Mr. Rosenwald is widely known for his generous contributions to the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. for Negroes. Among his outstanding contributions in recent years has been his $5,000,000 gift to the University of Chicago and $5,000,000 to the Museum of Science and Industry. He also has pledged $6,000,000 for Jewish colonization in Russia.

Greatest of all Mr. Rosenwald's benevolences, however, was the creation of the Julius Rosenwald fund with a capital of $30,000,000, in 1929. The chartered purpose of this fund is "for the well being of mankind." It is dispensed by trustees who are experts in various fields of social welfare.

Two Policemen Given Extra Service Awards

Two policemen were awarded $300 extra compensation each yesterday by Acting Police Commissioner Alcock for excellent police work. Fred Krutschmer of Irving Park station was rewarded for killing one of three bandits and capturing the other two, after the holdup of a real estate office, and James J. Condon of the Stanton avenue station was given extra compensation for the arrest of a gunman after the latter had shot his wife and a male companion.

Hay Fever Victims Can Now Stay Home

Expensive Trips Unnecessary Due to Doctor's Discovery

Indianapolis—Thousands who formerly found it necessary to take expensive trips to escape from their Hay Fever attacks spend this summer at home in peace and comfort. This is borne out by the records of an institution which for many years has been in touch with Hay Fever victims all over America.

Many who had Hay Fever every year for thirty years, have had no touch of the disease for several seasons. Their relief and comfort is due to the discovery of the basic cause of Hay Fever and Asthma by the celebrated Dr. W. J. Hoppe, who developed a treatment which has brought relief to thousands. There are now formularies of his discovery in every part of the country.

An important booklet on Dr. Hoppe's discovery of the true cause of Hay Fever and Asthma will be sent free by The Hoppe Co., Dept. 1078, 109 N. Meridian St., Indianapolis, Ind.

Every Hay Fever sufferer should write for this free booklet.

Of course you can tell the difference · they're FRESH!

What a world of difference there is between the mild, cool fragrance of Camels in the Humidor Pack and the unkindly hot smoke of an ordinary cigarette!

Your own throat will bear grateful witness to this.

If you have the slightest doubt about it, or about the importance of perfectly conditioned tobaccos in true smoking pleasure, just make this simple test:

First, inhale the smooth cool smoke of a factory-fresh Camel and note how throat-friendly it is; next, inhale the hot smoke of a parched dry cigarette and feel that scratch-and-sting on the membrane.

All the rare flavor and aroma of the fine Turkish and mild Domestic tobaccos of which Camels are blended is kept intact and prime for you by the Humidor Pack.

This scientific germ-safe wrapping—not plain ordinary Cellophane, but moisture-proof Cellophane which costs nearly twice as much—seals in all the natural freshness, seals it so tightly that wet weather cannot make Camels damp, nor drought weather make them dry.

Try Camels, just to see what a happy difference freshness makes in a cigarette.

Do your throat a favor, try them for just one day; then quit them—if you can.

Don't remove the moisture-proof Cellophane from your package of Camels after you open it. The Humidor Pack not only keeps your cigarettes safe from your wet bathing suit but also keeps the sand and dust out as well

'LEGS' DIAMOND IS GIVEN LIMIT, FOUR-YEAR TERM

Fined $11,000; Jones Law May Be Invoked.

New York, Aug. 12.—[Special.]—Legs Diamond, gang chieftain, who "beat the rap" in twenty-four cases out of twenty-five, drew four years in Atlanta penitentiary from Federal Judge Hopkins today. He was also fined $11,000, both fine and imprisonment being the maximum for the crime of conspiracy and the illegal operation of a still.

That was this all. Diamond's release under bail pending an appeal will leave the way open for his prosecution Sept. 15 by the state on the ten state indictments still pending against him in Greene county.

Moreover, Judge Hopkins from the bench advised that charges of violation of the Jones act be considered, and that Assistant District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey announced that the decision would be studied with a view to new indictments.

Stiff Penalty Provided.

If convicted of buying and selling contraband under the Jones act, Diamond would be liable to thirty or more years imprisonment. The state's charge of kidnaping, if proved, would entail a penalty of twenty years.

His first lieutenant, Paul Quattrocchi, a first offender, convicted only on the conspiracy charge, was sentenced to two years, the maximum prison term, and fined $5,000.

Diamond, whose knees trembled as he stood at the bar, and whose lips parted into something intended for a smile, winced as Judge Hopkins indicated that still further punishment was in store.

Judge Urges Action.

"The evidence taken in this case," said the court, "indicates a basis for charges of transportation and sale under the Jones act, for which the penalties are more severe than for offenses for which they have been tried. I feel it my duty to advise the district attorney that these matters be laid before the grand jury at the earliest possible moment."

Both men were admitted to bail pending appeal within ninety days. Diamond's bail was fixed at $15,000, Quattrocchi's at $7,500.

SOUTH CHICAGO FIRE SWEEPS THRE BUILDINGS

Three buildings and two box cars were partly burned early this morning by fire at the juncture of 92d street and Commercial and South Chicago avenues, one of the busiest centers of the south side. A 2-11 alarm was sounded.

The blaze originated supposedly from unused wires in the paint and oil paper shop of James Johnston at 332 South Chicago avenue, and spread to the roof of a barber shop at 324 South Chicago avenue, and the roof of the plumbing supply plant of H. Levy & Co. at 9360 Commercial avenue. The rear of the plumbing plant faces the rear of the paint shop. Sparks ignited two box cars on the New York Central right of way nearby.

No one was injured. Official estimate of the damage were not obtainable, but it was believed the loss would be well under $50,000. Traffic on the five thoroughfares affected was limited during the blaze.

ROBOT POLICEMAN TO DIRECT TRAFFIC ON SHERIDAN ROAD

A robot traffic policeman, the first to be used in Chicago, will be put into operation today at Melrose street and Sheridan road, one of the busiest intersections in the city, it was announced yesterday by Warren Wright, president of the Lincoln park board. The new signal light, which is controlled by the ebb and flow of traffic itself, will supplant the efforts of five policemen formerly required to keep order among an estimated 51,000 automobile, trucks and wagons that daily cross the intersection.

Traffic is congested here by a maze of intersecting or terminating streets, including Melrose street, Sheridan road, Lake Shore drive, the outer drive and Aldine street.

The new traffic device is controlled by plates set in the pavement that are affected by passing automobiles and cause the light to change in the direction of the heaviest traffic. When the traffic is equally heavy from two directions, the right of way is accorded one set of cars and changed at a time limit set when the signal is installed. The approach of a single car with no opposing traffic automatically gains the right of way.

The new light will be presented to President Wright by an official of the installing company at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Auto Plunges Into Creek; Four Occupants Drown

Toledo, O., Aug. 12.—(AP)—Four persons lost their lives here tonight when they were trapped inside a small sedan which plunged into Swan creek near the downtown district. A fifth occupant of the car was saved. The dead were identified as Joseph Keogh, 40, Mrs. Joseph Keogh, 23, Mrs. Tillie Schlagheck, 35, all of Toledo, and Julia Huber, 27, a visitor from Indiana.

CANNON LOSES FIGHT TO HALT FUNDS INQUIRY

Court Dismisses Petition of Bishop.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 12.—[Special.]—Another obstacle in the path of the senate campaign fund committee's investigation of the 1928 political activities of Bishop James Cannon Jr. was removed today when Justice Joseph W. Cox of the District Supreme court dismissed the bishop's petition to prohibit further inquiry into his political affairs.

BISHOP CANNON.

Justice Cox, in dismissing the Cannon petition, sustained the motion of Elisha Hanson, attorney for the congressional committee, contending that the court lacked jurisdiction. He declared that the committee should have a wide latitude in inquiries which might determine the need for further legislation.

The investigation was labeled a "persecution" of Bishop Cannon and a violation of his constitutional rights by lawyers for the bishop.

The committee is conducting an investigation into complaints of violations of the federal corrupt practices act in the 1928 campaign, under a resolution introduced by Senator Carter Glass [Dem., Va.]. Justice Cox commented that an outsider would find it difficult to determine the latitude needed in such an investigation since it might lead to a further inquiry much broader in scope.

Representative George H. Tinkham [Rep., Mass.] has specifically charged Bishop Cannon with violating the corrupt practices act in handling money sent him for use against Alfred E. Smith in the 1928 presidential campaign. Cannon received $62,500 from E. C. Johnson of New York for this purpose, and has thus far accounted for the disposition of only $17,000.

The senate lobby and the campaign fund committee have tried to discover from the bishop the details as to how he spent the remainder of the money, but have thus far been unsuccessful. Today's decision paves the way for further inquiry.

ROB COUPLE IN AUTO.

Two bandits held up John Rink, 1872 North Hoyne avenue, and Miss Helen Higie, 1101 North Marshfield avenue, early yesterday as they sat in Rink's automobile at North Hermitage avenue and Emily street and robbed the couple of $3 in cash, a $75 wrist watch, and a $60 diamond ring.

POLICE INVESTIGATE TORTURING OF BOY 'TO DRIVE OUT THE DEVIL'

Yonkers, N. Y., Aug. 12.—[Special.]—A religious cult which may have practiced exorcism through no less a "magical formula" than a hot instrument drawn across the back and shoulders of a 17 year old boy is under investigation by the local police.

The investigation was disclosed today when Carmello Zemo, 42 years old, and his wife, 78, were held for a hearing next Wednesday in City court on charges of disorderly conduct.

The screams of the boy, who told the police he was Joseph Martello of Jersey City, were heard by persons living near the Zemo home.

Two patrolmen were sent to the Zemo apartment. In the dim interior they found, it is said, a small altar, burning candles and other objects indicating that the quarters were those of a cult of religious fanatics.

The police are investigating a report that the boy was seared to "drive out the devil."

FATHER'S RUSE FREES KIDNAPED BANK CASHIER

Camp Point, Ill., Aug. 12.—[Special.]—Newton Pierce, father of Earl C. Pierce, cashier of the Farmers' State bank here, was polite when a gunman called at his farm home early today with the announced intention of kidnaping his son and robbing the bank. The elder Pierce told his visitor that he had to go right out and milk a cow.

Once outside the house he left the cow to her own devices and telephoned the sheriff, frustrating the robbery. The desperado, however, kidnaped Earl Pierce and carried him on a wild drive over Adams county roads before releasing him, unharmed.

Young Pierce, a bachelor, lives with his parents on their farm two and a half miles east of town.

The bandit had appeared as the family was sitting down to breakfast and obtained admittance by pleading a matter of urgent business with the son. Once inside, he drew a revolver and told Earl Pierce that he intended to take him to town and force him to open the bank vault. Earl replied that a time lock prevented opening it until business hours.

His father invited the bandit to sit down to breakfast and excused himself by reference to the cow. While he was notifying authorities the bandit became suspicious and forced the bank cashier to enter his automobile and leave the farm with him.

Newton Pierce, who had run across a corn field to a neighboring farm, had already notified the sheriff, and deputies were speeding toward the farm when the robber started his flight toward Macomb, taking his prisoner along. He dropped Earl Pierce near Bowen, twelve miles north of here.

The officers who pursued him lost the trail of the robber near Macomb. Before dropping the younger Pierce his captor told him, "I'll be back, but not soon."

AUTO UPSETS; WOMAN IS KILLED.

Peoria, Ill., Aug. 12.—(AP)—Mrs. Ula Smyth of Piper City, formerly of Eureka, was killed and her son, Ethel, suffered a fractured shoulder when their automobile overturned near Secor late yesterday.

A Carnival of Custom Color!

Presenting STUDEBAKER Splendor Cars

HERETOFORE you have had to pay extra for special color in a car. But now, in tune with the spirit of the times, Studebaker brilliantly illuminates the motoring scene with these gloriously distinctive Splendor Cars . . . America's first collection of custom colors in stock cars at standard prices!

This great Studebaker event is not merely the show of the year in itself . . . it dramatically shows how far Studebaker continues to stay ahead of conventional motor car practice. For, while other cars are only now coming to Free Wheeling—originated over a year ago by Studebaker—these Studebaker Splendor Cars give you Free Wheeling in addition to Free Color Schemes!

Here's the rich individuality of Royal Mulberry, Seal Brown or Totem Beige . . . with belt mouldings of Maroon, Beaver or Studio Gray . . . with fenders in harmony or contrast. Here are swagger wire wheels of Bronze, Gray or Cardinal . . . striped in Silver, Vermilion or Gold. And all without one penny extra premium!

You may have trouble keeping from indulging in a new car, once you see what Studebaker is offering in these Splendor Cars at standard prices. And yet, you would really save in the long run by buying one of these smart custom-color Studebakers now . . . because so much value was never obtainable for so little money in Studebaker history!

These Splendor Cars further offer you, at no extra cost, the same Free Wheeling with positive gear control that recently enabled three Studebakers, traveling on momentum much of the way, to traverse three separate routes from New York to Seattle—a total of 24,367 miles—at an average engine saving of 32%!

Just remember Free Wheeling is not the only thing you get free in these Studebakers. This is the first time the standard price of a Studebaker car or any other car would buy a costly custom-color job! Come in and get an eye full of conviction! See this carnival of color today!

Sixteen Other Cars Have Adopted

free wheeling

Sixteen other cars have adopted Free Wheeling and others are fast coming to it, but obviously Free Wheeling pioneered by Studebaker is Free Wheeling in its finest form . . . first, because it is under positive gear control . . . second, because it is built in as an integral part of the mechanism . . . and finally because this greatest of all motor car "extras" involves no extra cost to you.

"The newspaper is an institution developed by modern civilization to present the news of the day, to foster commerce and industry, to inform and mold public opinion, and to furnish that check upon government which no constitution has ever been able to provide."

WHERE THE SCHOOL MONEY WENT.

At the request of the governor's revenue commission the plans and specifications of one of the Chicago school buildings were estimated for reasonable cost by Holabird & Root, architects, and the Thompson-Starrett Construction company. The building was the Parker Junior High school. The cost, as it was built by the board of education, was $2,286,513. The architects and building constructors agree that above a liberal estimate there was $500,000 excess profit in the cost figure.

That was the political percentage in one school building. It was the take permitted in one instance, and if applied to one year's building program would be about three and a half million dollars. In the case of the Parker school nearly a fourth of the cost is accounted for by a political levy on the building fund.

It may be taken as fair evidence of the distribution and dispersion of school board funds under an administration which has come to its predestined end in unsatisfied pay rolls and a busted treasury. No tax system could withstand such a drain, and the Chicago system is where it could be looked for. Revenue has been divided among favorites and the funds have been spoiled.

A community may expect that public costs will be above the costs of private enterprise, owing to the inherent faults of political management, but that expectation may be indulged to the ruin of the public revenue. In the case of the Chicago board of education it has been.

The evidence given the governor's commission requires that the corporation counsel, Mr. Sexton, undertake a recovery of the abstracted money and that the state's attorney, Mr. Swanson, investigate the responsibility of the probable conspirators to criminal law.

GENTLEMEN FLYERS AND FLYERS.

The formation of the United States Amateur Air Pilots' association is made known in New York, and when the organizers have completed the work of refining and defining the categories the country will know who the amateur pilots are and what makes one and who the professionals are and why. Mr. John S. Reaves, head of the amateurs, says that it will be a difficult and often an individual question to distinguish between gentleman and flyer, but as a general principle the gentleman will have no pecuniary connection with the business and he will fly his own plane for pleasure.

Col. Lindbergh, it is announced, will be an amateur. When he was Slim Lindbergh and flew to Paris he was a professional, but the amateurs will take the broad view that he has since arisen above that. The philosophy of the amateur status in various enterprises recognizes that if there is a pecuniary element it will attract excellence. Money has a genius for finding and developing the best in any line of endeavor. It will ignore caste and social stratifications.

Many American patterns of gentility have English derivation, and it is a sound doctrine of the English that a gentleman should not do anything too well. He should be reticent, but more than that, he should not be brilliant in any performance, good but not too good. He should ride well but never as well as a jockey. He may play billiards, but should be no wizard. Whatever he does there should be the withheld quality, implying that perfection is undesirable. That permits lesser men to prove their inferiority by the excellence which is their superiority, and it gives dilettanteism an otherwise unattainable merit. It is placed above competition, which would destroy it.

These standards protect gentility from the law of gravitation. Even if the gentlemen flyers have hard work in getting off the ground they will have the most distinguished flights and they will be protected from the grueling competition to which the pecuniary rewards always subject their honest seekers.

RELIEF FOR OUR OWN.

While the mayor and heads of our local relief organizations are conferring upon plans for the coming relief measures we suggest that one of the most important problems for them to solve is that of insuring that our resources shall be applied to the relief of needy members of our own community rather than of outsiders. The publicity necessarily given to our relief plans will encourage an influx of drifters into Chicago. In fact, there are many communities which deliberately follow a policy of shunting responsibilities in this way. The seasonal workers, for example, which are so essential to harvesting are returned to the cities where there is no work for them and generally the cities bear the brunt of the problem of subsistence for the mass of the unemployed. Our first duty is to see to it that the needy of our own permanent community are taken care of before relief is extended to people who have no part in it until they are in need of help.

The first requirement is a survey of our own situation. Local agencies, the police and charitable organizations, with perhaps the help of employers, renting and real estate men and the banks, should be able to make a census of the city's needy to be used by our relief agencies in the application of our funds.

BISHOP CANNON AND SENATOR NYE.

Bishop James Cannon Jr., before sailing for Europe, applied in vain to the District Supreme court in Washington for a writ to restrain Senator Nye and his committee from continuing the investigation into his political use of money from funds for which he refuses to give the senators an accounting under the corrupt practices act. His attorney charged that the senators were usurping the functions of the judiciary and infringing on the duties of the grand jury. The senators were represented in court to ask for a dismissal of the plea on the ground that the court was without jurisdiction to restrain the committee. The court refused the writ.

In and outside the law this issue is complicated. Bishop Cannon seeks to represent in politics a transcendental virtue and uncompromising moral force. He is not supposed, as are lesser men with fleshly ambitions and desires, to need a refuge from incriminations and from implications. The clerical skirts, if they are what their wearer says they are, can come through even the appearance of evil and they need only the full light to be seen immaculate. Such are the bishop's pretensions and upon them he seeks his place and influence in politics. He is therefore probably the last man in politics morally entitled to the safeguards of legalism when he is questioned regarding his use of funds contributed to him for political use. His rôle is necessarily one of welcome to any inquiry from any source when it relates to his actions as a politician. His influence is one of clerical virtue and his pretensions in the public field require open books.

Senator Nye and his associates on the investigating committee have widened the field of legislative inquiry until it is next to impossible to determine when they are acting as private detectives, partisan politicians, department of justice investigators, judges in a court of final decision, grand or petty jurors, legislators or Fascist night riders. They have expanded the privileges of the United States senate until it appears that it will require some redefinitions of congressional authority if the senate is not to become an autocratic body of unlimited power whenever it cares to become one for any purpose.

The committee has interfered in elections, operated as a secret police, prowled in private affairs, set up its own quasi-criminal court system, exposed the private papers of persons, endeavored to defeat or elect candidates according to its partisan bent, and has gone roughshod out of its constitutional authority over the rights of private citizens and into the political sovereignty of the states. Like Bishop Cannon, the committee professes a higher political morality and it uses that as sanction for its wantonness.

It has become important that this committee should be shown its place and put in it to remain there, confined by the limitations upon legislative authority. Otherwise, successive and successful usurpations of privilege and power will make any congressional committee a judicial and administrative autocrat any time it cares to assert itself. Bishop Cannon, who, considering his pretensions, should not object to satisfying any inquiry as to his use of political funds down to the smallest item of an expense account, challenges the right of the committee to act as a grand jury and prosecutor in his case.

The country is entitled to have the answer to the questions which Representative Tinkham asks of the bishop, but from his unjustified refusal to answer frankly there may come a final clearing up of the authority upon which the Nye committee undertakes its inquisitions. There is a plague in both sides of the controversy.

Editorial of the Day

FOR EQUABLE FLOWING RIVER.

[The Aurora Beacon-News.]

The Fox River Valley federation which was formed to promote the welfare of the people of this area has accomplished much good since its organization, but no single endeavor has arrested the public attention like the one resulting in a decision of the authorities to provide for an equable flow of the river. This means better health conditions all along the stream and enhanced industrial advantages. It means also increased values of property and a prettier stream. Benefits are so widening they remind of the circles that appear on the pond after the stone has been thrown in.

Entirely natural it is that the river should be low at this time of the year, "the dog days." But allowed to flow normally it would be at least as high here as at places many miles north near its source. It is elemental that a stream grows in volume as it approaches its mouth. On the way it is fed by many smaller streams and creeks.

Dams are numerous in the Fox and they are so used they often hold back more waters at given points than is good for the river area as a whole. The dam at McHenry near the head of the stream comes in for most criticism. Above that barrier the river is deeper and wider than at points below. The thought of people down stream is that the waters are held back to provide a lake for summer resort folk who live in the McHenry vicinity.

There is no objection to water being impounded there or at other points if this does not cause a shortage at other places. But there is strenuous objection when so much is held back the river below becomes dry. That is dangerous to health. It cannot be tolerated.

By getting agreement out of the federal and state officials to require an equable flow, the federation has taken a first important step to have the will and the rights of people enforced. Its enterprise and vigor justify a feeling that it will go forward with other endeavors for the common good. Certainly its program for cooperative development of valley resources and attractions makes appeal.

VACCINATION AGAINST HAY FEVER.

DR. W. T. VAUGHAN has proved that the proper way to desensitize hay fever subjects is to treat them twice a month, or once a month in some cases, all the year round and for a series of years. Most physicians crowd the vaccination injections during a short space of time just before the hay fever season. Some physicians continue giving them after the attack comes on. All of these do not give injections during the remainder of the year. The plan is good as far as it goes, but it does not go far enough.

He makes a report on twenty or twenty-one hay fever sufferers who have been under observation for about four years. As a group they are over ninety per cent relieved of their symptoms. One, who was sensitive to feathers as well as pollen, appeared to be free from subjection to the latter but still had trouble from the former.

She had an attack of asthma in the late afternoon in spite of the fact that she had exchanged her feather pillow for one made from kapok. Upon investigation it was found that she had a lot of chickens and she spent most of her day in the chicken yard. When she came in at night she was pretty well fed up on feathers. This case caused Vaughan to lose some faith in his treatment, but his confidence was restored when he learned of the exposures of the chicken yard.

The advantage of year round treatment over that which is given just prior to the hay fever season is that it gives a larger percentage of cures and a more complete escape from symptoms. It increases the possibility of a permanent cure; that the sufferer may finally be able to quit treatment, stay where he is, and escape not only hay fever but ordinary bronchial asthma.

Another advantage is that it makes preventive treatment somewhat less hectic. If the treatment is being pressed there is more danger of overdoing the thing; more danger of uncomfortable reactions. The man under crowded treatment is put to considerable inconvenience. The doctor's office is crowded for several weeks and not fully occupied at other times. A man can better adjust his routine if he takes one or two treatments every month in the year.

IT'S IN THE TRAINING.

L. V. L. writes: From time to time you have insisted in your column that worry is merely a state of mind. Of course it is. Everything is just fine. But will you please tell us how can the ordinary guy adopt the don't-give-a-darn, everything-is-going-to-be-all-right attitude? Quite a few of us have borrowed money beyond the limit, haven't been smart enough to dodge bank failures, are behind with the rent and everything else, and are trying to figure out how or what we will eat tomorrow. But, as you say, "there's nothing to worry about, get a good night's sleep," etc.

REPLY.

I have written many pages on the subject you ask about. But I presume it will have to be covered many more times. Overcoming the worry habit is a matter of training. There is no magic about it. It differs from the rabbit-out-of-the-hat procedure. Neither wishful thinking nor a Pollyanna attitude will cure the worry habit.

So many people are looking for a short cut in this, as in the use of drugs and, for that matter, in getting rich. As a rule, such people are unwilling to earn their way out of bad habits or anything else.

HOT NIGHT RELIEF.

Mrs. H. D. H. writes: Please pass this discovery on to others during the hot spell.

To relieve suffering from heat, partially fill a hot water bottle with ice or cold water. Place bottle at back of neck, or rest arms on bottle.

A hot, suffocating night can be made endurable this way. This gives a wonderful relief on a train trip.

An ice bag would serve the same purpose, but many people can but a cheap hot water bag who can't afford an ice bag.

POLICE POWERS.

Chicago, Aug. 4.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—What powers have park police forces in Cook county? I understand bill No. 87, just passed by the senate, gives the park police in Cook county the power of deputy sheriffs. J. B.

They have general power to maintain order in the parks. A complete answer to your question would be of undue length. If you will state the facts on which your question arises, we will endeavor to advise you. TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

BELIEVES IN PRACTICING.

Chicago, Aug. 4.—[Friend of the People.]—There is a young man who lives across the street who plays or, rather, tries to play the violin. He keeps this up from early morn until late at night. I would like to know if we could have this stopped. This is annoying to every one in the neighborhood. Every Tuesday he has an orchestra practice and they play until about 10 o'clock or later.

R. R.

An officer interviewed the young man complained of and found that he is taking violin lessons, and has to practice two hours a day at his home. He also stated that the band practice formerly held in his home has been stopped. This young man does not believe that he is violating any ordinance as he only practices between the hours of 9 a. m. and 6 p. m. He was informed to be as quiet as possible, which he promised to do. Complainant was told that if he persisted in making unnecessary noises to go to the Town Hall court and procure a warrant for his arrest. JOHN H. ALCOCK,
Acting Commissioner of Police.

YOU CAN SUE.

Chicago, Aug. 3.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—In 1927 my son sold me a bond which he said was a first mortgage, and promised to repurchase it from me within four years. The bond has been declared defaulted. Furthermore, I have found that the bond is a junior mortgage and not a first mortgage as he told me. Can I sue [1] to collect on his promise to repurchase it from me? Or [2] as a misrepresentation or fraud due to the fact that it is not a first mortgage bond? P. E. J.

1. Yes.
2. Criminal proceedings would not be warranted on the bare facts that you suggest. The theory suggested under No. 1 would be preferable.

INTERLUDE.

I love these peaceful moments
When fevered fret decomps,
Between the gray of sunset,
And the lighting of the lamps.

Then city streets seem wilder,
And walls of shadow fill
Depopulated cañons
Where garish life grows still.

One feels the aching pavements,
Free from the crowds they bore,
Stretch out their limbs in rapture,
A respite . . . and no more.

A little salvaged beauty
Between Time's rips and tears,
A gesture of forgetting
Tomorrow comes . . . who cares?

So welcome, little moments,
Like carefree, weary tramps,
Between the gray of sunset
And the lighting of the lamps.

ALBERT HANSON.

BY VIRTUE OF INJUNCTION, greyhounds will continue to pursue the mechanical rabbit to the profit or loss of pari-mutuel bettors at Cook county dog tracks. It often is difficult for the lay mind to understand any differentiation in ethics between wagers on horses or on dogs. We hold our own opinion that there is, but it's too long a story to tell. Furthermore, we never have been able to make our arguments stand up against a determined negative "arguer" except on the ground of public policy.

INSPIRATION.

A bard once wrote a ballad of his southern home and mammy,
He was born in New York City but he longed for Alabamy.
In time came a fulfillment of his wish "No more to roam,"
And he spent a long vacation in an humble cabin home.

He was filled with inspiration and his heart within him dread
After sleeping on pine needles in a hard and sticky bed,
And his longing was quite real after nine days of salt pork,
For he wrote another ballad of "The Hot Dogs of New York."

THE THING THAT'S SLOWING THE COUNTRY UP MORE THAN ANYTHING ELSE

FROM THE TRIBUNE'S COLUMNS

16 YEARS AGO TODAY

AUGUST 13, 1915.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The administration's policy toward Mexico was considerably clarified by Secretary of State Lansing today, notwithstanding alarming reports from the border and the interior. The United States, he said, intended to go ahead with the program outlined at the peace conference in New York without regard to the demonstrations along the border or the proclamations, pronunciamentos, and ultimatums issued by Carranza or any other factional leader. The first step in the new peace program will be the issuing of the warning to all factions to get together. This warning will not be in the nature of an ultimatum. The warning not only will be signed by President Wilson but also by the Latin-American diplomats, who conferred with Secretary Lansing.

CHICAGO.—Providence permitting, the Eastland will be raised today. Preparations to right the overturned boat were completed last night. A large net has been stretched across the river at Wells street to catch any bodies which may be carried downstream by the current when the ship is raised.

LONDON.—The French forces in the Argonne forest, by violent counter attacks, have retaken part of the trenches lost to the Germans in hand to hand fighting, in which grenades and asphyxiating gases were used by the kaiser's men. The trenches regained are to the east of the road from Vienne-le-Château to Binarville.

30 YEARS AGO TODAY

AUGUST 13, 1901.

PITTSBURGH.—The first full working day since the general strike order issued to the steel men by President Shaffer of the Amalgamated association became effective closed with the big steel corporation claiming victory. Its display of strength today was greater than expected. The strike leaders insist, however, that their progress is satisfactory and that they have some surprise to spring. It is estimated that 14,000 men quit work as a result of the latest order. This, with the 45,000 already out, makes a total of 59,000 on strike.

POTSDAM. — King Edward and Queen Alexandra arrived here and were met at the station by Emperor William, the empress, and their eldest three sons. Prince and Princess Henry of Prussia have also arrived. Only the royal mourners will enter the mausoleum today, and every road and street leading to Sans Souci park will be closed. The funeral train carrying the body of Dowager Empress Frederick started for Potsdam at 9:50 p. m.

BOSTON.—Fifty minutes afloat on a steamer rapidly sinking was the experience of 236 passengers on the Halifax. After the race with the water, which was gaining all the time, the vessel was beached, but slid back into the water, being practically submerged before the last person aboard was taken off.

50 YEARS AGO TODAY

AUGUST 13, 1881.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Dr. D. W. Bliss was absent from the White House tonight for the first time since President Garfield was shot. Dr. Bliss is ill, having been slightly poisoned by a cut from one of the knives used in the last operation on the President. His finger is in a high state of inflammation.

NEW YORK.—The Union Square Theater company will leave this city for Chicago on August 18 and 19. It includes Sara Jewett, Ida Vernon, Maud Harrison, Eleanor Carey, Mrs. E. J. Phillips, Netta Guyon, Mrs. W. Thorpe, C. R. Thorne Jr., John Parselle, J. H. Stoddard, F. De Belleville, and Waldon Ramsey. They will begin their season on Aug. 22 in "Daniel Rochat," which will be followed by "The Geneva Cross," "Felicia," and "Rose Michel."

PARIS. — Edison's representative here obtained from the courts an injunction restraining Hiram S. Maxim of the United States Electric Lighting company from exhibiting his light in France on the ground that the light used by Maxim is substantially the same as Edison's.

LONDON.—Mr. Gladstone's health is reported as not good.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Writers should confine themselves to 200 or 300 words. Give full names and addresses. No manuscripts can be returned. Address Voice of the People, The Tribune.

NO BEER.

Chicago, Aug. 7.—Under your heading "Editorial of the Day" you published on Tuesday, July 28, an editorial comment credited to the Evening Sun of Baltimore entitled "Facts Overlooked." This editorial contains serious misrepresentation of a discussion issued by the American Business Men's Prohibition Foundation, quoting the opinions of prominent economists and college presidents on the recent statement of Augustus Busch, widely printed under the title of an "Open Letter to the American People" and asserting that legalizing beer would relieve unemployment and restore prosperity.

The foundation's treatment of the 4 per cent beer claims was in no wise intended as an exhaustive survey. It simply made public, without change or modification, the views of twenty-one—not eleven, as the editorial comment you publish has it—economists and college presidents, all of them men in official position in representative colleges and universities throughout the United States. The truth or falsity of what these twenty-one educators say is really the only question at issue, irrespective of what degrees they possess or to what religious or other organizations they may belong.

The editorial you reproduce claims that a total of $235,058,400, "enough," so it asserts, "to make up for the loss of war debts," could be levied upon relegalized beer production, but this claim entirely overlooks the fact that, even if collectible, this sum, superficially contributed by the beer traffic, would in reality come directly from the pockets of the people, who would at the same time, as in pre-prohibition days, pay the brewers and their retailers approximately $10 for every dollar the government would receive. The editorial in question completely ignores the disastrously competitive effect upon legitimate business which would at once be produced by the relegalizing of 200,000 wide open, law protected, beer selling saloons. To sponsor such a means of meeting the nation's financial needs clearly evidences shallow thinking and shortsighted economy. The salutary effects of prohibition, wherever it has been efficiently administered, point the way to the permanent establishment of this policy throughout America. In our opinion if all good citizens will but unite to rid the land of its Capones and drive from office every grafting politician the tremendously constructive benefits of the eighteenth amendment would be speedily manifest to all.

F. D. L. SQUIRES,
American Business Men's Prohibition Foundation.

TRY AGAIN.

Lacota, Mich., July 31.—THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE had better do a little advertising at home, as the postoffice department has trouble to locate your office. About two weeks ago I sent a check in payment for some papers and today the letter was returned from the dead letter office marked "Unknown."

C. M. WARD.

WE'RE LEAVING THE SHIP, SI.

Garryowen, Ia., Aug. 4.—There is a great difference between wisdom and wise-cracking. A friend of mine remarked the other day: "When two men disagree, some third man is right," and the McCaffery-MacCartie difference of opinion—Solway Firth versus Westminster—we have two men superlatively right and supremely wrong. If Barry was a mere bushwhacker, John Paul Jones was a maritime drygulcher, very patriotic and very militant, with the Irishmen and Norwegians of his command supplying the thews of militant activity while wealthy Nordic-minded American Tories migrated to Canada in ease and comfort. A. P. MULCAHY.

JONES, BARRY, AND MacCARTIE.

Decatur, Ill., Aug. 7.—I notice in today's TRIBUNE that MacCartie is back again. I wrote you on July 4 stating what I thought of MacCartie and his criticism of Commodore Barry, which up to the present you have not published. This leads me to think that you and MacCartie are identical.

Here is what I said regarding MacCartie: "MacCartie (the spelling of the name indicates nondescript or hybrid) does not know who Commodore Barry was. Well, Mac, Commodore Barry was the founder of the American navy. Keep on asking questions and you may qualify as a half wit and still contribute funny things to the Voice of the People, Mac, you are going de mal en pis, but what else could be expected? De nihilo nihil."

MacCartie and all his type are those who try to glorify John Paul Jones etc. at the expense of Commodore Barry and other distinguished Irishmen and Irish-Americans. With all due respect and appreciation for the achievements of John Paul Jones, but just as Washington is called the Father of his Country so from all historical records is Commodore Barry entitled to be known as Father of the American Navy.

J. J. MALONEY.

APPRECIATION.

Chicago, Aug. 7.—Last Sunday afternoon my husband was hit by an automobile on Central near Belden avenue. A very kind Samaritan had the presence of mind and the courage to back up his car and drive him into the seat of his car and quickly drive him to the Keystone hospital for first aid. My husband and I are very regretful we do not know the name of this kind gentleman. We hope he will see these few lines and know we are very grateful. MRS. CORNELIA M. RYAN.

AMERICAN DEFENSE.

Chicago, July 27.—I certainly liked your editorial in Sunday's paper regarding national defense, English expenditures, etc. I cut it from the paper I bought at the corner and in September will put it in our large envelope of clippings on patriotism. Would it be possible to have a reprint of this with border of red, white and blue suitable for bulletin boards in high schools? I teach in southern Illinois and spend many vacations in Chicago.

$6,500,000 ROAD WORK IS HELD UP UNTIL NEXT YEAR

Wage Act Appeal Board Meets and Adjourns.

BY HAL FOUST.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 12.—[Special.]—Construction on $6,500,000 of road work was postponed today until next year. The announcement came from Director Cleaveland of the department of public works this afternoon after the appeal board created by the "prevailing wage act" adjourned its initial session. Next February was set as the date for the first hearing of protests against the wage rates fixed by the state in its advertisements for bids on $11,000,000 worth of highway contracts which were to have been awarded this month.

The protests brought by union labor officials do not involve $4,500,000 of contracts in Cook, Du Page, and Lake counties where union wages have been paid for paving for several years and where the state followed the same scale in its advertisements. These contracts will be awarded and probably commenced this fall, according to Mr. Cleaveland, unless some unexpected protests are filed before the date of letting, Aug. 18 and Aug. 25.

Appointments Attacked.

The appeal board, consisting of Roger C. Ottens of West Chicago, Ira Wanzo of Rockford, and H. W. Robison of Peoria, had barely convened when the Illinois highway and municipal contractors' association issued a statement to the press that it had employed attorneys to attack the legality of Gov. Emmerson's appointments. This move was seen as a further delay to construction.

The "prevailing wage act," passed by the recent general assembly, provides that contractors on public construction shall pay wages not lower than the scale prevailing in the vicinity of the job; that this minimum rate shall be ascertained and specified in the advertisements for bids, and that any ten taxpayers can protest against the state's figures. The protests, under the statute, are to be heard by a board of three to be appointed by the governor from lists submitted by organized labor, by the contractors, and by the department of public works.

Name Carpenters' Head.

Ottens, who is state president of the carpenters' union, was on the organized labor list of recommendations. Wanzo, a manufacturer and banker, was recommended by Director Cleaveland. Hartman, a Peoria contractor and former state highway employé, was also a Cleaveland choice and was not on a list submitted by the Illinois highway and municipal contractors association.

The association charges that the state administration has stacked the cards against organized labor with a two to one representation on the appeal board. In reply, Hartman said that the contractors' association represents only thirty per cent of the contractors working on Illinois roads and that it is controlled by Allen Parrish of Dixon who has attempted to harass State Highway Engineer Sheets since Parrish, during the Small régime, was involved in a scandal over a contract for brick paving.

Soderstrom Makes Charges.

E. G. Soderstrom, president of the Illinois Federation of Labor, who is a leader in the wage protest, also opened fire on the state, charging that its delay in construction was building up the road fund lying idle in the state treasury so that there will be $50,000,000 to spend next spring at the beginning of the gubernatorial campaign.

Notwithstanding the fact that there was no hearing before the board, both sides of the wage controversy exposed their hands in interviews with newspaper men.

"We're trying to raise the wage scale to the scale two years ago, before the depression started," said Soderstrom. "That was the intent of the legislature."

Funds Decide Programs.

"The amount of construction the state can do," said Cleaveland, "is determined by the amount of money available. If wages are given this artificial boost through legislation the extra cost will limit the amount of construction and reduce the number of men employed. The state will buy less material, which will throw more men out of work in cement plants, sand and gravel pits, and on railroads hauling the material."

ORDERS COUNTY COPS TO QUIT PICNIC TICKET SALE ON HIGHWAYS

Orders went out to county highway policemen yesterday to halt the sale to motorists on the highways of tickets to Sheriff Meyering's annual picnic. The command came from Highway Chief William F. Collins after many complaints that the policemen were using their uniforms and powers of the sheriff's office to make sales of the tickets to raise funds for the Sheriff's Office Welfare association.

Sheriff Meyering himself was out of town yesterday and could not be reached.

Chief Collins declared that the orders issued yesterday were duplicates of those which were given out as the 15,000 tickets to be sold at $1 each were distributed among the policemen. The sales orders were that only friends of the men should be approached. Reports were that a virtual shakedown was being operated along the highways with motorists buying tickets under threat of arrest on speeding charges. Chief Collins promised to investigate the charges.

STATE ATTACKS ORAL WILL; SEEKS $18,000 ESTATE

Bequests of an aged man to two girls and their father who befriended him and took him into their home eight years before his death were attacked yesterday by Assistant State's Attorney Edgar B. Elder, who held that the $18,000 estate should go to the state because there was no valid will and no known legal heirs.

The estate is that of Bernard Hof, who died on June 9 after making an oral will shortly before his death from a heart attack. He gave $3,500 each to Grace and Viola Kleinschmidt, 16 and 17 years old, and directed that the residue of his estate be given their father, William R. Kleinschmidt, 1426 North Kildare avenue, superintendent of a storage warehouse. They had taken Hof into their home immediately after the death of his wife.

The case was before Oscar Caplan, assistant to Probate Judge Henry Horner, who continued the hearing to next Tuesday.

CONGRESS TO GET HOOVER PLAN ON MUSCLE SHOALS

Seeks to Beat Norris Bill; Bids Are Asked.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 12.—[Special.]—The Muscle Shoals problem will be presented to congress from a new angle this winter if expectations of the Muscle Shoals commission appointed by President Hoover last spring are realized. This group announced today that it hopes to have an acceptable offer for leasing and operating the property for agricultural purposes ready for submission to congress when it convenes. The commission expects that an offer will be made by agricultural interests.

Information at the White House is that President Hoover hopes to forestall adoption of the Norris government ownership bill this winter by submitting an offer more attractive to farming interests.

136 Bids Asked.

Col. Joseph I. McMullen of the judge advocate general's department of the army, a member of the commission, announced today that invitations had been sent out yesterday to 136 concerns for bids returnable here on Sept. 1. These suggest propositions "for the leasing and operation of the Muscle Shoals project, to be operated in the interest of fertilizer production and of agriculture together with any proposals that any concern desires to make with regard to projects on river above Muscle Shoals including Cove creek, and equalizing dam below Muscle Shoals."

Offers Are Limited.

That this action would be taken was announced last week from the commission's office in Alabama, but Col. McMullen disclosed today that hopes for an acceptable offer are limited principally to two possible sources. One might be received, he said, from farm organization interests centering around the American Farm Bureau federation. The other might be submitted by a syndicate representing some cooperative organization for the farmers.

The letters inviting offers were sent to the National Grange and the Farmers' Educational Cooperative Union of America, as well as the American Farm Bureau federation. Industrial concerns to whom the letters were sent included the Allied Chemical and Dye company, the Ford Motor company, and the American Cyanamid company.

LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE: Her Every Move Is Known

CAL GRINS, AND THAT IS ALL, OF VIEWS ON BEER

Ex-President Quizzed in Crowd.

New York, Aug. 12.—[Special.]—Train 21 of the New Haven railroad rumbled into the Grand Central station at 8:25 o'clock last night with what seemed like more than a little hauteur, particularly considering its nickname, "The Puritan."

Having come to a haughty stop on track 28, it delivered in due season to that platform a slim, straight, alert, shrewd eyed gentleman who passed deliberately, yet with swift certainty, through a milling crowd not one of whom appeared to mark him for what he was.

CALVIN COOLIDGE.

And yet the gentleman was President of the United States not so long ago. The gentleman's name, is Calvin Coolidge.

Reporter Was on Job.

A reporter accustomed to spot ex-Presidents in the midst of the common people inserted himself into the crowd and edged alongside the ex-President. The news man, coming squarely alongside, spoke distinctly:

"Mr. Coolidge, a moment, if you please!"

Mr. Coolidge, forging straight onward, eyes straight front, replied without the slightest change of expression:

"Nothing whatever to say!"

"But, if you please, Mr. Coolidge, there is a report going about that you are about to declare yourself——"

"Nothing to say!"

"—To declare yourself in favor——"

"Not a word!"

"—Four per cent beer!"

"Nothing!"

"All right, Mr. Coolidge, that ends it!"

Anyhow, He Grins.

The ex-President, without pausing in his stride, turned his lean visage just a trifle toward the right and favored the reporter with a grin.

Entering a taxicab the ex-President went through the drizzle to the Hotel Vanderbilt. At noon he attended the monthly meeting of the board of directors of the New York Life Insurance company.

He seemed to be in first rate health and as spry as, if not actually spryer than, when he was so coolly holding down the job that Mr. Hoover is now sitting upon.

BARONESS, A FORMER OPERA SINGER, DIES AT HOME OF DAUGHTER

San Antonio, Tex., Aug. 12.—[Special.]—Baroness Kraft von Crailsheim, 79, former opera singer, died today. Her marriage in Cincinnati, O., to a member of the old Prussian nobility terminated her professional stage career. Baron Kraft von Crailsheim, who was decorated by Bismarck for valor in the battle of Sedan, died a year ago. The baroness, who died at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Fred Howk, will be buried here Thursday.

As Angelica Mofercorn she made her debut in Berlin after study in conservatories at Leipsig and Munich. She was a pupil of Lizst and a classmate of Mme. Ernestine Schumann-Heink, who sang in the chorus in that Berlin appearance. Angelica Mofercorn came to America over thirty years ago.

Before moving to San Antonio twenty years ago she and the baron resided at Fort Smith, Ark.

ASK REHEARING ON APPEAL OF RALPH CAPONE

Attorneys for Rolph Capone yesterday filed in the United States Circuit Court of Appeals a petition for a rehearing of Capone's appeal from his conviction and sentence for income tax evasion. The petition stated that insufficient time had been allowed for arguments before the Appellate court, setting forth that Capone's trial had lasted three weeks, whereas the entire argument before the Court of Appeals had not lasted longer than an hour and a half.

The Appellate court affirmed the conviction of Capone for income tax evasion on which he was sentenced to three years in the penitentiary by Federal Judge Wilkerson. The government was allowed 10 days to answer the petition for a rehearing.

Hunt Police Dog After Eight Children Are Bitten

Police yesterday were searching for a police dog which bit eight children Tuesday evening. None of those bitten is in a serious condition but all were given serum to prevent rabies. The dog, owned by Charles Bauman, 1925 South Ridgeway avenue, leaped on the children, who were playing in the neighborhood.

HUNT YOUTHFUL VANDALS.

Police yesterday were searching for two young vandals who hurled bricks through the window of a candy shop at 1742 West Division street. Stanley Kizysek, owner of the shop, was awakened by the crash of glass and fired several shots at the youths as they fled in an automobile.

IT'S GOVERNOR'S DAY FOR GUARDS AT CAMP GRANT

Review of Illinois Troops Today.

Rockford, Ill., Aug. 12.—[Special.]—Returning from the field after an all day sham battle, 7,500 weary troops, members of the Thirty-third division, Illinois National Guard, in training at Camp Grant near here, were tonight polishing up their equipment in preparation for the annual Governor's day review tomorrow.

With Gov. Louis L. Emmerson, Maj. Gen. Frank Parker, commander of the Sixth corps area; Maj. Gen. Roy D. Keehn, 33d division commander, and a score of noted visitors in the reviewing stand, the entire division will pass in review tomorrow at 11 a. m.

GEN. FRANK PARKER.

A dozen planes of the 108th observation squadron under command of Maj. Merrill D. Mann, and army tanks will contribute to the spectacle.

The program for the day includes a demonstration of gas warfare at 2:30 p. m. and the divisional championship boxing and wrestling bouts in the evening.

Governor's day also will be marked by the luncheon for Gov. Emmerson at divisional headquarters mess, and the governor's dinner in the evening.

ORDERS HEARING FOR HUSBAND IN KIDNAPING CASE

County Judge Edmund K. Jarecki yesterday ordered a hearing this morning for Hugo Smith, an invalid whose wife, Mrs. Alice K. Smith, 2000 Lincoln Park West, had been accused of kidnaping him. The order was entered after Attorney Robert E. Kinnare appeared before the court and charged that Mrs. Smith was attempting to prevent her husband from removing her as conservatrix of his $50,000 estate. Smith was taken to the psychopathic hospital by his wife on Monday.

Attorney Kinnare said Smith was seriously ill from the effect of a paralytic stroke, but that his mentality was not impaired.

Superior Judge James J. Kelly last Friday issued a writ of habeas corpus for Smith, after the latter's attorney had charged that his client had been kidnaped from his home at 3732 Pine Grove avenue. The writ named Mrs. Smith, and John Dempsey, her business associate.

Al G. Barnes, Thought Wealthy, Leaves $5,000

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 12.—(AP)—Reputedly wealthy, Al G. Barnes Stonehouse of circus fame, who died July 25 at Indio, Cal., left an "apparent" estate of but $5,000, a petition for letters of administration filed today showed. Barnes, whose real name was Stonehouse, sold his circus holdings a few years ago for an amount reported in excess of $1,000,000. He had been involved in much civil litigation, part of which involved former wives, Mrs. Dollie Barlow Stonehouse and Mrs. Jane Hartigan Stonehouse.

O'DONNELL FREED OF ASSAULT; HE PONDERS MOVIES

Edward [Spike] O'Donnell, bullet dodging beer boss of the far south side, had his periodical brush with the law in the Felony court yesterday and emerged free to pursue his negotiations with English movie directors for a contract to portray the rôle of Robin Hood. "Spike" was arraigned before Judge John J. Rooney on a charge of assault to kill Policeman John J. O'Connor on June 26, but since the gangster claimed to know nothing about the incident, the court was obliged to question him on other matters, particularly upon matters regarding his future plans.

"I see by the newspapers that you may be leaving us soon," the court suggested. "For the English movies?"

"I haven't decided yet," O'Donnell replied. "I got a lot of letters and cables about it, but I don't know. We're negotiating. They want me to do a take off on some guy by the name of Robin Hood."

O'Donnell was arrested on June 26 while walking near his home at 8145 Honore street. It seems that he was out looking for somebody who had tried to machine gun him and ran into a detective squad which was searching for the person who had shot Policeman O'Connor a few minutes earlier in O'Donnell's neighborhood.

AUTO ACCIDENTS FATAL TO THREE; TOLL IS NOW 695

Three automobile fatalities in Cook county yesterday raised the year's toll to 695. The victims:

John Todgorgec, 43 years old, 1610 South Ashland avenue, a baker. Died at the county hospital. He was struck by an automobile Tuesday when he walked behind a street car at 22d street and Ashland avenue. William Sigiel, 1428 West Superior street, the driver, was held.

Theodore Mitzeht, 66 years old, 2441 Sunnyside avenue, died last night in the People's hospital of injuries he suffered Aug. 5 when he was struck at 22d and Jefferson streets by an automobile driven by Stanley Pazelczyk, 32, of 1025 West 20th street.

Loney Johnson, 5 years old, colored, 427 Oakwood boulevard. Died in the Dailey hospital of injuries received when he was struck by an automobile driven by Michael Belmont, 29 years old, 903 Cypress street, at Oakwood boulevard and Vincennes avenue. The driver was held.

Unidentified woman, about 45 years old. Killed late last night on route 5, about one mile east of Bartlett. Walter Meyer, 30 years old, of 563 Enterprise street, Elgin, was the driver of the car. He was not held.

JUDGE DISPOSES OF 17 CASES IN 2 HOURS; GIVES 11 SENTENCES

Judge Joseph B. David yesterday concluded his summer session in the Criminal court by disposing of 17 cases in 2 hours. Acting with characteristic rapidity on the suggestion of Assistant State's Attorney George Lavin in his attempt to relieve the crowded condition in the county jail, the judge sentenced one defendant to Joliet, one to Pontiac, and nine to the House of Correction. One defendant was found not guilty, sixteen cases were continued, and one case was stricken with leave to reinstate. The latter was the case of Frank Richards, 52 years old, a war veteran, charged with attempted blackmail of a druggist who refused to give him narcotics without a prescription.

Informed that the Edward Hines Jr. hospital would accept Richards for treatment, Judge David ordered the case stricken and told Richards that it would not be reinstated if he behaved himself in the future. The 33 indictments on Judge David's call yesterday were returned by the grand jury eight days ago. All the defendants had agreed to plead guilty or waive jury trials.

FINED AND JAILED FOR TIP ON BOGUS GANG MURDERS

A letter to Chief of Detectives John Norton, telling the chief how to clear up gang murders that never happened, yesterday cost the writer, Charles Fresnel, 554 Central street, Wilmette, $50.

Not having the $50 for a fine which Judge Francis Borrelli imposed when he was tried for disorderly conduct in the South State street court, Fresnel must work it out in the House of Correction.

Fresnel for some months had been writing letters to Mrs. Ina Underwood, a divorcee, 28 years old, but she ignored them. Then he addressed an anonymous note to Chief Norton, telling him if he raided a house at 3358 West End avenue he would prevent at least one murder and solve a lot of crimes, including several killings. Chief Norton took the letter writer seriously.

Three police squads surrounded the house and captured the divorcee. At the detective bureau she convinced Chief Norton she was not a gang queen. Told of the letter, she advised him to get Fresnel, who was, she explained, romantic and an inventor. He's been trying to marry her for some time now, she said.

Fresnel later was taken into custody by the police. He said Mrs. Underwood had jilted him and had kept a watch he had given her.

Hunt Two Fleeing with Loot from Fake Robbery

Police of western states were requested last night to be on the lookout for Emory Hubert, 25 years old, and Joseph Orland, 23, who are believed to be driving toward Fargo, N. D., with $1,260 taken in a faked robbery. A third man, Rainel Hubert, 21, of 6247 Blackstone avenue, brother of Emory, is being held as a confessed participant in the framed holdup. Rainel Hubert, a cashier for the Universal Credit company, reported on Tuesday that he had been kidnaped by two men and robbed of $1,260 which he was taking to a bank for his employers. Police broke down his story and he confessed, saying his brother and Orland had the money and were driving westward..

THOUSANDS SEE PERSEIDS FLASH ACROSS THE SKY

The Perseids, a swarm of darting meteors seemingly emanating from the constellation Perseus, gallavanted in the heavens again last night, with the trained eyes of astronomers and the untrained eyes of thousands of sky gazers beholding them.

Annually at this time the metors appear, varying occasionally in brilliance. Last night, as on the night before, the Perseids were viewed by astronomers at Yerkes observatory, Williams Bay, Wis. According to Prof. Edwin B. Frost, director, the first of the two night display revealed 110 meteor flashes in a period of 95 minutes.

"This is an average display," said Prof. Frost. "There was an average of two per minute. Only one really bright one, resembling a fire ball, was seen. One photograph was made."

The Perseids is really a cloud of cosmic dust, left in the wake of Tuttle's comet, which was last seen in 1862. The fireworks occur when the earth swings through the dust cloud, the friction of its atmosphere heating the particles until they glow.

This America Sanely Depicted in These Novels

'Hathaway House' Neither Caustic Nor Sugary.

BY EDITH WEIGLE.

THREE new books dealing with the everyday American scene in a simple, human way are "Hathaway House," by Nellia Gardner White [Stokes], "New England Holiday," by Charles Allen Smart [Norton], and "A White Bird Flying," by Bess Streeter Aldrich [Appleton]. The first two are published today; the last appeared several days ago and is now on the list of best sellers.

BESS STREETER ALDRICH

They are all alike in the plain, straightforward way in which they tell their stories and they are all delightfully informal, unpretentious, and sincere. They are about people we all know and who are as familiar to us as an old shoe; about people so quiet and unromantic that we take them for granted and sometimes almost forget they exist until an illness or death overtakes them, and then we realize poignantly how much they meant in our lives.

"Hathaway House" shows you your own neighbors, or folk around the corner, and some of your own relatives, too, with their little idiosyncrasies, failings, and virtues. The author might have written just another dreary, let-us-be-glad story about life in the average American town, but her really wit and delightful sense of humor steer her away from the mawkish of oversweet sentiment and the result is a thoroughly enjoyable, not to say delectable, creation with enough spice and tang to give it zest.

John and Ann Hathaway are two of the jolliest, nicest parents in the whole welter of summer fiction. John, especially, with his unselfish disposition, his humorous slant on everything pertaining to the world in which he works so hard and gains so little financially, is appealing. So, also, is Alice, his daughter, with her restless, dreamy eyes and her childish yearning to express her thoughts in poetry. Penn, her sister, does not have your sympathy so much for she does not need it. She is one of those girls, care-free, attractive individuals who glide through life with the maximum amount of happiness and the minimum amount of pain.

"New England Holiday" is an odd novel. The method used in narrating events is the same as that employed by Sarah Parrot in her new book, "Love Goes Past," reviewed in this column the other day. Instead of telling the story from the author's point of view the book is simply a collection of chapters, each one supposedly written by one of the characters in the plot. And there are fourteen, altogether, as with all of them at work on the same broth, so to speak, it is a marvel that it is not completely ruined.

Bess Streeter Aldrich does not go on with her account of pioneer days in the middle west in her new book, "A White Bird Flying." She is concerned with the second and third generations from the original settlers. True, one or two enter into the tale and stories of the early days and their trials and hardships are frequently recounted, but the main motif of the story is in the 20th century with its own new set of problems.

The novel leans strongly to the sentimental. Even the sturdy pioneers are seen through a hazy mist of idealism that, somehow, saps the life out of them. Little poems are interspersed among the prose and the pages fairly beam with sweetness and light. There's not much more to be said about it, except that "if you like this sort of thing it's just the sort of thing you'll like."

Veteran Dean of U. of Illinois Warns Youths

Says Jobs Are Scarce in Champaign, Too.

BY VIRGINIA GARDNER.

More boys are arriving in Champaign to look for work in anticipation of registering in the University of Illinois and working their way through school this year than heretofore, So Thomas Arkle Clark, dean of men at the university, said last night. He is here at the Palmer house.

Dean Clark, after giving a résumé of the employment situation in Champaign as concerns college youth, explained that his resignation from the university will take effect Aug. 22. Dean Clark has been associated with the university since 1891. He is 69 years old, he said, a year past the regular retirement age of the university. He plans to devote his time to writing, he said, and expects to begin a series of reminiscences or essays drawn from his experience.

"Our enrollment may be slightly less than last year's," Dean Clark said, "or it may be as large. Certainly the number of boys who expect to work their way through will be larger than ever before. It is just as certain, too, that there will not be jobs enough for all of them, but we have been doing all we could to line up jobs for them.

"Of course, in hard times boys think they may as well go to school, since there aren't any jobs. They have the idea there are always jobs in a college town.

"For the trained stenographer or the boy of some particular talent, conditions will not be hard. But most of them are untrained. A boy applied to me for help in finding work the other day. He said he could do anything. 'Can you polish hardwood floors?' I asked. He did not know what hardwood floors were.

"There may be boys from Chicago's gold coast who will want to augment their allowance by jobs this winter. They will be as untrained as farm boys, of course. As for the stores, they employ mostly boys who are well known on the campus and can bring in patrons. That may be unfortunate, but it's business.

"I have been telling the boys who come to me that they will find times hard. But if a boy wants to go to school, I never discourage his attempt although I recognize the fact that he will lose something by not having the money or time for much diversion. It isn't that his social standing will suffer—there is no snobbery at the University of Illinois and never has been—but that he simply hasn't the clothes or money to have the ordinary good times.

"But you gain something, too. In my own case, I knew I had to work if I went to school and I never had any sense of inferiority in doing so. I worked my way through the university back in the eighties. I wrote for the town paper at 50 cents a column, and I set type for our school paper at 25 cents per 1,000 ems. Fifty cents was big money then.

"A boy has to be robust both physically and mentally to work his way through without any harm whatsoever. An introspective boy shouldn't do so if he can avoid it. Many of our boys I know scarcely get enough to eat, or enough sleep. On the other hand, one boy working in my office makes $50 there and $30 on the outside washing dishes.

"A fraternity president told me this year that his fraternity was going to have to give the few jobs we ordinarily filled for them to their own men."

SPANISH PRINCESSES' TROUSERS SHOCK TO VILLAGERS IN IRELAND

PORTAFERRY, Northern Ireland, Aug. 12.—(AP)—The staid residents of this town had the shock of their lives today. Two Spanish princesses, Beatrice and Marie Christine, landed from a yachting cruise.

Spanish princesses are a novelty in Portaferry anyway, but what thoroughly upset the inhabitants was the fact that the royal ladies were wearing flannel yachting trousers.

The stares and whisperings of the townsfolk seemed greatly to embarrass the visitors and Princess Beatrice tried to evade notice by dodging behind her fiancé, Don Alvaro Antonio D'Orleans.

Pajamas, until recently worn only in the boudoir, have topped the heights in Dame Fashion's realm and according to latest reports are now quite properly worn by the bride as her wedding costume. Even bridesmaids, it is said, will wear pajamas of pastel satin to contrast to the white satin of the bride's costume. The bride will wear the conventional veil of flowing tulle adorned by orange blossoms and will carry her bouquet of calla lilies, however. These new pajamas are being modeled this week at the College inn, Hotel Sherman.

Seven More Offer Blood for Serum for Paralysis

Seven persons volunteered blood for serum for the treatment of infantile paralysis yesterday at the Samuel Deutsch convalescent serum center of the Michael Reese hospital, making a total of eleven since a call was issued to former sufferers of the disease by the center on Monday. Only one new case of infantile paralysis was reported to the health department yesterday, Commissioner Bundesen said, adding that no epidemic exists in Chicago.

SECRETARY STIMSON JOINS YEARLY ATTACK UPON SCOTTISH GROUSE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Aug. 12.—The moors of the north are filled with shooting parties today to start Great Britain's fall drive on grouse.

The usual American influx is somewhat reduced this year, but the boxes in Scotland and in the midlands contain a number of visitors from the United States who are maintaining the annual habit of leasing an estate for the shooting season.

Two of the most prominent, who are at present in the north, are Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson and Ambassador Walter E. Edge from Paris, who interrupted his holiday at Le Toquet, France, to be present.

The usual London swanky west end restaurants today advertised grouse for lunch which had been brought from Scotland by airplane. The fact is there was none except the very first bags which could not have been brought to London in time to be cooked for lunch. It must have been in cold storage for a year.

Women Foes of War Visit City Hall, Talk

Pilgrims from the Pacific Coast Going East.

With the recent Hoover debt suspension plan making the United States a leader in improving world finances, it should not fail to take a prominent part in the Geneva world disarmament conference, Miss Mabel Vernon of New York, disarmament campaign director of the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom, declared yesterday. Miss Vernon addressed Chicago women peace advocates who joined the six members of the league's peace caravan yesterday at the western entrance to the city hall.

The caravan, consisting of women in motor cars who left Hollywood on June 21 to visit 25 states to arouse interest in total world disarmament, drove to the city hall. There the women were met by County Commissioners Mrs. Edward Fleming, Mrs. Glen E. Plumb and Miss Amelia Sears. Miss Vernon, Miss Katherine Devereux Blake of New York, and Miss Sears spoke.

They were then escorted to the office of Mayor Cermak, where they were greeted by George D. Gaw, city greeter, and accompanied by him to a visit to the World's Fair grounds. They were guests at luncheon at the City club. A massmeeting was held last night at the Navy pier, addressed by the Rev. Norman B. Barr of Olivet institute; Miss Lillian Herstein, labor leader, and the Rev. Irwin St. John Tucker. A luncheon will be held for the caravan members today in the Knickerbocker hotel by the Illinois league. The women are taking east signatures that will be sent to Geneva.

1931 WAMPAS STARS NAMED IN HOLLYWOOD; CHICAGO GIRL ONE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hollywood, Cal., Aug. 12.—[Special.]—Thirteen young film actresses, all of them newcomers to Hollywood prominence within the last eighteen months, were presented today as "Wampas baby stars of 1931."

By their selection the Wampas association [Guild of Motion Picture Press Agents] revives a custom which had been dropped for two years, of singling out the younger actresses who are believed to show great prominence of becoming the future Joan Crawfords, Clara Bows, Janet Gaynors, and Norma Shearers.

Following is a list of the thirteen starlets of 1931:

Joan Blondell, First National.
Constance Cummings, Columbia studio.
Frances Dade, United Artists.
Sidney Fox, Universal.
Frances Dee, Paramount.
Rochelle Hudson, R. K. O.
Anita Louise, Universal.
Joan Marsh, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.
Marian Marsh, Warner Brothers.
Karen Morely, M. G. M.
Marion Shilling, Pathe.
Barbara Weeks, United Artists.
Judith Wood, Paramount.

These thirteen will be guests of honor at special public exercises Sept. 11 in connection with the Los Angeles fiesta week celebration.

Miss Dee is a Chicago girl, graduating from Hyde Park High school and spending two years at University of Chicago until 1929. She formerly was a want ad taker with THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.

Pictures of the 13 "Wampas" stars will be found on the back page.

St. Louisan's Will Makes Yale His Second Heir

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 12.—(AP)—A bequest estimated at more than $1,000,000 to Yale university, New Haven, Conn., was disclosed here today with the filing of the will of Hugh Campbell, 83 year old bachelor who died Sunday in the Campbell residence of the civil war era in downtown St. Louis.

The will leaves Campbell's estate, understood to exceed $1,000,000, to his 75 year old brother, Hazlett Campbell, during his remaining years and then it is to go to Yale.

It is specified in the bequest that a building is to be constructed at the university with the money in memory of Hugh Campbell's brother, James Alexander Campbell of the Yale class of 1882.

Hoover Hears 227 Cities Will Help Jobless

Community Chests Will Help with Burden.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 12.—(AP)—Community chest organizations in 227 cities have expressed their complete confidence that they, in coöperation with municipalities, will be able to undertake the task of unemployment relief during the coming winter.

President Hoover was so informed today by Allen T. Burns, executive director of the Association of Community Chests and Councils.

Other cities, Burns told the President, are being heard from daily and plans are going forward actively.

A statement issued at the White House said:

"Mr. Allen T. Burns, the executive director of the Association of Community Chests and Councils, has advised the President that their organizations in 227 cities which have so far been heard from report their complete confidence that they, in coöperation with municipalities and other local agencies, will be able wholly to undertake the unemployment relief situation during the forthcoming winter. More cities are being heard from daily."

The President today conferred at length with Walter S. Gifford, president of the American Telephone and Telegraph company, on the subject of business conditions and unemployment.

This discussion took place at the breakfast table and was the second such conference within a week. The President did not get to his office until nearly 10 o'clock. He usually comes to work before eight.

Charities Approve Use of Gas Tax to Aid Poor

President Emmett Whedlan of the county board said yesterday that he had been assured the support of the United Charities and similar organizations in his proposal that the state divert half of the annual collection of $70,000,000 from the gasoline tax to the relief of the poor and unemployed next winter. He will present his proposal to the county board at its next meeting, he said.

Portuguese on North American Coast in 1511

"Dighton Stone" Mystery Cleared by Prof.

LISBON, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Deciphering of an inscription on a rock on the banks of the Taunton river, in Bristol county, Mass., designated as the "Dighton stone," has revived an old Portuguese claim that the first European to settle in the United States was a Portuguese navigator.

During four centuries this stone bore mysterious hieroglyphs, which were not deciphered until recently. Then the American professor, Edmund Burke Delabarre, supplied the key.

Engraved in rough characters is the name "Corte Real," a Portuguese navigator, and the date 1511. Also the Latin words "Voluntate Dei hic Dux Indorum," which are translated as "By the will of God I became here the chief of the Indians."

Capt. Miguel Corte Real set out from Lisbon at the head of an exploration party May 10, 1502. Having reached the coast of Newfoundland, he decided that his three ships should separate and explore the seas in three directions. For some reason two ships returned to Portugal, while the third, commanded by Corte Real, never was heard from again.

Students feel the dramatic story of Corte Real has at last been revealed by the deciphering of the inscription on the Dighton stone. The ship, according to authentic reports, since corroborated by two other American professors, was attacked by the Indians in the Assonet region and her master captured by the Indians. But he was said to have won the good will of his captors and to have been proclaimed their chief.

Savants Long at Sea in Efforts to Read Stone.

Assonet, Mass., Aug. 12.—(AP)—Generations of scholars since 1630 have copied and recopied the vague hieroglyphs carved into the surface of a great green stone bowlder on the bank of the Taunton river.

Some saw in them the characteristics of Norse runes found in Iceland and Scandinavia and concluded they were further proof of visits by vikings to New England's shores.

Other students decided the inscription was "an Indian petroglyph." When Prof. Edmund B. Delabarre of Brown university, Providence, R. I., undertook a study of the rock and its inscription he found it necessary to plow through 600 volumes relating to the subject.

For thirteen years he devoted a part of his time to systematic research. First he found "the date 1511 standing out clearly amid the perplexing mass of inscriptions."

Then he began a study of 16th century explorers and discovered that early in that period two Portuguese adventurers had sailed, presumably for northeastern America, and never returned.

One of these was Miguel Corte Real, who, in 1502, went in search of his brother, Gaspar, who had made one voyage to Labrador and Newfoundland and had vanished on his second trip.

This discovery led to the solution.

First Free Concert in Grant Park Is Set for Aug. 24

The first of the free outdoor concerts to be given by the Chicago Band Concert association will be presented Aug. 24 at 8:15 p. m. Announcement of the initial concert was given yesterday following a meeting of the directors of the association at the Tavern club. The band shell in Grant park will be completed a week from today and final arrangements will be completed by the night of the concert, George T. Donoghue, south park superintendent, told the directors.

"The public rehearsal last Thursday demonstrates beyond any further doubt that the band is one of highest musical character," Arthur Bissell, president of the association, said. "By opening Aug. 24 we are assured of four weeks of good weather for the concert and I am sure that the thousands of music lovers in Chicago would rather have all the concerts well prepared than to run the risk of detrimental effects by too much haste."

Officers of the association were of one in the belief that these concerts given by the orchestra under Victor Grabel will represent one of the major musical accomplishments of Chicago. Plans are under way to make the concerts a permanent affair.

Ground Is Broken for New Y. W. C. A. Residence

The first shovelful of earth was turned yesterday for the new $270,000 Y. W. C. A. residence. It was done by Mrs. William L. Hodgkins, president of the association. The new residence will adjoin the present activities center, which is located at 101 South Ashland avenue. It was made possible by the gift of $150,000 by an anonymous donor and the provision of a lot by the Wieboldt foundation. The residence will house 118 girls, each with a single room, and will have room for 150 in the dining room.

Chicago Plans to Recall Days of Massacre

When Chicago on Saturday pays its annual respects to the memory of those killed during the massacre near Fort Dearborn 119 years ago, among those gathered at the historic site will be a descendant of Capt. Nathan Heald, who was in command.

Mrs. Frances Heald Ottofy of St. Louis, a granddaughter of Capt. Heald, and a grandniece of Col. William Wells, who came to the aid of Capt. Heald with his Miami Indians, plans to attend the ceremony. The Junior Association of Commerce so announced yesterday.

The Chicago Historical society has placed on exhibition relics of the massacre. There was the leather trunk used by Capt. Heald and his wife, Rebecca Wells, which contained her trousseau on their horseback honeymoon trip from Kentucky to Fort Dearborn. There also was the sword and red sword sash worn by Capt. Heald, and a miniature of Col. Wells. They are owned by Mrs. Ottofy.

By proclamation of Mayor Cermak, Saturday is to be observed as Fort Dearborn day. The ceremonies will start at 9 a. m., on a special stage at the entrance of the London Guarantee and Accident building. Little Ann Hillman, 4 years old, of St. Vincent's orphanage, will place a wreath at the base of the tablet.

WASHINGTON SOCIETY

Washington, D. C., Aug. 12.—[Special.]—President and Mrs. Hoover entertained a few guests at dinner tonight.

The Cuban ambassador to Mexico and Senora Marques Sterling arrived here last night to spend a fortnight at the Mayflower. They spent much time here during the Bolivian-Paraguayan conference two years ago.

Mrs. Russell B. Harrison is spending a fortnight at Virginia Beach, accompanied by her two young granddaughter, Miss Mary Virginia Williams and Miss Marthena Williams.

The American minister to Czecho-Slovakia, Abraham C. Ratshesky, is spending a few days here and will later join his wife in their summer home at Beverly, Mass., for a short time before they return to his post of duty.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Campbell Graef of Georgetown, who returned last week from Chicago where they visited their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ballard Moore have gone to Hot Springs, Va., for the remainder of the season.

A Clean Appearance Speaks Volumes for Person's Character

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

Why are we drawn more to a person who looks neat and clean than to an opposite type?

Why do we not mind a mended suit and mind a torn one?

Why do we not object to an old fashioned, clean dress as we do to a dress of the latest style that is unclean?

Why have we the feelings we have toward self-neglecting people?

Dr. Olga Knopf, Vienna psychologist of note, attempts to solve the above with the explanation that "there is a common denominator for everything we consider beautiful. It must be clean.

"If a person whom we meet for the first time looks neat and clean we are immediately sympathetic, but if he is not clean we are not willing to communicate with him. Something tells us that this person is not willing or able to coöperate, and that his character may have as many spots as his suit."

By coöperation Dr. Knopf means the willingness to do things for others and to adapt oneself to them. If we have this feeling for others we are more likely to give of ourselves in return. And to look one's best is the external expression of this willingness to coöperate.

"I believe that to be clean," Dr. Knopf says, "is an expression of our character as much as is any other quality. It is not accidental that people who neglect their external appearance are not popular. Any one who does not care for his own person, who has no interest in the cleanliness of his appearance, does not seem to be interested in others.

"He seems not to want to please others or to make a good impression. And the wish to make a good impression on others indicates our willingness to communicate with others and to coöperate with them."

BEAUTY ANSWERS

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

K. P.: STANDARD WEIGHT FOR a woman of 43, 5 feet 6, is 148 pounds; for a girl of 20, 5 feet 4, 125 pounds, and for a girl of 18, 5 feet 5 inches, is 126 pounds.

M. D.: DEPILATORIES ARE used for removal of hair from the legs. They give temporary relief. The operation must be repeated when the hair grows again. My leaflet on superfluous hair may be had for a stamped, addressed envelope.

Legitimate Form of Office Appreciation Put in Pay Envelope

BY DORIS BLAKE.

"I am at the beginning of my career and eager to do well and go as far as I can. I also am eager to make no mistakes in any situation that might arise between my employer and me. He is a married man; has a grown family, some of them married. Not long ago he gave me a pretty ring, and now that I have it I am assailed by doubts as to the wisdom of accepting it. It was so unexpected. I had it, and thanked him, before I thought.

"Maybe he was pleased with me and my work. Maybe he noticed I had no such adornment and gave it in a fatherly sort of way. I am the only girl in the office and I have a feeling that he would not care to have me advertise the gift, and I feel certain his wife doesn't know he gave it to me. I'm uncomfortable when she comes into the office.

"MARION J."

You're not making a wise start in the world if you are eager to do well and go far ahead in that career of yours.

You sound almost too simple to be true, Marion, though you may be all you wish to imply. But it does seem that a girl old enough to earn a weekly salary of any kind is aware that complications must ensue once she accepts a gift of jewelry from her married employer.

Just in case no one ever told you, however, there's only one legitimate form of appreciation for your work in an office, and it appears in your pay envelope—and in the form of increased salary. Don't let any one tell you that honest business appreciation is expressed in any other way.

And don't be childish enough to think that reputable employers are scanning fair employes' fingers for absent ornaments and substituting the lack according to their peculiar fancy. They might take a look now and then to see how the letter is coming along—but their minds are not on business when they begin looking for fingers to place rings on.

I'd give it back—and before any further complications ensue.

DORIS BLAKE ANSWERS

Why Not Accept?

"Dear Miss Blake: The boy I like asks me to go out, but I refuse. Should I? EDNA."

If you continue to refuse he won't ask you any more. Why hesitate to accept his invitation?

6,000 Attend Picnic on Model Farm of Electric Power Firm

More than 6,000 members of farm families who have memberships in the Lake county farm bureau and the Lake County Pure Milk association participated in an outing yesterday at the model farm of the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois near Mundelein.

Four-H boys and girls had an important part of the entertainment. In the afternoon 130 girls whose ages ranged from 11 to 21 paraded in a style show in frocks of their own making. This feature was arranged by Mrs. Earl Kane, Mundelein, county chairman of the home bureau. Boys exhibited 80 head of calves, 66 pigs, 40 sheep, and 75 head of poultry under the direction of Albert Herman, Antioch, county boys' club leader.

Two games of baseball were played in the afternoon. Farmers in the north side of the county faced a team from the southern half. Four-H club boys participated in another game. Similar teams vied for supremacy in a tug-of-war competition. Thirty horseshoe pitchers spent most of the day at their favorite sport. The grand champion for the day was Harry Gilkerson, Grays Lake, Lake county farm adviser.

FLOWER OF THORNS

By Marie Conway Oemler

SYNOPSIS.

Sally Rutherford, the last of a proud old southern family, following the ruin and death of her grandfather has a struggle to keep the heavily mortgaged Oakleigh plantation, the estate of the Winsteads adjoins Oakleigh. Henry Winstead holds the Oakleigh mortgage. His only son, Sam, loves Sally, but Sally is in love with Lowndes Jennings, who jilts Sally for the wealthy Gertrude Reinert. Sam asks Sally to marry him, though he knows she doesn't love him. Sally becomes Sam's wife in name only and returns to Oakleigh to live as a wedding present. Sam goes abroad and tells Sally she is free to see him for her freedom. After Sam leaves Sally discovers that Henry Winstead has taken advantage of her grandfather, as she believed, but had tried to save him from himself. Henry takes the place of her grandfather in her affections. Henry Rufe is a poor family who had lately moved to the county. The father mistrusts Henry's attentions to his daughter. Rufe shoots Henry with a shot gun at Henry.

INSTALLMENT XXXIV.

THE VALLEY OF THE SHADOW.

Sally ran to Henry and began frantically to try to stanch the blood. She began to call him wildly with tearless sobs. "Father, father, father!" Mears, who was silent and sobered, stood blinking at his victim. Minta May emerged from the house and ran to the wounded man.

"What'd you kill Mr. Winstead for, you drunken dog?" she asked her father in a high, agonized voice.

"Did you think I'd let the ole skunk ruin ye—an' git away with it?" he asked viperishly.

"You horrible ole fool; he never had nothin' to do with it!" she screamed. "He wasn't never nothin' but kind, he wasn't! O, God, if Mr. Winstead die, help me to hang Paw for killing him! You know Mr. Winstead never done nothing' but be kind! Don't let him die, God; but if he does, help me to hang Paw for it!"

"Minta——" he began.

"Shut up! I'm a goin' to have you hung for this!" she blazed.

"You done it now, you fool," said his wife. "You best git, while the gittin's good." She turned her back on him.

Henry opened his eyes and fixed them on the man who had shot him. "Go—away," he gasped. "Quick! You—were—mistaken." He fainted dead.

"Help me to get him in the car," Sally told Minta; and between them the two strong young creatures lifted the unconscious man into the car. "Now climb in and hold him. I have to drive." In another moment the car had left the lane and was flying down the road to Winsteads. She drove like the wind, her mind one mad terror. O God, God, don't let father die! He's all I have, and You know he's never done anything but kindness!" she prayed. And she drove and drove. The red stain spread and dripped. The car seemed full of blood.

As she neared the gates she blew and screamed piercingly. People began to run toward her. As the car stopped they crowded around it and saw Henry white as death, holding the unconscious body of Henry Winstead, who was dripping blood.

"Paw shot him," Minta May explained, stonily. "Paw shot him!" And as Sally lifted the wounded man out of her hold, she began to cry, bleakly. Some of the workmen, recognizing her, took her home to his wife.

Sally followed Henry to the house and prepared the bed upon which they placed him. She was in a state of stark horror.

She tragedy always to dog her steps, she asked herself, dully. She cared about dazedly though she appeared collected enough. She found herself repeating stonily the words Minta May had shrieked at her wretched father: "What'd you kill Mr. Winstead for, you drunken dog?"

"What'd you kill Mr. Winstead for, you drunken dog?"

Father: "He was never anything but good. He was never anything but kind."

The doctors Joe Dixon summoned by telephone had appeared and were with him. He was still unconscious and she hung about him in an agony until they sent her out of the room for a while. How still he was—how terribly still! He might be dying . . . and he had never been anything but kind. Once too often a mistake had been made about Henry Winstead, and in his case at stake for it. She remembered agonizedly that she herself had misjudged him cruelly. She had distrusted and—despised—the man who looked upon her as his daughter, who had forgiven her instantly and, in moment she showed herself ready for it had lavished upon her the tenderness of a father. Now she had to sit outside his closed door and pray while she waited for the verdict. O father, father, father!

The news that Henry Winstead had been perhaps fatally shot by Rufe Mears spread like wildfire, arousing general indignation. The telephone in the private office at the dairy kept haggard Joe Dixon on the jump. Joe was devoted to Sam's father, and he was unnerved by the catastrophe. The thought of Paw, to whom Henry had been so kind, made the manager almost willing to head a lynching party. Paw would have had short shrift then if any of the Winstead employés could have caught him.

"Will he die?" she asked the doctors, fearfully. They couldn't tell, they said. He was still unconscious, but he seemed to be holding his own; there was no change for the worse. Although he was of meager build, he had a good constitution, preserved by the clean and orderly life he had always led. On the other hand, he had sustained a great shock, and he had almost bled to death before he could be given help. It was nip and tuck. One could only hope. And with that she had to be content. She had to wait helplessly while Henry entered the valley of the shadow.

"I have cabled for Sam," Joe Dixon whispered to her, and she nodded silently. Sam was absent from his father now because of her, she told herself. But if she could be glad of anything now, she was glad that she had taken no action; that she had not added that grief to Henry Winstead's heart. He didn't know that she and Sam planned final parting. Thank God, he didn't know. That, at least, had been spared him.

She learned in those bitter hours how deep and strong was the love that one bore him—a love real enough to let him stand to her in grandpapa's stead.

Minta May, weeping, and a neighboring farmer's son had at once come forward and told the police the sordid truth. The boy, attracted by the girl but fearing his parents as well as hers, had induced her to meet him secretly. The neglected child found herself petted and loved for the first time in her life and the inevitable happened. When her parents discovered what could no longer be concealed, Mears was wild with rage.

Afraid for her lover, little Minta May closed her lips obstinately. She wouldn't betray him. She endured face slappings and hair pullings from Ma, who loaded her with abuse and threats as well. So closely was she watched that she could get no word to the boy whom she was determined to shield. How could she betray the only person who had ever given her a spot of affection? And as she still kept silent, Mears grew more bitter.

His distracted thoughts came back and back again to Henry Winstead and finally settled dully upon the man who had played Providence to the Mears family. He reflected that his Minta May was growin' into a likely lookin' gal—she looked older'n she were—and he was sure that the ole devil had his eye on Minta from the first. Hadn't he, Paw, asked right off why he was sniffin' them children clo'es? This was why. His rage grew wilder and more he thought of Henry Winstead.

Then he got out the shotgun laid it in a corner of the crazy attic.

To cap things, who should come again to his house, brazen as brazen, but the ole devil hisself, with that stuck up daughter-in-law of his'n, askin' for Minta May! And when Paw accused him to his face—him starin' like he was crazy! Naturally, that was enough to make the red git into a man's eye, it was. So Paw just upped with his ole gun and banged away.

And now his own wife wouldn't so much as lift her finger to help him. Rufus ran away with terror at his heels and kept on running. By night, surely, Minta May and the boy, who was shaken to the soul by what had happened, added their testimony. He'd always meant to marry the girl, the poor old, and now that his parents knew, he might just as well do so at once. It was the one right thing that came out of all the wrong. When he considered that, through what might be called his fault Mr. Winstead's life was endangered, the boy put his head down and blubbered. Minta May wept with him. Her maw stepped up and took the two distracted young creatures over with her.

News tales of Henry came out. All sorts of people seemed so anxious now to tell what Mr. Winstead had done for them! At last the man stood revealed in his true colors. What he had so carefully concealed was open to the day. And they had called him a close fisted old money bags, a hard hearted miser, a man without feeling!

The hideous days passed, days of torturing uncertainty. At best he was but semi-conscious. He knew no one, but lay there with staring eyes which saw nothing; or he lay rigid, with closed eyes, his face white and sharp, sunk into profound depths which no skill could plumb. At such times Sally was allowed to sit near him. So she sat, as silent as he, and watched him until it seemed to her that the sharp outlines of his unconscious face were being etched upon her consciousness as with a pencil of fire, never to be effaced.

The nurse whispered to her one morning that Mr. Dixon was downstairs and wished to speak to her. Joe, looking strained and tired, his eyes red as though from want of sleep, told her that the cable had caught Sam at Alexandria. He had cabled such likely places as he thought Sam might be. One of the cables had reached him. He had replied. Already he was on his way home.

"This is what I sent," said Joe, and showed her a slip of paper. "Father very ill. Come at once. Sally Winstead," she read.

"That was quite all right, Joe," she said, her hand at her throat.

Dictionary, Materials Desired.

"I am writing to you for a young woman in a tuberculosis hospital. Her chief difficulty is English and she needs a well-pronouncing, good, standard English dictionary. I shall be happy to direct her studies if some one else will help with the dictionary.

Also, do any of your readers have 'scrap bags' to give? Several of the patients around me want pieces to make patchwork coats and quilts and they have no way of obtaining the material.

D. R."

Could you supply a dictionary for the young foreign girl who is so anxious to make the best of her time while in the hospital or have you a few bright pieces of material which the other patients could make use of?

Junior League Gets Ready for Winter Drama

BY THALIA.

THE first Saturday morning in November seems a long way off now, but those capable young women who conduct the Junior League Children's theater don't think it's a bit too early to begin making plans for the winter season. Dorothy Schmidt, the league president; Helen Tieken, who succeeded her last year as director of the theater, and Florence Higinbotham, who is to be general business manager for the plays, have been holding conferences this week to discuss casting and other details of the first production.

It's to be a play entitled "Dr. Doolittle," and Helen Tieken is dramatizing it from the book of that name by Hugh Lofting. It is one of those whimsical Alice in Wonderlandish things that the children adore. The date of the first performance is the 7th, and the plays are to be given at the Blackstone theater this year instead of at the Selwyn. The change may or may not have something to do with the fact that the Drake girls have been active in the children's theater work [Katherine is press chairman of the league this year and has been trying her hand at publicity for the Blackstone] and their uncle, Mr. Tracy Drake now operates the Blackstone theater.

Although it is apparently rushing the season to begin thinking about the winter's activities already, it's really a very sound idea. One reason the league's children's theater has been as successful as it has is because they've gone about it in such an earnest and businesslike way, eliminating as far as possible the flippant carelessness with which amateur dramatics are usually conducted. And, besides, the "season" does have a way of being upon us before we realize it. I notice that posters are up announcing the opening of the opera—Nov. 2—and that certainly is a sign of approaching autumn.

North Shore Garden Club Busy with Show Plans.

Members of the North Shore Garden club are busily at work on plans for their annual August flower show, to be held at the Lake Shore country club on Sheridan road in Glencoe a week from Saturday afternoon. The display of flowers will include specimen blooms of all descriptions from some of those wonderful north shore gardens, and there will also be vegetable displays. The feature classes will include flower arrangements for the center of a formal dinner table, for a boudoir, and an arrangement in the modern manner, a budget dinner table, a picnic table, and a Sunday night supper table. The show is to be open to the public at a small fee, and the nearby estates of Julius Rosenwald, Robert Mandel, and Samuel Marx will be opened to the public also on that day.

Adelaide Atkin, daughter of the Godfrey H. Atkins, and Annie Warren Mason, the Roswell B. Masons' daughter, won't get down to the serious business of definite debut plans until they return at the end of the month from Lac du Flambeau, where so many Winnetka people spend their summer holidays. Miss Atkin, who was graduated in June from Dobbs Ferry, is to be presented by her parents some time in November. Miss Mason's bow will have to be postponed until the Christmas holidays because she'll be leaving next month to enter her sophomore year at Smith college.

Some Trips, Visits and Other Seasonable News.

Mrs. Arthur Slade of 1243 North State street and Mr. Slade's cousin, Mrs. McKay LeRoy of the Ambassador, are to sail on Saturday aboard the S. S. Paris for a sojourn in Europe. Among other places they plan to spend some time at Deauville and some at St. Jean de Luz in the Basque country, just down the southern coastline from Biarritz. Mr. Slade and Brayton are remaining in Chicago, but they plan to motor east the last of September to meet the travelers and bring them home.

Briefly—Frazier Jelke's son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. F. Bartholomay Jelke, have returned from Honolulu and have joined the Jelkes at Eagle's Nest at Newport [Mrs. Bartholomay Jelke was Miss Marjorie McVickar before their marriage]. . . . the Gardner Catlins [Jeanette Todd], who have lived successively in Bethlehem, Pa.; Buffalo, and recently in Hammond, Ind., since they moved away from Chicago several years ago, are pulling up stakes again and are to be at Waterbury, Conn., for the remainder of the summer until they decide where they will settle next. . . . Mrs. William Gerrish Beale, who returned from Europe a little while ago, has been visiting Mrs. Robert J. Cary at Southampton and is back in New York before going to Bar Harbor . . . Miss Barbara Bullard is to arrive from Windsor, Vt., on the 20th to be the guest of her fiancé's mother, Mrs. William E. Colt Jr. of 15 East Division street. Mrs. Colt and her son, Schuyler Colt, are going to visit the Bullards in Vermont in September.

Help the Children to Face Troubles in Happy Manner

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

"You work awfully hard," said a young boy to his father the other day. "And you hardly ever do things for fun, dad. And you always seem to be so worried. I don't want to grow up and work so hard and not have any fun, the way you do."

. . . . .

Somewhere — I've forgotten now where—I came across this: "We want our children to learn to carry responsibility happily."

I liked that a lot. Do you? Not, teach them "to carry responsibility" but "to carry responsibility happily." There's such a difference.

Everybody has got to look forward to responsibility—everybody who has ties of affection, who has children, or his way to make in the world. If we could only stop feeling that our responsibilities are a burden, to be carried with groans and a solemn air, how much lighter they would grow. If we parents could only suit our stride to them, how much less wearisome life ahead would look to our children. If, instead of carrying them as one lugs a heavy suitcase, we could only carry them with the air of a water carrier who rests her jar on her shoulder and then walks with smooth poise and no look of strain.

Lots of work is hard and some of it is pure drudgery. But most of us talk too much before our children of being tired out, hectic, and worried over money and jobs. I should think they would hate to grow up.

After all, responsibilities are always in the picture. Unless you live the life of a vagabond and alone in the world you can't sidestep them.

If we want to teach our children to carry responsibility happily we ought to learn to do it ourselves. But if we can't do that we surely ought to avoid airing all our money worries, job troubles, and adult woes before the children. It would be wrong and harmful to make them expect life to be a bed of roses, but they certainly should not get such a picture of it that they say or feel, "I don't want to grow up."

SALLY TAKING 100 BOYS AND GIRLS TO THE CIRCUS TODAY

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

That must have been a riotous game at Comiskey park yesterday afternoon when our White Sox defeated the Washington Senators, who, by the way, occupy second place in the league standing.

I hope every boy and girl who wants to witness the exciting game between the Sox and the Athletics a week from today has ok'd her letter in my office by this time, for I shall read them this morning and select the hundred winners who will receive invitations.

Today is the day of our big circus party, too. Reports of things that have been going on under the "big top" convinces me that this will be a most successful party, and I don't want one of you to miss it. Please be at the appointed meeting place on time so that we won't have to miss one bit of the performance. You may look forward to actually meeting some of the clowns, too. Won't that be jolly?

FAMOUS PAINTING, BY RAPHAEL, CRACKING IN GALLERY IN LONDON

[Copyright: 1931: By the New York Times.]

LONDON, Aug. 12.—[Special.]—Art experts are alarmed by cracks which have appeared in Raphael's Madonna, one of the world's most famous pictures and the greatest treasure in the National gallery.

For many years there have been signs of cracks in the panel on which the picture originally was painted. They were prominent in two long lines on each side of the Virgin's throne. The cracks are now extending to the rest of the picture and there is a bad crack on a leg of the John the Baptist and a smaller crack on the Madonna's face. All over the big picture, measuring seven feet by five, are signs of wearing of the panel.

Kids Enjoying Fireside Party at Algonquin

The last few days with temperatures competing with mountain resorts may have been a hardship for visitors who forgot to bring wool clothing along, but for the youngsters at Camp Algonquin, the crisp weather demanding fireplace fires were a rare treat.

Every cottage and dormitory that dot the wild acres of Camp Algonquin was the scene of a fireplace party yesterday. And a fireplace party in case you don't know, is sitting around the crackling logs telling stories and toasting marshmallows. The tiny children sit very close to the blaze and cut out paper dolls or play games. The mothers tell of girlhood days, some in foreign lands.

Yesterday wouldn't have been half as much fun for tenement youngsters back in the city. Giving them a taste of country life, its peace and quiet, the joys peculiar only to open meadows and wooded hills is something that can never be replaced, something to think about when the gray days of winter come.

A month more and the camp will be closed. The last tenement mother and child will have boarded a train back to the city to face the uncertainties of another heart breaking winter of unemployment. A month is left to make the most of camp life. Can you help send a mother or child to Algonquin for a two weeks' vacation. Yesterday gifts arrived providing these vacations for four persons.

Food Talk.

Yesterday we were considering ways and means to assist the newly-married girl who has the problem of thrifty entertaining on her hands. There is so much that can be said on the subject—so much that is applicable to all housewives—that we are continuing the theme today.

Open sandwiches, served with stuffed celery, stuffed olives, radish bonnets, or mild young green onions, make an easily prepared and delightful luncheon or after theater supper. If you feel that the sandwich is not sufficient to satisfy the hunger pangs of your company, provide a substantial dessert, such as éclairs plentifully filled with ice cream, or any one of the delicious ice box cakes.

Cheese of all kinds with emphasis on American, Swiss and pimiento, is a fine base for any open sandwich. Combinations of cheese and meats, cheese and vegetables or cheese alone are good. (I am at the present time referring to open sandwiches which are oven toasted and must of necessity be served immediately following the toasting.)

HAM AND CHEESE OPEN SANDWICH.

1 piece of day-old bread cut ¾ of an inch thick
¼ inch slice American cheese
1 slice Bermuda onion
2 thin stripe bacon
1 slice unskinned tomato

Toast the bread on one side only. Remove from the oven and make up the sandwich, using the untoasted side. Place the cheese, onion, tomato, and bacon on the bread in the order given. Toast slowly until the bacon and cheese are cooked and have run together. This should be about five minutes. Serve immediately. The recipe is for one sandwich. Two will satisfy the hungriest of guests.

Here are two more waffle recipes. I hope you act on my recommendation and make the most of our short berry season.

BLUEBERRY WAFFLES.

1¾ cups flour	3 eggs
3 tsp. baking powder	1 cup milk
½ tsp. salt	4 tbsp. butter
5 tbsp. granulated sugar	1 heaping cup of blueberries.

Mix and sift together the dry ingredients. Add the milk, a little at a time, the beaten egg yolks and the butter. Fold in the stiff egg whites, and, last of all, the blueberries. See that the berries are well distributed in the batter. Heat your waffle iron for eight or ten minutes before using. Bake three minutes or until a light golden brown. This recipe will serve four people.

New Paris Frock Owns Two Sets of Sleeves

BY BETTINA BEDWELL.

PARIS.—[Special.]—Fashion orders white in generous areas to trim the street frock in summer, and this order lets a working girl in for trouble a-plenty. White is as hard to keep clean as the ears of an urchin, and yet it is worse than dowdy if it isn't spotless.

Martial and Armand, through their clever designer, Mme. Vallet, have worked out a street dress that has the smart quota of white, and this white is so applied that you can remove and wash it in a maximum of ten minutes, so it is nothing at all to keep spotless. The trick consists of two pairs of sleeves.

The dress, shown in the illustration, is made of bright green silk voile, and the separate blouse buttons up the left side. It is held in at the waistline by a widish belt of voile, knotted into a simple pair of tabs at the left side. The true sleeves are three-quarters length and made of green silk voile, embroidered in green and black dots along the top of the arm. They are wide from the elbow to the bottom and under them are slipped half-sleeves of sheer white lawn, held on above the elbows by elastic bands, so they can be whisked off in a jiffy.

Martial and Armand supply two sets of these half-sleeves so that one pair may be always clean, and in addition to this the dress may be worn without any half-sleeves at all.

The blouse and skirt hem of this frock are bordered with narrow, plaited ruffles, and the skirt is shirred full on the left side only.

A great public PREFERENCE growing GREATER

Why buy a second-choice tire, when first-choice costs no more?

For 16 years the outstanding first-choice tire of the automobile owners in the United States has been Goodyear.

That is an important fact, but an even more important one is that for the last several years this preference has been growing even more rapidly.

Today when values are being scrutinized more carefully than ever before, public preference for Goodyear is stronger than it ever has been.

You are not interested in how tires are made.

The proof of tire service is the actual purchasing choice of the millions of automobile owners in America.

It will be noted that 30.7% of the car owners of America prefer Goodyear Tires. This preference is more than twice that of any other make of tire.
This tire survey was based on a scientifically mailed questionnaire to car owners in every state in the country and proportioned in turn to cities and rural communities.

Just look at the chart shown here and see how the automobile owners in the United States voted on the question: "What tire is best?"

This vote is based on actual experience and not on engineering claims or advertising assertions.

SOX MAKE 17 HITS; DEFEAT SENATORS, 11-1

Rout 4 Washington Pitchers.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

Put up power of the White Sox batting staff busted loose with terrific fury yesterday afternoon and after 12 scoreless innings in which only four hits had been accomplished the Comiskeys laid to in charming fashion to win themselves an 11 to 1 triumph from the second place Washington Senators.

The Chicagoans knocked 17 hits off four Washington pitchers, whereas the visitors made only six off Vic Frazier, the only extra baser being a homer by Joe Cronin in the fifth inning, which gave the Washingtons their only counter. Otherwise, Senator runners looked at the home base stricture from afar.

They Brought Their Bats.

Every man in the White Sox lineup except Frazier made at least one hit and all made at least one run except Kerr and Grube. Sullivan, Reynolds, Fonseca, and Watwood made three safeties each; Blue made two and Cissell knocked the only Chicago extra base hit, a double in the fourth inning, which drove in the fourth Sox run.

All the Sox runs were earned, for the Senators made no errors. The Sox made four misplays, two of them dropped balls by Grube, but Sullivan's muff in the first play of the contest was the only one which brought any strain whatsoever.

Only six Sox faced Crowder in the first two innings and there was fear that the big slump still was existent. Then was no added cheer when Cissell and Grube supplied easy infield outs to get two-thirds of the way through the third inning. Then Frazier became the first Chicagoan to get started around the bases when he drew a pass from Crowder. Blue, Sullivan, Reynolds, and Fonseca then rattled off successive singles for a net of five runs. The rally ended when Fonseca became obsessed with the common idea that his single was a triple. Lee was thrown out at second.

Davis Given His Signal.

When Frazier got home in the aforementioned epizoure, he had the distinction of being the first White Sox hurler to move in 23 innings and the second in 27 innings.

Having discovered that they really could get around the bases, the Sox were apt at all content with the threes run they accumulated in the third, especially after Cronin made his homer at First and Spencer singled in the fourth to supply half of the Senators' tally for the day.

In the fourth inning Manager Bush was flashed the hit sign and Watwood was the first to respond with a safety to left. He moved to second on Kerr's sacrifice and came home on Cissell's double. Radley relieved Crowder and Grube then singled, scoring Cissell, and went to second on the throw in. Frazier fanned and Blue flied to Spencer.

Earle Will Pitch Today.

The Sox broke loose again in the seventh and made five hits, two walks and a long fly to account for five runs. After Frazier had been retired, Blue, Sullivan and Reynolds singled off Radley to cause Fischer to be called in the pitching chore. Fonseca singled, Watwood walked, Kerr sacrificed and Cissell walked. Grube had to Hannah for the second out, and Watwood scored with the fifth Sox run of the inning. Frazier supplied his second putout to the inning by fanning.

The Sox made their last run in the eighth inning on singles by Sullivan, Reynolds and Watwood.

The teams will play the third of their four game series this afternoon and the customers will have a chance to view the efforts of Bob Burke, who pitched a no hit game his last time out—Saturday—against the Boston Red Sox. He will be opposed by Danny Thomas.

Mrs. Tunney's Family Denies Story of Heir

Damariscotta, Me., Aug. 12.—[Special.]—Mrs. Henry Rowland, aristocratic aunt of Mrs. Gene Tunney, stepped from the sick room of the former Polly Lauder today and deplored the fact that the present illness of her niece had been interpreted as heralding the birth of an heir to the Tunney-Lauder union.

Her denial "as a member of the family" was the first official recognition that the Lauder family or Gene Tunney have taken of widespread local gossip varying from the report that a "blue-eyed baby boy" had been born a week ago to the rumor that the event would take place this week.

So seemingly authenticated were the reports that an editorial of congratulation appeared in one of Boston's most conservative newspapers.

"Mrs. Tunney is in the hospital suffering from a severely strained back," Mrs. Rowland declared, supporting the statement earlier given out by the attending physician, Dr. William H. Parsons of Newcastle. "It was necessary to take her to the hospital so that X-ray pictures could be taken and for her to secure proper treatment. And that's all there is to it.

"After all, the situation is something we can't discuss. At times there are things that happen which are unpleasant enough to all members of a family without having them publicized in the press."

At Lincoln Memorial hospital, where officials still denied the presence of Mrs. Tunney, physicians declared the heiress wife of the retired heavyweight champion will be able to return to her family's summer estate at John's island in a week or ten days.

HALE, ROLFE AND DAWSON VICTORS IN CAMEL'S TRAIL

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

Al Hale of Medinah, Rial Rolfe of Sunset Ridge, and George Dawson of Glen Oak yesterday led a lengthy caravan of golfers from here and there home in the fourth annual Camel's Trail of the Medinah Country club, the largest invitational golf tournament of the Chicago district season.

A field of approximately 800 golfers from practically every club in the district set out on the Camel's Trail, and from 6:30 o'clock in the morning, when the first foursome of John Postl, John Kay, Joseph Galther, and Dave Anderson, teed off, until sundown they marched over Medinah's three courses.

The par figures for the course are: No. 1, 72; No. 2, 71, and No. 3, 70. Several high handicap players outdid themselves yesterday but their scores reverted to par, and they were then penalized the number of strokes by which they had gone under the prescribed figures.

Hale took the prize on No. 1 course with a 76. Art Sweet of Ridgemoor was only a stroke behind. Rolfe's 76 was easily best on the No. 2 layout, the next lowest card being turned in by Dr. J. A. Peterson of the home club, who had an 80. Dawson also had an easy time of it to lead the field on No. 3, shooting a 71, six strokes better than a quartet comprising George Hilton Competing, unattached; Fred Schuet and Carl Devoe, Medinah, and Harry Greeder of Biltmore.

The complete prize list for the three courses follows:

NO. 1. COURSE.

First low gross—Al Hale, Medinah, 76.
Second low gross—Art Sweet, Ridgemoor 77.
Third low score—D. S. Adams, Medinah, 78.
Fourth low gross—Robert Garland, Westward Ho, 78.
Fifth low gross—F. A. Llewellyn, Glen Oak, 79.
First low net—George Tenske, Edgewood Valley, 97—25—72.
Second low net—D. S. Barnard, unattached, 102—30—72.
Third low net—Charles Kunzer, Medinah, 92—20—72.
Fourth low net—Charles Keegan, Antlers, 90—18—72.
Fifth low net—W. G. Saunders, Medinah, 97—25—72.
Low gross foursome—D. S. Adams, Medinah; L. R. Robey, Glen Oak; Ivan Surkamer, Glen Oak, and Oscar Miller, Glen Oak, total, 334.
Low net foursome—H. H. Geisler, Medinah; Charles Kunzer, Medinah; Charles Keegan, Antlers, and William Scott Stewart, Nordic, total, 292.
Longest drive—Ray Franzen, Itasca, 248 yards.

NO. 2. COURSE.

First low gross—Rial Rolfe, Sunset Ridge, 76.
Second low gross—Dr. J. A. Peterson, Medinah, 80.
Third low gross—Leo Dollinger, Elmhurst, 82.
Fourth low gross—Dr. G. E. Johnson, Olympia Fields, 82.
Fifth low gross—E. H. Robinson, unattached, 83.
First low net—Roy L. Kransen, unattached, 94—23—71.
Second low net—Dr. G. R. Nichols, unattached, 87—16—71.
Third low net—Carl Ferris, unattached, 88—17—71.

Talking it Over

BY ARCH WARD.

While the purpose of the Golden Gloves tournament is not to develop professional boxers it is interesting to observe that some of the graduates of THE TRIBUNE'S amateur meet are doing right well by themselves.

DON GONZALES.

Two of last year's intercity champions have won their opening bouts in professional ranks. Buried in the news columns last Saturday morning was a short piece carrying the information that Don Gonzales of Cleveland, international Golden Gloves champion, defeated Joe Marcente of Brooklyn in a six round bout in Cleveland.

Gonzales is the young man who thrilled 23,000 at Chicago Stadium last March by getting up off the floor to knock out Tony Muscarello in the fourth round of the Golden Glove featherweight finals. He stopped Tony Scarpati of New York in the intercity bouts and whipped the featherweight champion of France in the international match at Soldiers' field.

If you still don't know who Gonzales is it might refresh your memory to read that he is the boy who refused to take advantage of his opponent's physical handicap in the Tournament of Champions at the Coliseum last winter. Joey Kleko faced Gonzales with a bad cut over his eye. Gonzales hit him on almost every spot between the belt and the top of his head with the exception of that cut over the eye.

Yustin Sirutis of New York, heavyweight champion, is the other member of the 1931 team to turn professional.

Charley Retzlaff, who day by day is winning recognition as a contender for Max Schmeling's crown, got his schooling in the Golden Gloves tournament of 1929. Through a technicality he failed to win the heavyweight title, although he was admittedly the class of the field.

Barney Ross, lightweight, is another product of the Golden Gloves who is crowding his way to the front.

BASEBALL SPORTSMANSHIP.

L. E. Rogers of St. Charles writes that he was amused by the remarks of the Sox fanette who signed herself "Sharkey" in this column a few days ago. His comment:

"I was much amused by the article in your column from the Sox fanette in which she roasted the sportsmanship of the Cub fans. Would suggest that this lady take a trip to Comiskey park some day when the scores are posted of the Cubs' games and hear the cheering of her so called sports when the Cubs are losing.

"The other day when Charley Root had a bad inning, as all good pitchers, even those on the Sox staff, have at times, the crowd cheered and clapped when the score showed St. Louis, 7; Cubs, 1. But when later innings showed the Cubs had picked up 4 more runs not a solitary cheer or handclap was audible. They reserved this until the St. Louis team scored 9 runs.

"I would like to have the same lady go to the Cubs' park when the White Sox scores are printed and she will find the crowd cheers for the Sox and not for the opponent.

"Both teams are from Chicago and we owe them our loyalty. I am not prejudiced against the Sox. I shouldn't be, for Charles Comiskey is my father's first cousin. But I admire sportsmanship in all things."

BOOLA BOOLA!

Yale graduates are looking forward to the greatest reunion in the school's history when the football team from New Haven makes its first trip into the central states to play Chicago at Stagg field Oct. 17.

Fred L. McNally, class of 1910, said yesterday that the Yale club of Chicago had sent out 40,000 pamphlets to old students urging their attendance at the game and at the banquet to be held the previous night at the Stevens hotel. Speakers at the dinner will be President James Angell of Yale, President Robert Hutchins of Chicago, Prof. William Lyon Phelps of Yale, and George Vincent, former president of Minnesota and later president of the Rockefeller Foundation.

Mr. McNally predicts the reunion will draw Yale men from all parts of the country. The New York Yale club has chartered two special trains and arrangements are under way for transporting a party from San Francisco. The student band will help the boys whoop it up for Old Eli at Stagg field.

The committee which will handle the party includes Henry A. Gardner, '05, chairman; Lester Armour, '18; Robert A. Gardner, '12; Stephen Y. Hord, '21; Phelps Kelley, '15, Fred L. McNally, '10; George E. Moseley, '17; F. A. Preston, '06; William A. P. Pullman, '22, and John R. Winterbotham.

SIMMONS GAINS ON BABE RUTH IN BATTING RACE

Al Simmons of the Philadelphia Athletics picked up another point on Babe Ruth in their race for the American league batting crown yesterday as he pounded Detroit pitchers for three hits in six times at bat. He boosted his mark to .383, while Ruth, walking six times, got only two out of five in a double header with the Indians and remained stationary at .380.

CAMP PRINCE IS EASY WINNER IN CALUMET PURSE

BY FRENCH LANE.

Camp Prince was a galloping winner by five lengths in the Calumet purse at Hawthorne yesterday and when the battle ended and he rewarded his admirers at $11.50 for a $2 ticket some 12,000 racegoers came to the conclusion that his owner, John Marsch of Chicago, at last is enjoying some smiles from Old Lady Luck.

It is only recently that the Marsch horses have been winning. For a couple of seasons, with a whole barn full of horses, the Marsch turf establishment never figured prominently in the races. "They don't have any luck," camp to be a familiar expression wherever the race track folks assembled and discussed the horses in the Marsch band.

But Camp Prince didn't need any luck to win the Calumet. Neither did the other Marsch horses that have been winning frequently since the Hawthorne season opened. Camp Prince ran over his field at the head of the stretch and was only cantering when he finished.

Morpheus Finishes Second.

Morpheus, heavily backed, wound up in second place. And in the last strides De Swasey, a California colt, ran on past Suitor, the favorite, to take down third money.

The track at Hawthorne was deceiving. On the surface it seemed dry and fast. But underneath it was muddy, and the time was slow all afternoon. Numerous upsets took place, although Switch and Portden were favorites when they won the first and fourth races.

Camp Prince didn't do much running in the early stages of the Calumet. He was fourth in the five horse field until the run down the stretch started. Suitor, Mucker, and Morpheus were all leading him, although Jockey Corbett was losing little ground and was picking a careful path with Camp Prince.

Suitor Drops Back.

Game old Suitor shocked his backers when he began to quit, for he had made the pace all through the early stages, and he was running on the kind of a track he was supposed to fancy.

Maybe Suitor didn't quit. It is possible Camp Prince was running too fast for him. But as Camp Prince moved into a lead that was to find him an easy winner Morpheus and De Swasey also made up ground and conquered Suitor.

Camp Prince ran the mile and a sixteenth in 1:49 2-5.

Portden's victory in the Ravinia purse came after a long, hard stretch drive. The stewards didn't like the ride R. Yelton gave Oh Dave, which finished second. They announced that the Kentucky rider was suspended indefinitely.

In the mutuels Portden paid $8.46 to win. Oh Dave was at $7.14 to place. Mad Wind's show price was $3.50.

Mate Sixth in Saranac Field of 7 Starters

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., Aug. 12.—A. C. Bostwick's Mate, twice conqueror of Twenty Grand and considered by many to be the three year old champion, was soundly beaten here today in the 29th running of the Saranac handicap, which was won by a colt which never before had won a race.

Danour, bearing the silks of David D. Moore, and dubbed the "eternal maiden," because he had run second nine consecutive times without winning, captured the $5,500 purse by a nose from the Alton stable's A La Carte, winner of the Ohio State Derby.

Mrs. Payne Whitney's Surf Board, heavily backed to beat Mate, ran third, four lengths back of A La Carte and a nose ahead of Commuter. Barometer was fifth and Mate sixth, beating only one horse, C. V. Whitney's Halcyon.

Danour, held at 300 to 1 when he made his seasonal debut last spring, was 10 to 1 today, with Mate 9 to 10. Under 127 pounds Mate conceded twenty-four pounds to Danour. Many thought Mate could make the weight concessions and pointed to the muddy track. He is a natural mudder. Mate, however, never strode out smoothly and appeared unable to untrack himself.

Danour was always in front or close to it. Mate, by contrast, was a laggard throughout and never was better than sixth, except at the start.

In the stretch run Jockey S. Renick rode out Danour for all he was worth. The colt went to the front gamely and hung on. The time for the mile was 1:40 1-5. All in all, the day was a disastrous one for favorites, all six losing.

ROOT WORKS 10 INNINGS TO BEAT BLAKE IN FIRST

Second Game's Just Batting Practice.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 12.—Charley Root's pitching was needed today to lead the Cubs to a 7 to 3 ten-inning decision in the first portion of a double header with the slow motion Phillies. But in the second game the Chicagoans depended exclusively on their bats to make the afternoon a howling success with a 12 to 1 triumph which lifted them back into second place.

Root's 13th victory of the campaign was reeled off at the expense of Fred Blake, the ex-Cub who requested that he be permitted to get into a duel with the Chicago ace. Blake didn't underestimate his own ability, for he carried the fight through the ninth on a 2 to 2 basis, but in the tenth his old mates ruined him. They turned loose a batch of real hits and clinched the verdict with five runs which also gave Blake his first defeat under his new employers.

Phils in Comic Mood.

As might be judged by the score, the Phillies were in their very best form in the second battle. The Cubs murdered their pitching, notably that of Jumbo Elliott and Kid Schesler, in a dizzy six-run fifth inning. The Phils fielded in a style highly amusing, particularly Arlett, who was bumped on the back of the head a few times by the numerous drives which bounced off the rigat field barrier.

On top of this the Phils gave a pleasing exhibition of how not to score runs. They thumped Bob Smith for eight hits in the first three innings and this netted them only one run. After that Smith gave them only two safeties.

An important figure in the attack by which the Cubs blasted their way to victory in the second game was Hornsby himself. Probably because he was quite sure he could annoy Elliott's southpawing, Rogers returned himself to second base for a few innings. He went back into retirement after contributing two doubles to two separate rallies. This performance, however, was shaded by Cuyler, whose three singles and two bagger all assisted in the harvesting of runs.

Pat Malone, who warmed up for the first game today and then didn't appear, will be in service tomorrow against Phil Collins.

FIRST GAME

The first bit of action in the opening game occurred in the second inning. Dan Taylor drew a pass off Blake and Grimm singled. A wild pitch, which in its flight ripped a nail on Ump Klem's left hand, advanced the runners. A pass to Hartnett loaded the bases. All this happened with one out. Bell then filed to Klein in left and Taylor scored after the catch. This slim lead was lost in the home half when, with two out Hurst whacked one of Root's pitches over the high right field sign board.

A scratch hit off Blake let the Cubs grab another one run lead in the fifth, but not for long. Hartnett led off with a pass and Bell singled to right. Root tried to sacrifice, but the attempt resulted in a force out of Hartnett at third. Root was forced at second by Blair, Bell going to third. Then English came along with the scratch hit to Mallon and Bell scored. Hurst's single in the home fifth, his steal of second, Hartnett's bad throw and Whitney's hit tied it up again.

Cubs Break Up Game in 10th.

In the seventh Bell singled, the fourth hit off Blake. Nothing came of this. They hung up the fifth in the eighth and again failed to profit. Cuyler delivered the hit, a high bounder to Mallon with one out. A pass to Barton followed, but neither Taylor nor Grimm could do anything of consequence. Then the Phils stepped in

TIGERS DEFEAT MACKS, 7-6, IN TWELVE INNINGS

Pinch Hitter Koenig Ends Overtime Game.

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 12.—(AP)—Mark Koenig, in the rôle of a pinch hitter, got a double off George Earnshaw in the 12th inning today to drive in the winning run and give the Detroit Tigers a 7 to 6 victory over the Philadelphia Athletics. Bill Rogell, who made the run, had connected for a double. The game was the second of a series and evened it.

Earnshaw allowed 13 hits while the Athletics were getting 14 off Herring, Bridges and Uhle. Score:

Curley and Cochet Hold Conference at Paris

PARIS, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Jack Curley, New York sports promoter, and Henri Cochet, ranking French tennis player, met today for the first time and conferred for two hours. Cochet left the conference without saying what matters had been discussed, but Curley said he had not offered the little Frenchman a contract to turn professional and join the touring tennis troupe of William T. Tilden II.

Rain Postpones Grand Circuit's $60,000 Contest

Middletown, N. Y., Aug. 12.—[Special.]—Rain today once more prevented racing at Good Time park and the Grand Circuit program, including the $40,000 Hambletonian stake for 3 year old trotters, was postponed for the second time. The rearranged program that was to have been run off this afternoon will be carried over intact for tomorrow.

There will be an extra race on Friday and two will be added to Saturday's card. This will make it possible to clean up the Grand Circuit program with only one day added to the original schedule of five days of racing.

These announced arrangements, of course, will wait on weather and track conditions. It rained practically without a letup all night and light showers fell all morning.

*Field. Time, :25, :50 1-5, 1:17, 1:44 4-5, 1:52 1-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Black Ivory, $6.06 straight, $4.94 place, $3.46 show; Flying Plum, $8.60 place, $4.80 show; Mai San, $6.24 show. Winner trained by C. Combs. Start good. Won easily; place driving. Lasted to the finish at 2:17. At post 2¼ minutes.

BLACK IVORY dropped back slightly while racing on the outside at the far turn, but came again when called upon in the stretch and, wearing down the leader, finally FLYING PLUM closed up, took a short lead in the run home, but could not hold the winner. MAI SAN met with some early interference, but closed an immense gap and was going strongly at the end. DESJARDINES showed early speed but weakened after heading the field at the stretch turn. BUGS LEARY tired in the run home. DUSKY BOY moved up fairly well on the far turn, then tired and dropped far back in the stretch. MAGNUM raced wide all the way. ORANGE PLUME was done after going a half mile.

THIRD RACE—Six and one-half furlongs. Purse $1,200. Claiming. Three year olds. Net value to winner, $850; second, $200; third, $100; fourth, $50.

Time, :24 1-5, :49, 1:15 2-5, 1:22 2-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Sister Mary, $5.54 straight, $3.30 place, $2.94 show; Shasta Broom, $6.88 place, $4.50 show; Michigan Girl, $3.04 show. Winner trained by H. Howard. Start good. Won easily; place driving.

SISTER MARY was first to the front at the start and, shaking off her opposition at the stretch turn, held a good lead to the finish. SHASTA BROOM met with interference at the start and, making up ground, was racing well when taken in the deep going seats the rail at the stretch turn and came to the middle of the track again at the stretch turn and was racing strongly at the finish. MICHIGAN GIRL made up ground and was going well at the finish. MAID OF HONOR and OVERSHADY were carried wide at the stretch turn. UNCLE HENRY at the stretch turn. WHITE LEGS tired badly for half the distance, but tired after racing wide on the final bend and swerved in the stretch.

FOURTH RACE—Six furlongs. Purse $1,300. Allowances. Two year olds. Net value to winner, $900; second, $250; third, $100; fourth, $50.

PORTDEN well up from the start, caught DESERT SUN tiring in the stretch and, taking a good lead, held sway to the finish. OH DAVE raced well and met with interference in the stretch but finished well. MAD WIND, Latter shuffled back at the start and in close quarters during the back stretch run, was carried wide after taking to the outside at the stretch turn and finished well. SUN'S SON was a forward factor, but was tiring when carried wide in the stretch. DESERT SUN took up, but stopped badly. BLACK STRAP met with interference at the start and was carried wide at the stretch turn.

CAMP PRINCE came fast approaching the stretch turn and, taking command in the run home, increased his advantage as he went, to win easily. MORPHEUS was left at the post up from the start, but was allowed to swerve into the worst going in the stretch. DE SWASEY was also permitted to race through the worst part of the track in the final furlong and just got up to catch SUTTOR in the last stride.

WINNIE JO came fast from the outside at the home stretch turn and, easily passing TEA GREEN approaching the stretch turn, took a good lead and won easily. BLUE LAW, probably best, raced very wide around the first turn and closed gamely to be a fast going second. MASTER ACE also made up much ground. TEA GREEN went to the front at once and increased his lead after going half the distance, but tired badly in the final quarter. THEORIST JANE also stopped badly.

Time, :25, :50, 1:15 3-5, 1:42, 1:56 1-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Caius, $18.90 straight, $7.46 place, $3.78 show; Riff Raff, $4.24 place, $2.70 show; Show Down, $2.80 show. Winner trained by T. J. Shannon. Start good. Won driving; place same, by a neck. CAIUS went to the front at the start and held a good lead to the stretch, where he bore out when challenged by SHOW DOWN seriously interfering with the latter. CAIUS then drew out slightly and held RIFF RAFF to the finish. RIFF RAFF, under choking pressure for the first half mile, came gamely in the stretch, but was bothered when the leading pair were bearing out and could not get up.

HOYT'S 83 WINS OLD BOYS' GOLF MEET AT EXMOOR

106 Veterans Compete in Annual Tourney.

W. L. Hoyt of Indian Hill, a 62 year old entry, carded 45—38—83 to win low gross honors in the annual Old Boys' golf tournament at Exmoor yesterday.

It was Hoyt's second title in three years, as he triumphed in 1930. The entry list totaled 106 veterans, ranging in age from 55 to 82. The field was divided into four classes as follows: Class A, 55 to 59 years; Class B, 60 to 63 years; Class C, 64 to 68 years, and Class D, 70 years and over. Each player's handicap was established by taking his golfing club handicap and adding a point for each year he was over 55 years of age.

T. T. Stanton of La Grange, 82 years old, was the oldest member of the field, and won the 55—63—118 which minus his handicap, gave him a net of 61. A. J. Fisher of Waukegan, 80 years old, recorded Mr. Stanton's gross score of 118. He had a handicap of 53 for a net of 65. Another old-young competitor was F. G. Hoyne of the home club, 77 years old, who posted a score of 82—22—61.

A. S. Scott of Maywood and A. J. Ahlm of Kenosha tied for low net honors in Class A. The former shot 91—20—71, and the latter, 91—20—71. Other prize winners:

Class A—First low net: Dr. F. C. Aubrey, Kenosha, 91—19—65; second low net, A. Lowder, Kenosha, 93—32—66.

Class B—First low net, A. A. Lowder, Kenosha, 90—45—45; second low net, S. O. Beverly, 100—42—58.

Class C—First low net, M. W. Blossom, Exmoor, 96—45—51; second low net, Dr. Foster, Exmoor, 92—37—55.

JUNIOR MEDALIST BEATEN, 3 AND 2, BY BOB ASCHER

Eight youthful golfers from Chicago, St. Louis, and Dayton, O., won their way into the quarter finals of the western junior golf tournament at Midlothian yesterday in the first day of match play, which was marked by the elimination of Johnny Root of Gary, Ind., the medalist, in the first round. Of the eight who will go into the third round today Chicago had five, St. Louis two, and Dayton one.

Root was eliminated by Bob Ascher, 17 year old champion of Idlewild, 3 and 2, who in turn fell before Bob Cochrane, one of St. Louis' two survivors, in the second round yesterday afternoon, 2 and 1.

Two St. Louisians Beaten.

With Cochrane in the quarter-finals are Vincent Fehlig of St. Louis, Bob Servis of Dayton, Laurie Ayton Jr. of Evanston, son of the professional at the Evanston Golf club; Eddie Blonston, Mission Hills; Alfred Favelli, Lake Shore; Bob Bohnen, Midlothian, and Charles Becka, Calumet.

St. Louis went into the second round yesterday afternoon with four contenders, but Ayton mowed down one of them, William Edgar, 5 and 4, while Servis continued the good golf he showed in the qualifying round to eliminate the second, George Schlapp, 3 and 2. Servis took a 37 going out and was three up at the turn. In the morning he eliminated Louis Goesel, Homewood, 2 and 1, in one of the best matches of the day. Fourteen of the seventeen holes were halved, Goesel winning only one, the eighth, which he took with a par 3. They finished out the round, Servis turning in a card of 74 and Goesel a 75.

Becka Continues March.

Becka, who established himself as one of the favorites in the preliminary round, shot excellent golf to defeat Jimmy Harrison, Exmoor, 5 and 4, in the morning round, and Tony Swantek, Illinois, 4 and 3, in the afternoon. Becka was 2 down at the fifth in his match with Swantek, but came back to win the seventh and eighth and square the match. He won the eleventh and thirteenth in par and shot a birdie 3 on the fourteenth to go 3 up. He won again on the fifteenth with a par 4 to end the match. Summaries:

100 to Start Play Today in County Amateur Golf

One hundred will tee off this morning in the first round for the Cook county amateur golf championship on the Garfield park links. Jim Woods, who won the title last year, will not be among the starters, having entered the professional ranks several months ago.

Omit Entry in U. S. Net Meet; Hold New Draw

New York, Aug. 12. — (AP) — After completing the draw for the women's national tennis championship, officials of the United States Lawn Tennis association discovered the name of Alice Marble, San Francisco star, had been omitted from the list, and decided to cancel the whole thing. A new draw will be held tomorrow.

Miss Marble told officials she had filed a formal entry by mail, but it was not received. It was decided she deserved a place in the tournament, which starts Monday, and the conclusion was reached that the only arrangement fair to all players was to hold a new draw.

Fetz Sinks Bones' Ball; Is Eliminated in City Golf

Ernie E. Bones, Jackson Park golfer, provided the first upset in the Chicago amateur tournament at Jackson Park yesterday, dethroning Gus Fetz, the defending champion, in a 21 hole match. Fetz rallied to even the match at the end of 18 holes, but with victory within reach on the 21st green he putted into a stymie, and in his attempt to hole his second putt he knocked Bones' ball into the cup to lose the match.

With workmen still busy pumping away the water of Monday night's rain from the greens and fairways of the first, second and third holes, players began matches on the fourth tee. Bones scored three birdies on the first nine for 31, three under par, and was 4 up as they finished the 12th hole.

Fetz Evens Match.

Bones' drive on the 13th went into the bushes and he took two putts on the green for 4 five, while two good drives and two putts gave Fetz a four. Fetz took the fourteenth when Bones drove out of bounds into rain water, taking a five, while Fetz scored a four.

Fetz, one down as they reached the 16th, drove the fairway, his ball hitting a caddy on one of the bunkers. He scored a four, but halved the hole with Bones. Fetz won the 17th with a four to even the match, and they halved the 18th, each scoring a three.

They halved the 19th and 20th holes and on the 21st Fetz was on in two while Bones' third shot put his ball on the edge of the cup. Fetz, with a six foot putt to win the match, putted directly behind Bones' ball and gave Bones the victory when his next putt bumped Bones' ball into the cup.

Nilles Beats Swanberg.

Another match was decided in the same manner when H. Nilles defeated P. Swanberg, 1 up, at the end of 27 holes. Nilles today will meet J. Swann, who won from Sam Alpert, 4 and 2.

Four California players, who stopped over in Chicago enroute to the national tournament at St. Paul, Minn., advanced to the 36 hole quarter-final round which will be played today. Among this quartet was Barney Lucas, 1930 runner-up for the Chicago title, who defeated W. Anderson, Euclid Hills, 6 and 4.

Californians Win.

Other coast players who won were J. Nichols, Long Beach, Cal., who triumphed over R. P. Dearborn, Ridge, 3 and 1; O. Sleppy, who won from M. Moren, 5 and 3, and D. McKay, who beat J. Basco, 7 and 5.

Bones will meet J. Loftus, a clubmate, this afternoon. Loftus reached the quarter-finals by scoring a one up victory over J. Ross, California.

ANDERBERG'S 116 WINS LOW GROSS IN ACACIA GOLF

Cy Onderberg of River Forest, who a few seasons ago cast his lot with the professionals but who now is an amateur, yesterday turned in a 27 hole total of 116 for the low score of the day in the annual invitation day at the Acacia Country club.

He played the first eighteen in 76, four over par, and negotiated the next nine in 40, being eight over perfect figures for the day.

Anderberg's performance earned him the guest's low gross prize. In exchange for the prize, the former pro volunteered to give oral instructions to J. W. Kerr, who needed 185 strokes, the highest total in the field of 143, which started play at eight o'clock in the morning and continued until supdown.

D. G. Rowland and F. W. Wilkins tied for the members' low gross prize with 124's. There also was a tie for the members' low net award when both C. W. Panke and Wilkins posted 108.

Runnerup to Anderberg for the guests' low gross was Warren Beattie of Edgewood Valley, with 124. A total of 107 gave George Tucker low net among the guests.

The prize list follows:

Members.

Low gross—D. G. Rowland and F. W. Wilkins, 124; third, A. G. Wilson, 127.

First low net—C. W. Panke and F. W. Wilkins, 108; third, R. W. Krammes, 108.

First low net foursome—Dr. F. W. Leiner, Dr. T. R. Boland, Dr. W. Lawrence and Dr. W. H. Whamond, 436.

First low gross foursome—W. Georges, J. M. Evans, E. R. Hutchison, Erwin Pray, 531.

Guests.

First low gross—Cy Anderberg, 116; second, Warren Beattie, 124; third, R. H. Sherlock and D. Dietrich, 125.

First low net—George Tucker, 107; second, E. B. Scheibel and H. Radcliffe, 109.

Special Prizes.

Most shots on any hole—D. Howard, 12.

Shortest drive on No. 1—Dave Baxter, 10 yards.

Best dressed golfer—Howard Pigott.

High score, 27 holes—J. W. Kerr, 185.

U. S. GYPSUM CO. EARNS DIVIDEND FOR FULL YEAR

Six Months' Operations Show Profit.

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

Earnings statements released yesterday by the United States Gypsum company and the North American Light and Power company had little appreciable influence on the market action of the stocks of the two concerns on the Chicago exchange. The slight price recession in each issue, in keeping with the general market trend, indicated that the result reported had been previously anticipated.

U. S. Gypsum's report showed the company earned sufficient net profit in the six months ended June 30 to fill dividend requirements on the common stock for the full year. North American Light's statement covered the twelve months ended June 30 and showed an increase in gross earnings as compared with the preceding year, but a decline in net profits, due largely to increased fixed charges.

Equal to $1.62 a Share.

Net profits of U. S. Gypsum for six months amounted to $2,241,560, equivalent after preferred dividends to $1.62 a share on the common stock outstanding. This compared with 1931 dividend requirements on common of $1.60 a share. Earnings per share on the common in the first half of 1930 were $2.24, when the firm's total net amounted to $2,891,750.

Directors yesterday authorized the regular quarterly dividend of 40 cents a share on common and $1.75 on the preferred stock.

The company's balance sheet as of June 30 showed net working capital of $16,949,871, as compared with $14,649,142 on the comparable day last year. Current assets amounted to $18,572,107 and current liabilities, $1,622,735, against $16,170,760 and $1,621,697, respectively, on June 30, 1930.

In a brief letter to stockholders which accompanied the report President Sewell L. Avery said: "The balance sheet and statement of earnings reflect the results of a continued decline in building construction. No improvement is expected during the remainder of the year.

North American Light Income.

North American Light showed net earnings available for the common stock of $4,027,769, or $2.55 a share, after preferred requirements, as compared with $4,459,807, or $3.13 a share, the preceding twelve months. Gross earnings totaled $47,135,532, against $46,714,976. Interest and amortization charges increased to $1,127,929 for the year ended June 30 from $835,911 in the preceding year.

"Present results of operation appear most satisfactory considering general business conditions and the large investments of the company in new projects which at present are productive of little return but which offer great future possibilities," Clement Studebaker Jr., president, says in the report.

The volume of trading on the Chicago exchange showed some contraction from the previous day. Shares of all classes eased moderately from previous questions. Among the active issues U. S. Radio was the only stock to show a loss of more than a point. The radio issue fell back to 31¼ on transactions exceeding 15,000 shares.

DRY GOODS.

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Cotton goods were quiet today, with prices easing. Buyers were purchasing almost wholly for early delivery. Acetate rayon continued in steady demand. Weavers are using more than a year ago. Silks were selling to the cutting trade in fair volume. New lines of tropical suitings for 1932 were offered at reductions varying from 20c to 25c a yard. Burlaps were quiet.

RUBBER.

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—(AP)—RUBBER futures closed dull. Sept., 5.20c; Dec., 5.50c. New contracts—Sept. 5, 5.32c; Dec., 5.55c; March, 5.75c. Spot smoked rubbed, 5¾c.

OFFER OF PURCHASE OF FIRST MORTGAGE GOLD BONDS OF COMMONWEALTH ELECTRIC COMPANY

To the Holders and Registered Owners of First Mortgage Gold Bonds of COMMONWEALTH ELECTRIC COMPANY:

Commonwealth Edison Company, successor by consolidation to Commonwealth Electric Company, will purchase on September 1, 1931, at the price hereinafter stated, such of the First Mortgage Gold Bonds, numbered 1 to 8,000, both inclusive, due June 1, 1943, issued by Commonwealth Electric Company under its Mortgage to The Northern Trust Company, as Trustee, dated June 1, 1898 (which has since been adopted by and is now the Mortgage of said Commonwealth Edison Company), as shall be outstanding on September 1, 1931, and as shall be offered for sale to the Company on that date, at a price for each such bond, equal to the principal thereof, and all interest due upon it on September 1, 1931, together with a premium of 10% upon the principal. Each bond so offered for sale should be presented on September 1, 1931, at Continental Illinois Bank and Trust Company, 231 South La Salle Street, Chicago, Illinois, together with the interest coupon due September 1, 1931, and all subsequent interest coupons, and, in case of bonds registered as to principal, accompanied by duly executed transfer powers. In case any such bond shall not be accompanied by its interest coupon due September 1, 1931, the principal and premium of such bond will be paid upon presentation of such bond, together with all interest coupons subsequent to the interest coupon due September 1, 1931, and the interest evidenced by the interest coupon due September 1, 1931, will be paid upon presentation thereof.

COMMONWEALTH EDISON COMPANY,

Congress Cigar.

Please give me a report on Congress Cigar company common as listed on the New York Stock exchange. I enclose an addressed envelope for reply. —C. S. M.

Congress Cigar Company, Inc., operates a business originally started in 1896. The company is prominent in the cigar field, due largely to its concentration on one particular brand, "La Palina."

Changing from hand to machine production in recent years has enabled the company to dispose of some of its smaller plants and centralize its production in two large machine equipped factories. Capacity is 1,300,000 cigars a day. The company is controlled by Porto Rican American Tobacco company, which owns about 70 per cent of the capital stock.

Net income showed consistent yearly increases for the five years through 1928, but since then has followed a downward trend. For 1930 net sales were $11,009,170, against $15,906,394 for 1929. Net income was $1,652,247, or $4.72 per share, against net of $2,382,116, or $3.23 per share for 1929. For 1928 the company reported peak earnings of $2,984,605, against $2,754,780 for 1927.

For the first half of 1931 net income was $351,450, or $1 per share, against net of $856,383, or $1.33 per share for the like period of 1930. For the second quarter of 1931 alone net income equaled 37 cents per share, against $1.11 per share for the second quarter of 1930.

The company has no funded debt. Capitalization consists solely of 900,000 no-par common shares.

On Dec. 31, 1930, current assets were $7,963,937, and current liabilities $471,853. Cash was $986,851, against $159,340 the year before. Working capital was $7,492,134, against $1,492,084 on Dec. 31, 1929.

On June 30, 1930, the dividend rate was decreased from $5 to $4 per share, which basis is now in effect. An extra of 50 cents per share was paid in 1930.

Intense competition exists in the cigar industry.

The company's capital stock is a medium grade and somewhat speculative.

Revere Oil.

I would like you to give me any information you can in regard to stock of Revere Oil company. It was purchased July 12, 1927.—G. A. S.

We have the following report on Revere Oil company:

"In April, 1923, trustees of the Revere Oil company were arrested in connection with fraudulent use of mails for promoting Revere Oil stock. On Nov. 24, 1926, 7,025 shares of the company's stock sold at auction for $18 for the lot. There are no later transactions in these shares."

RAPS HOARDING OF SURPLUSES BY INDUSTRIES

Action Seen a Cause of Depression.

BY O. A. MATHER.

The vast surpluses accumulated by American corporations during periods of prosperity and high earnings and not distributed in lean times have had much to do with bringing on the present depression as any other one factor. This assertion is made by Franklyn Hobbs, economist of the Central Republic Bank and Trust company, in discussing the use and abuse of corporate surpluses.

"In the late '20s and early '30s, during which period many of the big corporations came into existence as such, it became the fashion and custom for corporations to distribute something like half of each year's net earnings to the stockholders in dividends," Mr. Hobbs says. "The remainder was shunted into a fund called corporate reserve to be held against the time when dividends might not be earned, the plan being to provide a method which would insure a continuity of dividend payments.

Intended for Lean Periods.

"These surplus funds were created in the over the lean periods, but they have not been so used in any large measure. In the early weeks of 1931 some corporations saw fit to use these surplus funds for the purpose for which they were originally set up, and a measure of unfavorable criticism was justified. If surplus funds are not to serve a continuation of dividend payments during lean periods then the portion of earnings placed to the credit of surplus account should be reduced. Some corporations have paid out less than half of net earnings to stockholders, placing the remainder in surplus account.

"It has not been demonstrated that overproduction through mass production in 1928 and 1929 was more harmful than the overaccumulation of funds in the form of corporate surpluses, such funds being thrown into the stock market to the detriment of commerce. A larger distribution of these funds as dividends would have created an additional buying power to relieve the accumulation of goods and wares.

"A generation ago the dividends went to the rich, but in this present day the dividend distribution of a large corporation sometimes reaches to hundreds of thousands of homes. This is one of the reasons why dividends should be continuous.

Enter Banking Business.

"Large corporations, with millions of surplus cash not immediately needed in the conduct of their businesses, went into the banking business in 1928, attracted by the high rates obtainable on call money. They furnished the stock market with billions of dollars at a time when the banking fraternity, headed by the federal reserve banks, was trying to stem the tide of expanding credit. At one time, these corporations had more money in the call loan market than all of the banks combined.

"Feeling no responsibility in the maintenance of steady banking operations, this money was withdrawn by the corporations hundreds of millions of dollars at a time as soon as interest rates began to fall. Much of it has since been invested in government and other high grade bonds, and the remainder, which still constitutes a tremendous sum, lies in the banks awaiting the business upturn which will call it into use. The present period seems to offer opportunity for industrial and commercial corporations to get out of the banking business and get into industrial production and merchandising operations. The times also call for the use of idle surpluses in putting the business into shape for more economical and steadier operation."

Water Power Yields to Superior Steam Plants

BY SCRUTATOR.

That the meager power to be had from the fall of such shallow meandering streams as the Du Page and Des Plaines rivers should ever have been valuable is hard for us to understand in this day of unlimited energy to be had at a turn of the switch.

But the scores of moss covered old dams still studding these streams and others like the Fox give evidence that not so many years ago almost any source of power was worth developing. Labor was cheap and power was valuable.

Dr. Charles B. Johnson in a paper published by the Illinois State Historical Society in 1924 explained how flour and meal in the early years of the last century, were laboriously ground by crudely built horse mills, "the essential parts of which were a pair of roughly prepared millstones, the upper one of which was made to revolve upon its mate by a horse-power propelled by a pair of horses hitched to a projecting arm of the horse power and drawing this round and round in a circle."

River Beats the Horse.

"I have a most vivid recollection of what succeeded them," said Dr. Johnson, "and what was deemed little short of a godsend—namely: the water mills of the late forties and fifties."

It is no wonder that hundreds of tiny streams soon became "studded with water mills like beads on a string." The man who wanted power had a choice between the horse and the river, and the river weak as it was could usually best the horse and had the additional advantage of not having to be fed.

As far back as 1857 we find a historian of Du Page county saying, "The west branch of the Du Page is a stream of considerable size and affords numerous sites for the application of water power. Besides several saw mills and other manufactories, there are flouring mills situated on this stream at Warrenville, Naperville and at Hobson's."

River Still Important.

Nineteen years later the power furnished by the Du Page was at least equally important, for another history published under the direction of the Du Page county board of supervisors in 1876 makes exactly the same statement.

A hundred years ago Capt. Joseph Naper built a cabin near the site of his flouring mill on the Du Page and around this nucleus the city of Naperville was built.

Today the river means nothing more to this thriving community than a pleasant place to go and look at lily pads. Water power as furnished by the little prairie stream has gone the way of the horse and buggy.

Prior to the development of the steam engine water power was the only important source of mechanical energy and up to the closing years of the nineteenth century it was generally regarded as being the cheapest form of power.

Now on few even of the larger rivers can power be developed as cheaply as by the use of steam turbines. Practically all of the profitable sites have been exploited, except those on certain streams in mountainous western states where the nearest possible markets for the power that might be produced are so remote that the cost of transmission would more than eat up any saving in generation.

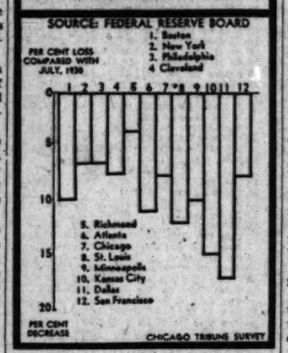
Would Be Luxury Today.

The water wheel on a millstream that lightened the toil of the early settlers would today be an expensive luxury. The power that it would generate would cost more than that taken from the high line leading from a central steam plant and it would be far less reliable. Intensive development of power markets, vastly increased use of electric energy for residential purposes, and greater efficiency of steam turbines have brought this about.

Today the best steam plants convert 24 per cent of the heat energy contained in coal into electricity. Twenty-five years ago they were only five per cent efficient. This represents an increase in efficiency of nearly 400 per cent in a quarter of a century.

With each successive reduction in the cost of generating power by steam more water power plants are rendered obsolete.

CHICAGO DISTRICT STORES REPORT FOURTH SMALLEST SALES LOSS FROM YEAR AGO



LAUNCH AUSTRALIAN LOAN; PRIME MINISTER HOPEFUL OF SUCCESS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MELBOURNE, Australia, Aug. 12.—As part of the financial rehabilitation of Australia a huge loan for conversion covering the whole of the internal debt of £556,000,000, approximately $2,702,160,000, was launched this week. After two days Prime Minister James H. Scullin announced that the response of large holders, including banks, insurance, and financial institutions, amounted to £150,000,000, approximately $729,000,000.

During the last few weeks all of the Australian governments have been working together to arrest the drift and to save the country. Over 400,000 holders of securities were urged as a patriotic duty to accept the loan at a sacrifice, as it involves a lower rate of interest and represents an all round reduction of 22½ per cent. Prime Minister Scullin stated that the response gave ground for hope of complete success. He added that all must suffer reductions in their incomes to get Australia out of trouble, and that legislation had been passed by all of the parliaments providing for 20 per cent cuts in salaries, wages, and other government expenditure.

Experts See Burden on City in Switching Rate Boosts

BY PHILIP HAMPSON.

Approval by the interstate commerce commission of increases in the rail switching rates for the Chicago area was seen by shippers and manufacturers yesterday as a measure which will impose a heavy burden on Chicago industry and which will bring in its train a number of consequences possibly affecting the metropolitan district. Among these adverse consequences, traffic experts listed the following:

1. From $3,000,000 to $4,000,000 will be added to manufacturing costs annually in the metropolitan area.
2. Industries may be driven from the area as a result of the added rate burden.
3. New industries may be prevented from coming here.
4. If industries are forced to leave the value of industrial real estate in the metropolitan area may be depreciated.
5. The already heavily crowded streets and highways in the metropolitan area may be still further burdened as manufacturers and shippers adopt the use of trucks to avoid the new charges.

On the other hand, the action gives a measure of relief to the railroads.

Area Is Kept Intact.

One bright spot was noted in the report of the commission and that was the Chicago switching area is maintained intact. There have been a number of efforts made, reputedly by interests inimical to Chicago, to have the area divided into four or five districts. Efforts in this direction have been vigorously opposed by Chicago shippers.

The rate increases approved by the interstate commerce commission on Tuesday are from 2½ to 3 cents a hundred pounds for one line hauls, from 2½ to 3½ cents for two line hauls, and from 3 to 4 cents for three line hauls or more, minimum carloads being 60,000 pounds.

These increases do not affect through traffic, as for instance on shipments from Chicago direct to New York or from Detroit to Chicago. They apply only on shipments within the switching area. However, this is of tremendous importance inasmuch as thousands of industries ship products back and forth among themselves in the process of converting materials into finished products. Especially is this true of the steel companies in the area, which constantly ship their products from one plant to another.

Raised $6 per Car.

The cent increase for each of the three classes of hauls will mean an increase of $6 for each car. Inasmuch as the minimum car load is 60,000 pounds, the increase will be $6 irrespective of the shipment falling under the minimum weight.

Shippers assert that the commission in granting the increases is giving the railroads more than they asked for. In the old switching rate schedule there are special lower rates on certain low priced bulky commodities such as gravel, sand, coal, grain, etc. In the new schedule all exceptions are wiped out.

Again shippers assert that the increases will affect shipments to points within a radius of 100 miles of the switching area because under the 4th section of the railway act roads cannot charge an amount greater for a short haul than would be required for a shipment to a more distant point.

Shippers also complain that rates now charged are already higher than for Detroit, Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, St. Louis, and Kansas City switching areas.

Cancels Proposed Raise.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 12.—(AP)—The Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific railroad company was ordered by the interstate commerce commission today to cancel proposed increases in switching rates in St. Paul.

The railroad at present charges $8.10 a car for industrial switching service and $3.15 for what is known as reciprocal services. The same charges are made by the Great Northern railway and the Northern Pacific.

It was proposed by the Milwaukee to increase industrial switching charges to two cents a hundred pounds with a minimum of $9 per car and 1.5 cents a hundred with a minimum of $7.20 a car for reciprocal services.

The commission held these charges were not justified, but in ordering cancellation said any reasonable adjustment might be made provided it would not subject any locality or established industry to discrimination.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Aug. 12.—[Special.]—Having stood the shorts up in a corner once more, the stock market turned over on its back and went to sleep again today. Values eased gently off until a good half of yesterday's gain was erased and the volume of sales fell off to about 1,300,000 shares.

Ordinarily bull traders might have found some measure of comfort in the weekly trade data such as carloading figures and steel trade summaries, which were generally a trifle more satisfactory than here of late, but it was evident that yesterday's "squeeze" had dampened the spirits of the bear element without bringing enough public buying into the market to be of any help to their opponents. So, as the sharps anticipated, the rally proved something of a bust.

For a while after the opening today it looked, indeed, as though the market was going to retrace its steps in a hurry, but the selling dried up after the first hour and the market settled gradually into the old rut in which it has been moving so doggedly here of late and remained there pretty near all day. Prices spurted briefly in the late trading, but turned down again before the final gong and closing figures were around the lows of the day in most cases.

Rail Groups Decline.

Ten stocks, American Can, Cass Threshing Machine, Chrysler, General Motors, General Theater Equipment, International Telephone, Montgomery Ward, Radio, United States Steel common, and Westinghouse, accounted for more than 40 per cent of the day's volume.

The big disappointment of the turnabout was the railroad group, just as they had led yesterday's upturn, with gains from 1 to 7 points or more, so they took the lead in the list's retreat to lower levels today. Atchison, New York Central, New Haven, Southern Pacific, Rock Island, Union Pacific, and others of the division finished from 2 to 5 points below the closing figures they so flamboyantly

URGES BUILDING AND LOAN FIRMS ADVERTISE MORE

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 12.—(AP)—Building and loan societies were urged today to sell their principles of thrift to the public by consistent advertising, especially in newspapers.

In advocating more extensive advertising, Marco Morrow, of the Capper publications, Topeka, Kas., addressing the centennial convention of the United States Building and Loan league in joint session with the third international building and loan congress, said:

"It is up to the building and loan associations to keep their principles before the public and not let big business do all the advertising."

Sydney J. Walter, vice president of the British delegation, echoed the statements of Mr. Morrow, saying British building and loan associations owed their progress to "advertising more than any other factor outside their own essential stability."

Dr. Howard T. Hovde, of the Wharton school, University of Pennsylvania, told the delegates that "newspaper advertising is still the bulwark of the nation's advertising."

Railroad Orders Temporary Cut in Workers' Salaries

Dayton, O., Aug. 12.—(AP)—A 10 per cent cut in salaries of all employés of the Cincinnati and Lake Erie railway, except freight and passenger crews, effective Aug. 15, was announced today by Thomas Conway Jr., president. Falling off in operating revenues was given as the reason for the cuts. The reductions, classed as an emergency measure, will be in effect for six months, when it is hoped conditions will be such as to warrant a return to the present scale. The cuts affect 400 employés.

EASTMAN KODAK PAYS REGULAR, EXTRA DIVIDEND

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Aug. 12.—A dividend of $1 a share on the first preferred stock of Crown Willamette Paper company was authorized today, payable Oct. 1, to holders of record Sept. 12. Three months ago a similar payment was made, a reduction from the annual rate of $7. Directors were reelected.

Shareholders of Kellogg company have received payment of a dividend of $2 a share on the no par common stock. The Eastman Kodak company declared the usual extra dividend of 75 cents and the regular quarterly dividend of $1.25 on the common stock.

Guardian Investment Trust has resumed dividends on the noncumulative preferred stock by a declaration of a dividend of 25 cents a share. Recently the company resumed dividends on senior securities.

Hazeltine corporation directors declared a quarterly dividend of 25 cents a share on the capital stock, placing the stock on a $1 annual basis, against $2 previously. Directors of the Wayne Pump company omitted the dividend of 87½ cents on the preferred stock due on Sept. 1.

Rumanian Bank Offers to Pay Out at End of 3 Years

BUCHAREST, Rumania, Aug. 12.—(AP)—The Berkowitz bank, which failed to open its doors yesterday, today asked for a moratorium of three years upon its creditors, offering to pay its engagements in full at the end of that time, with 4 per cent interest. It offered to undertake to guarantee all its engagements with the personal property of its administrators. The assets of the banks are estimated at approximately $55,000,000 and its liabilities at $45,000,000.

COPPER STOCKS RISE IN SPITE OF LOW OUTPUT

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Aug. 12.—Although production dropped to the lowest level in several years, stocks of refined copper in North and South America increased last month 26,943 tons to a new all time record for the industry of 440,417 tons, it was revealed today in the monthly figures of the American bureau of metal statistics.

The total for the end of July compares with 413,474 tons on hand at the end of June and with 398,667 tons at the end of May.

New York Central Has $4,517,295 Six Mos. Net

New York, Aug. 12.—The New York Central railroad reported today $4,517,295 net income for the first six months of the year, or 90 cents a share on 4,993,792 shares. Against $23,112,699, or $4.63 a share, in the corresponding period last year. For the quarter ended June 30, net income was $4,662,205, against $14,641,443 in the three months a year before. The road had a net deficit of $144,913 in the quarter ended March 31, against a net income of $8,471,256 in the 1930 period. Subsidiaries reported decreases in gross and net receipts.

EVERY DEPRESSION WITHOUT EXCEPTION

FROM every depression without exception common stock values in the United States have risen not merely to the levels of preceding boom years but above them. • A depression represents a temporary recession during which the investor may buy at bargain levels. • It is not wise to predict the future of any one stock. The investor who wishes to capitalize the rising tide of American business should buy many stocks—and only the best. This he can do today with as little as $100. • Through certificates of NORTH AMERICAN TRUST SHARES, largest of all fixed investment trusts, you can acquire an interest in not one but 28 giant corporations—such world leaders as American Telephone & Telegraph, du Pont, Consolidated Gas, Woolworth, etc. Stocks are deposited in trust with one of America's great banks as trustee. • Ask any of the 1500 NORTH AMERICAN TRUST SHARES dealers for the facts.

NOTICE OF REDEMPTION
COMMONWEALTH EDISON COMPANY
FIRST MORTGAGE GOLD BONDS

To the Holders and Registered Owners of First Mortgage Gold Bonds of Commonwealth Edison Company:

Notice is hereby given to the Holders and registered Owners of all issued and outstanding First Mortgage Gold Bonds, due June 1, 1943, of Commonwealth Edison Company (successor by consolidation to Commonwealth Electric Company), issued under the Mortgage of said Commonwealth Electric Company to The Northern Trust Company, as Trustee, dated June 1, 1898 (which has since been adopted by and is now the mortgage of said Commonwealth Edison Company), that said Commonwealth Edison Company intends to redeem and will redeem on September 1, 1931, all said bonds outstanding and subject to redemption at that time. The bonds so to be redeemed will be such of said bonds numbered 8001 to 59,774, both inclusive, aggregating $51,774,000 in principal amount, as shall be outstanding on September 1, 1931. Upon presentation and surrender of said bonds for redemption on said redemption date at The Northern Trust Company, La Salle and Monroe Streets, Chicago, Illinois, together with the interest coupons due September 1, 1931, and all subsequent interest coupons, and, in the case of bonds registered as to principal, accompanied by duly executed transfer powers, there will be paid in cash for each bond so presented a sum equal to its principal and all interest due upon it at the date of such redemption, together with a premium of 10% upon the principal. In case there shall not be presented with any bond its interest coupon due September 1, 1931, the principal and premium of such bond will be paid upon the presentation of such bond, together with all interest coupons subsequent to the interest coupon due September 1, 1931, and the interest evidenced by the interest coupon due September 1, 1931, will be paid upon presentation thereof. This notice is given pursuant to the redemption provisions set forth in the endorsement upon the back of each of said bonds.

Monroe Street looking west....

.... from Clark, fifty years ago. On the left and a few steps down the street, today, is the 21-story building which houses the Harris Trust and Savings Bank. At about the time of this picture, the business (founded in 1882 as N. W. Harris & Co.) was conducted in two small rooms in a building near the site of the present one.

In the early days, N. W. Harris wrote down the following sentence for the guidance of his associates:

"Bear in mind always that it is not the amount of business, but the kind of business we do that counts, and if what is done, is done right, the amount will take care of itself."

This policy has continued to govern the business, which is still managed by the same men in whose charge N. W. Harris left it.

The Harris Trust and Savings Bank combines an atmosphere of friendly cooperation with the conservative policies which N. W. Harris initiated in the early days.

PRICES OF WHEAT ADVANCE AS GOOD BUYING DEVELOPS

Strength in Cash Grain Aids Sentiment.

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Bearish influences seem to be losing their effect on the wheat market, and while there was a dip at one time yesterday which carried prices fractionally under the finish of the previous day, good buying appeared and a bulge of 1@1¼c from the inside followed, with the finish at the top, with net gains of ¾c. September closed at 50½c; December, 54¼@54¼c and May, 59c.

Pronounced strength in cash wheat, with persistent advances in the sample market as compared with the September and the relatively small movement from the country, is commencing to have considerable influence on sentiment, which is generally turning favorable to the buying side on the breaks. No. 2 hard winter on track here sold at 1@1¼c over the future, the best basis of the season, while ½c over September was bid to arrive, shipment by Sept. 15.

What the trade regards as a sellers' strike is becoming more pronounced. If anything, and local cash handlers as well as those in outside markets called attention to the relatively limited receipts at all points. Asking prices for No. 1 hard winter wheat at the Gulf have advanced around 2c relative to the future in the last few days.

Sell Wheat at Duluth.

Buying of a liberal amount of December wheat here by Updike, which the trade credited to the Farmers' National Grain corporation, had some effect in causing the closing rally, and the buying was presumably against sales of Duluth durum futures, which closed 1¾c lower, with the September 57c, or 6½c over the same month in Chicago. Durum wheat is practically the highest in the world at the present time, and Winnipeg reported inability to fill export orders from Italy owing to a scarcity of supply, and No. 1 durum in that market was quoted at 68¾c, or 12½c over No. 1 northern.

A wheat crop of 2,600,000,000 bu, or 416,000,000 bu less than harvested last year, is reported in 23 northern hemisphere countries which have given estimates or indications on the yield this season, according to Broomhall. Winnipeg closed ⅛@⅜c higher, with October finishing at 58¾c, while Liverpool was ⅛@⅛d lower, with October, 56¾c.

Nearby deliveries of corn dropped to a new low for the season early, with the September toughing 48c and the December 38¾c early, but the market rallied sharply on short covering induced by the strength in wheat and closed with September ⅝c higher and the new crop months ⅜@1c higher. September was 49¼@49¾c; December, 38¾@39¼c, and May, 44⅛@44⅝c at the last.

Grain as Fuel.

Bids on new No. 4 grades for shipment by Dec. 15 made by Chicago handlers are on the basis of 7@8c under the December, which is regarded as equal to 20@25c at country loading stations in the main corn producing area. One of the closest observers of conditions claims it would be well for farmers to construct additional cribs on farms and prepare to hold the grain at such a level of prices.

A northwest Iowa point wired that new corn was $3.97 per ton cheaper than coal, and there are intimations that considerable grain might be used for fuel in some sections. While this would not be a new development in the corn situation, as it has occurred before when there was a disparity between coal and corn prices, it served to attract attention to the low figure at which the latter is selling.

WHEAT CARRY-OVER ESTABLISHES RECORD

This was 319,000,000 bu old wheat carryover from the previous crop into the new season, according to a preliminary estimate made by the United States department of agriculture, establishing a new record of approximately 149,000,000 bu from the 1930 crop. The figures of last year showed a carry-over of 170,000,000 bu, and the 1929 carry-over was 141,000,000 bu, due to the inclusion of hereabove figures. The official estimate on the crop of 864,000,000 bu the trade figures is 1,213,000,000 bu available for the season, against 1,153,000,000 bu in 1930-31, and took the reports as an exportable surplus of 188,000,000 bu after allowing for domestic needs and requirements and for carry-over of 125,000,000 bu on July 1.

Top yesterday, $8.50; average, $7.06.

Estimated receipts at Chicago today: Cattle, 6,000; hogs, 19,000; sheep, 13,000.

Cattle values made a rather spectacular jump yesterday, the top making the $10.00 line on strong eastern support. This is the highest price paid for cattle since April 8. Cooler weather has stimulated the demand for meat and eastern buyers are coming on the market for larger numbers of cattle lately.

So far this month outsiders have purchased 33 per cent of Chicago receipts, against 26 per cent during the same period in 1930. Competition on local account, however, has also been brisk. Best grades of steers are selling 50@60c above a week ago, while others show gains of 25@50c and even plainer cattle are a little more active than they were at the low time last week.

Cows and heifers are easier to sell and tendency in butcher stock was stronger at the finish. Calves were unchanged. Demand for stockers and feeders is picking up, which is seasonal for this time of year.

Lambs Bring $8.50.

Fat lambs ruled steady to 25c higher, westerns showing the big end of the advance toward the finish when hundreds of head from range territory went for slaughter at $8.25@ 8.50. Top natives to packers reached $8.00 at the close, but bulk of them sold at $7.75. Sorting was light and buyers were on the market for numbers, indicating the good demand for fresh lamb on the wholesale market lately. The low level of the market for lamb has stimulated consumption.

Aged sheep and yearlings were firm, light ewes reaching the $4.00 line again. Feeding lambs are in better demand at $5.00@5.50.

The market for top hogs hit a steep slide yesterday, going down 25@35c, while medium weights showed losses of 10@25c and heavy butchers and packing grades sold on a steady to 20c lower basis. Wires from other places indicated that the break swept the whole country. Three of the biggest markets in the west sold top hogs below the $7.00 line. Demand was good on the break and salesmen hope to halt the decline on the strength of the rise in cattle and lambs.

At this time in 1930 there was a sensational advance in the hog market. The top jumped from $9.75 on Aug. 9 to $11.90 on the 21st, a gain of $2.00 in less than two weeks. This big advance followed a month of sharp fluctuations. Prevailing quotations for light hogs are 60@80c under the high point of the season two weeks ago, the top at $7.60 showing, 80c loss, while the general average at $6.05 is 60c lower than two weeks ago. All packers bought freely yesterday, Armour, Swift and Wilson making some of the largest purchases in recent months. Their buyers showed a marked preference for best light weights.

Can Buy $6 Dec. Hogs.

Hogs averaging 170@210 lbs were offered for next December delivery as low as $6.00 on the futures market yesterday, but there were no buyers at that figure. Mediums averaging 210@260 lbs were offered for that month at $6.10, while heavy grades averaging 260@310 lbs were offered at $6.20. September light, for the first half of the month only, were offered at $9.00, while similar contracts for the last half of that month were offered as low as $7.75. September heavy were offered at $7.50.

Receipts at Chicago for today are estimated at 6,000 cattle, 19,000 hogs, and 13,000 sheep, against 6,705 cattle, 16,120 hogs, and 12,238 sheep the previous Thursday and 6,321 cattle, 18,483 hogs, and 13,758 sheep a year ago.

Calls Off Attack.
President Machado at 2 a.
today, according to reports from a good sources, transmitted urgen orders to Col. Amiel, ordering immediate postponement of a pr projected attack of infantry, c and artillery on the stronghold revolutionary leaders.
The president made this first move for peace, it was stated, upon the plea that several of his former friends and comrades of the cause of independence would m
